Gold Decision
To Stand Until May
Committee Continues Tutor's Supervision

Although the Commerce Center Committee on appointments of the Romance Languages Department is unwilling to change its recommendation concerning the appointment of Mr. William Golden at present, the committee is willing to continue the status of tutors as outlined in the Spring term, acting President Nelson will not tell them that their idea of the TUCKER A. final recommendation on the case will be made before May 1.

Professor Mead's letter was received—following an announcement—Professor Mead, head of the Romance Faculty Committee had no jurisdiction in the case.

As usual the comments indicated that as the case of Golden, a tutor in the Romance Language Department; Professor Mead wrote:

"There are comments indicating that the administration is of the opinion that the, for the remainder of the term, the new system works as follows. Elevators on the south side will carry passengers to the fourth floor. In the new system the room that will be no change in the number of appointments will be made. There will be no change in the number of appointments.

The city colleges will receive a payment of $6,425 in the next fiscal year for their current applications have been disposed of. Professor Grove stated that he would continue in the position of the school, implying that removal of Harris would cause the opening of the new system. The city colleges have always been able to maintain a regular four-year high school system that costs the city $20 more for the three year institution.

Ole Trouper Warns Freshmen To Arm Against Furry Beasts In SS Den

By Thelma Dunlap

Welcome to City College! So you are going to become educated—yes, you are going to stand hard and become a huge success? Take the advice of an ole Ole Trouper—learn to swing at the pitfalls, both animate and otherwise. Girls, if you want to succeed stay away from the fifth floor. Room 58 is a den of iniquity. The walls are lined with furry animals—otherwise known as wolves. You can't tell them from 4 to 7 feet in height and from 25 to 50 pounds, or for that matter, the students. There are a few that are outstanding—our Ole Trouper. Football hero, Jim Clancy; the adonis, Paul Pfeffer; our shy girl, Eileen Watanabe. It may be a valuable lesson to you. Don't cross your legs too often—it becomes monotonous.

NYA Timesheets Due

NYA timesheets, with a maximum of 15 hours, are due Wednesday in Room 404. This deadline applies as usual to seniors and undergraduates, according to Mr. David Michelman.

Isaacs To Speak Against Harris H. S. Dissolution

Protesting the threatened dissolution of Townsend Harris High School, an NYA committee has scheduled a meeting tonight to help avert the "threatened calamity." The principal speaker will be Stanley M. Isaacs, borough president of Manhattan.

Opposition to any change in the present set-up came from the staff and alumni of Townsend Harris, as well as from prominent city educators.

Dr. W. R. Berg, chairman of the T.U. committee, questioned the wisdom of "destroying a school which has maintained a sound educational tradition."

The executive board of The Tickler voted unanimously condemning the proposed closing, declaring that they were thoroughly opposed to educational retrenchment. They held that removal of Harris would mean the destruction of the high school since the proposed Civil Service School might ultimately occupy the rooms held by the school.

Terminating dissolution "false allegation," Professor Berg argued that it would cost the city more to maintain a regular four-year high school than it costs now for the three year institution.

Grove To Continue As NYA Director

Although he had submitted his resignation as NYA director because of the pressure of other duties, Professor Grove was succeeded by Dean Moore to continue his administrative work. The city colleges have received a payment of $6,425 in the next fiscal year for their current applications have been disposed of. Professor Grove stated that he would continue in the position of the school, implying that removal of Harris would cause the opening of the new system. The city colleges have always been able to maintain a regular four-year high school system that costs the city $20 more for the three year institution.
