Pluck Violet’ Rally Set for Thurs. Noon

By Eugene Boyo

A rising crescendo of spirit, evident during the last few weeks of the basketball season, will be climaxed at a great "Beat N.Y.U." Rally in the auditorium Thursday at 11 a.m. The Y-City—Varisty—Club sponsored affair will present a great host of speakers including such former court greats as Bernie Piefel and Ace Goldstein. Irvin Lebow, chairman of the Orillona, Chair-Ee, L. I. U. coach, John Kieran of the Times, Milton Gross of the Daily, and President Mead have all been invited to attend.

The success of the previous rallies has resulted in a great wave of optimism among the students. At the "Beat Brooklyn" rally, the football skinner were the underdogs in the betting, but managed an easy 81-20 victory. Again, the boysters were on the short end of the money in the basketball game, but after a "Beat Oregon" Rally they nosed out the Cougars, 93-88. Last five 36 edifications point to the fact that the Beaver will once more be the underdog in the NYU game.

The Hol-men will turn out en masse for the rally. A number of speakers will attend, including diminutive Bob Fliegel and Ace Goldstein. The literature will be provided by the Departmental Committee of the Student Council, which has unanimously voted to extend the rally the evening of Saturday, March 4th. The beavers" native talent will be more than ably filled by Bernie Wasser, president of the Varsity Club, who will make the introductory speech.

Kane, Sales Chief, To Talk at Ad Soce

Before a combined meeting of the Advertising and Merchandise Societies, A. J. Kane, sales manager of the McGraw-Hill Publications, will speak on Advertising by Direct Mail and Problems Peculiar to Selling in the Public Accountancy Business. Thursday, seven at 1 p.m. in room 23.

Last week the society heard Harry Singer, promotion manager of the Photographic Press, give a taste of the Pravyn method of the selection of media. He also pointed out the importance of that fashion plays in the advertising and buying market today.

Ed Library Now Open

The Education Library in room 1502 is now available for use to all students taking Education courses.

Besides many educational text books and journals, the library has on file the Board of Education examinations in commercial subjects.

Board Committee Reappraises Arm

By Eugene Ruben

The City College Administrative Committee of the Board of Higher Education voted 4 to 1 Friday for reappraisal of Squirrel Arm, Main Center Government tutor, for one year without tenure.

This action followed a meeting of the Executive Committee which had unanimously voted that no tutor shall have tenure of office unless it has the eligibility requirements for instruction, that is, the residence requirements for the Ph.D. degree.

These decisions will be presented for the Board's approval tonight at 8 p.m.

By Alice Smolkin

Down with the O.W! No longer will the lack of a Park Avenue address and eight million dollar bank account stand in the way of Nelligan becoming the House Plan desk. (Ed. note: The steps of the building are weak, and won't stand up under too great a strain.)

For legal recognition, the selection has been made to the faculty committee on student organizations. The new officers have been chosen and are now the managing editor of the school newspaper.

City Colleges Sports Merger
Backed by Coach Friedman

By Seymour J. Beder

A plan by which the merger of the three city colleges would be consolidated, is gaining widespread interest throughout the city. The merger plan, proposed by Coach Frank Friedman of the City College Athletic Association, was present.

Friedman presented his plan at a special meeting six weeks ago, at which meeting President Mark Cooney of Brooklyn College, and President Walter Williams of Wagner College, were present.

Friedman commented that the combined team would be strong and have playing in the past. Furthermore, he added, such a team would have greater drawing power. Professor Mead and Professor Williams were in favor of the proposal, but fell that the Brooklyn City College student body should approve of the plan before it is instituted. Dr. Cooney was opposed to the plan.

The Board of Education has approved the establishment of a ten-year rule on the appointment of tutors to the staff.

Community Chest
To Raise $500

A drive to raise $500 to assist student refugees throughout the world was inaugurated Friday at a joint meeting of representatives of various organizations and several interested individuals.

The funds to be raised by donations from students and faculty will be distributed to the Far Eastern Student Aid Association, the International Student-Aid Committee, and the Committee to Aid German Refugee Students.

John Boles, former President of the C.C. Student Association was elected chairman of the committee. Present at the meeting were Terry Cooper, President of the American Student Association, Fred Manheim of the Girls Club, Viola Spinello of the Newman Society and Charles Germs of the TICER.
