Students Sail Up the River Sunday

By Jerry Brody

The life of a college student is an unhappy one. While classes may be entertaining and full of fun, the student's life is often dull and unfulfilling. However, there is one exception to this rule: the sailing trip on the Hudson. The trip was scheduled for May 10, just after Commencement, and it was a great success.

The boat, the Clifton, was chartered by the Uptown Student Council and was filled with students eager to escape the stresses of college life. The trip was a great opportunity for students to relax and enjoy each other's company.

During the trip, students had the chance to see the sights of New York City from a different perspective. The boat stopped at various ports along the way, allowing students to explore the city's history and culture.

The trip was a great success, and students are already looking forward to the next one. The Uptown Student Council is planning to make the sailing trip an annual event.

Ex-Ticker Man Has Valuable Collection of Rejection Slips

By Maxwell Rosenberg '38

The whole mad idea became a reality the night President Robinson addressed the seniors at the Commencement. My friend, who has always been a great advocate of rejection, came clean. He had a plan to clean out my desk. It was the best idea he'd had in years.

I reflected, what with me relying on rejection for survival, that he must be on to something. 'What is it?' I asked. He responded, 'You have a scientific college education, but you're lacking something on the alphabet. Why don't you write for the magazines?' I said, 'I should be easy for me to collect my thoughts into a story.'

Notice of appeal from the Supreme Court decision barring Phi Delta Theta from moving its Phi Delta Theta at City College will be filed in the Appellate Division today. The Board of Higher Education approved the Board of Higher Education's request to appeal the decision. The Board of Higher Education's action was taken last week.

The District Court of Appeals in New York has ruled that Phi Delta Theta must vacate its premises by March 1. The court did not address the issue of whether Phi Delta Theta's appeal of the Board of Higher Education's decision should be allowed. The court's decision is expected to be appealed to the New York Court of Appeals.

Ex-Ticker Man Reveals Career

The Brown University-Washington University game Thursday night was highlighted by the return of Ex-Ticker Man to the college. He has been away from the paper for two years and has been unable to make his return. He was looking forward to the game and was disappointed when the game was called off.

Monday Morning Moans...

- By Ralph Cohen

- "What's the matter with you, Ralph?" my Editor asked me.
- "I'm not feeling well," I answered.
- "Why don't you take a walk?" he said.
- "I can't," I replied.
- "Why not?"
- "I have a headache."
Jumping Juniors Jive
With Marsala At Rally

By Kate Sloan & Ir Israel Shafman

Proving that he had more than the 'swing' foot in the grove, Washington jumped off his pedestal and joined almost three thousand other students, swarming the auditorium Thursday to witness and engage in the most successful Junior Week rally ever staged.

Field Marsala, band leader at the Fiesta Dances, proved himself with a beautiful wife, Adele Gunzburg.

Amidst the college background of a stageful of 40 cuties, the Marsala went to work. He tuned up on his clarinet while the Mrs. demonstrated the extreme degree to which a harp, the gentlest of musical instruments, may be heated.

Elli Schwab, chairman of the Junior Week Committee, was one of the other bright spots of the show, surprising even some of his closest friends with a brilliant display of ad-libbing and music.

The Marsala Band vocalist, Phil Barton and some varied harmonies were interspersed, presenting Jesse Ptiskin's band, the Marsala duet.

A new feature this year, the Kiss-O-Heterometer, was introduced by S. E. Smutri. At every point that he was the college man's college man by lighting all the lamps on the machine. This feat was accomplished single-handed, the only one clutching a 42 volt in fond embrace. Said, even still unnamed at her own request.

Reluctantly coming to the end of the rally, the student body gradually desisted, its fevered look, came down from the chandeliers and shamefacedly slunk back to the lecture blocks. Back to his pedestal, picked up his fallen look, and donned his stony state, awaiting the last week to call him back to the realm of the living.

Booklet Editors Request News and Gossip Items

Manny Abramson and Harry Mynhoff, editors of the Commencement booklet have issued a call for all items of gossip or news pertaining to the work of the 40 class for its four years in school. Those with items should send them in as soon as possible.

Dance tickets and descriptions are needed for senior interested students who should see Vic Hart or Russ Band.

ASU Hits Rapp Investigators

Instructing that the Rapp Investigators were nothing but witch-hunters with the underhanded and unfair methods of a modern-day big business, the ASU investigators decided at its last meeting to inaugurate a campaign to publicize the threat.

The ASU's Exploits of 1945-Pens and pencils of 1946 directed by Will Gehr, star of Tobacco Road, the new radio serial featuring Marty Rosenthal and Bernie Wender, will be shown May 17, 18, and 19. Tickets for Saturday May 18, have already been sold out, but tickets are still available for the other performances at 25 and 50 cents.

The month of May has been set aside as membership month. A quota of 100 paid-up members has been fixed as the goal. Members who have not yet paid their dues in standing dues in an envelope to Mrs. Rene E. G. Valliant, vice president; Mrs. John H. Joffa, treasurer; Mrs. Henry T. Updegraff, secretary; and Mrs. George Wintzulsky and Buckes, members of the Board of Directors.

The Special Student League will hold its next meeting Thursday at room S22 in the declaration of principles will be read and the students interested in the matter are asked to attend. The purpose of the declaration is to bring about harmony amongst the students and to help those who need it.

Uptown Humor Mag Distinctly Not

It seems that the boys up at St. Nicholas Terrace who write a year, turn out an alleged humor magaine called Mercury. Just had to put up the space above the ads in their April issue. Here's the kind of stuff they used:*

*Featured is "City College Men Are Lousy Lovers," in which the editors' record collection: Merc runs a column of platte sh.cz (2): Jn the week of the 'Bby' story in the Camel ad, the magazine is real highlights of the real boys should have gotten more ads.

It may be the hour. It may be the place. It may be even the wear. But no Mercury. It just isn't funny if you've got relatives on Mercury, either way. ---SH
