Harris Instructor Fired; Test Case to be Started

The Joint Committee for the Defense of Education will institute a test suit in an attempt to nullify last week's action of the Board of Trustees which declared vacant the position of David Goldway, an English teacher at Townsend Harris, it was announced Friday.

Mr. Goldway, who refused to sign a waiver of immunity when called before the Joint Committee, thus became the first teacher to lose his position as a result of the investigation. Dr. Lewis Balamuth was dropped from his evening class job after being charged with being a communist, but he retained his day session post.

Ina re-taking the two offices, the Association voted both sincere thanks and appreciation for what they termed an excellent work during the past term.

RE-ELECTED

Shor, Resnick Re-elected

Jack Shor and Fred Resnick, two outstanding re-elected editors and business manager of The Ticker, Thursday, by the Student Assembly.

In re-taking the two offices, the Association voted both sincere thanks and appreciation for what they termed an excellent work during the past term.

Re-establishing a precedent broken two years ago due to the lack of funds, the Association voted to award bronze keys for meritorious service to Jack Shor and Fred Resnick, Thursday, by the Student Assembly.

In re-taking the two offices, the Association voted both sincere thanks and appreciation for what they termed an excellent work during the past term.

The Ticker office will be held in a few days at which time two members of the BEA, two faculty members and President Marshall of the Board of Trustees will be present to give the transfer from the jurisdiction of the school from its jurisdiction to the Board of Education.

The transfer implies the removal of the school from its present location, a change in the legal status of the faculty, but essentially no changes in the educational organization.

Another possible course of action, according to John Flynn, secretary of the joint—"Save Harris" organizations, is a tax-payer's suit to restore the budget. This action is considered by the Parent-Teachers Association, who have retained counsel to investigate the situation.

Grabbins' The Crazy

A FAIRY TALE FOR SENHIORE CHIL

Once upon a time there was a small group of well-intentioned students who decided to turn their school into a social and academic hub. They aimed to foster a spirit of creativity and initiative among their peers, with the goal of promoting a more active and engaged school community.

Election Prospects Are Gratifying

Electing a new student council is an important part of school life, as it allows students to have a say in the management of their school's activities. It is a chance for students to express their opinions and viewpoints, and to contribute to the decision-making process.

AA Elections??

The time has come for AA elections, and students are encouraged to participate. It is a chance to engage in the democratic process and to ensure that the voices of all students are heard.

Ad Mentor, Short, Fat and Bald-Worth More Than Girth in Gold

By Bicky Friedman

Children say the things they can get away with, no matter how ignorant or even cruel they may be. Little Croesus, who was short, fat, and bald, is an all-American genius. His nearest rival is Mr. Flak, who is short, fat, and bald. But then student grade averages have increased, with the new system of marking, which requires students to present their opinions and viewpoints in a more coherent and logical manner.

Presidential Candidates Present Qualifications in Letters to Editor

To the Editor:

...It is with a great deal of satisfaction that we can report that there are many qualified candidates running for president. Their qualifications vary from one to another, but all are dedicated to ensuring the success of the school.

Franklin H. Hopper, Jr.

To the Editor:

...I am writing to express my support for the current president, who has been doing an excellent job thus far. He has been working hard to improve the school, and I believe that he is the best person for the job.

AA elections are about more than just voting, it is about engaging and being part of the community. Let's make this a successful year by participating in the process.
