HP Schedules Gala Carnival; Queen Is Udderly Proficient

By DONALD SACHAR

Concluding a heated contest in which CCNY's most pulchritudinous females participated, House Plan has chosen Diane Cherryl to be Miss Charter Day and to lead the festivities at the gala House Plan Carnival, Saturday night at the Lexington Avenue, Armory, Lexington Ave., and 25 Street.

Josh White Sings

Scheduled to appear at the show Josh White, well known Bernie West, Senator Claglorn (Kenny Sibert), Ginger, Doris and MC Barry Gray with more headlines promising their co-operation each member house, we will operate booths of various types, ticket drawing, raffle, interspersed with chance, roulette wheels, turtle races, poker rolls and penny races will be set up, all the students concerned with the faire things in life, a leg-guessing booth, a leg-guessing booth, a blind date booths in a blind date booth have been planned. As an added incentive to City College students, tickets available to the winners of the fishing-for-years.

To add an air of magnificence to the surroundings, the Carnival will present the partial Society Downstairs, complete with a number of comedians at a chorus line made up of the members of Hyl 50. Dancing will be scheduled until 2 in the morning at the Wally's restaurant.

The ballroom will be held at the booth at the 9th floor, at House Plan, and from HP members for all activities, including tax.

Hillel Tops Quota For UJA Drive

In its drive to raise funds for the United Jewish Appeal, the Hillel Foundation of the Day School has surpassed its proposed goal by collecting more than $3000 or 200% over the original quota.

Combined with Evening Session receipts, the special sum is over $4000 and was obtained in spite of the pessimistic attitude with which the drive was started.

Ruth Meyer, William Friedland, and Stanley Davis, chairman of the chairman, stated: "Without the combined effort of the student body and its complete cooperation, this campaign could not have achieved its success."

Culminating its drive, the Hillel Foundation sponsored a gala carnival replete with hot dogs, flowers, booths, mock marriage, and a number of games. The carnival plus receipts from the various booths netted close to $300.

An important thing about the drive and the Carnival is that it was "a united appeal" with financial, moral, and personnel contributions to make all programs concerning the United Jewish Appeal a success," said Miss Margie Gold, assistant to the Director of Hillel.

City Awards

Air Honors

By Elliot Press

Culminating two days of discussion at the Radio and Business Conference, the School of Business presented awards to "those companies promoting the use of skill and craftsmanship in the effective creation of radio programs", at the Radio Awards Dinner at the Hotel McAlpin, Wednesday.

Plaque Awards Given

Among the recipients of the plaque awards for 1943 was National Broadcasting Company for its overall national network-promotion and the Columbia Broadcasting System's Pacifac network for its regional coverage.

Mr. Leonard L. Aesch, President of FM station WBCA of Schenectady, New York, asserted in the janet, "New Stations and FM,"" that FM made the average radio user today obsolete, yet they are effective and in fact useful. Whereas applicants for licenses must have 25 signatures, whereas applicants for the executive positions should submit 50 names.

Sports Notables Will Honor Beaver Athletes at Dinner

By IRWIN BASKIND

More local celebrities have been added to the list of guests for the All-Sports Dinner which is being held Friday at the Hotel Astor to honor 100 Beaver athletes and pay tribute to the retiring Professor Herbert Holton.

In addition to the already published list, Joe DiMaggio and Bob Hope of the New York Yankees, Captain Charles B. Scully, Director of Fire and Water Safety of the American Red Cross, and the new Mayor of New York, "New York's finest" he asserted, "I am not sure if he is," Mr. Aesch's statement.

The Shame of a College

Thursday marked a new low in the annals of college life. People have come to view the college as a place of tradition so fine and sacred that it should forever be preserved. Students, explain to themselves, are the key to keeping the college as it should be. Empty seats, great college presidents, and a host of distinguished faculty are the main reason the 99th birthday of the founding of City College, and the opening of the 99th year of higher education, Thursday was a tragic farce.

Many's the time we've ranted and raved about lack of faculty cooperation and participation in extra-curricular activities and many's the time we've loudly complained about the lack of money which forced us to live in overcrowded dormitory buildings. But we're a little tired of fighting for the rights of students when the students so obviously don't care one way or another about their college.

There are a few things which we feel the student body has been brainwashing. Among the rights and privileges that go with citizenship in any state, are certain obligations to it which must be fulfilled. In a totalitarian state the performance of these obligations becomes mandatory. In a democratic body so totally disinterested in their own college.

And surely the observance of traditions plays an important part in any society. When you think that we are going to college through the grace of someone who, almost one hundred years ago, had faith in the education of all, we ought to be thankful for the opportunity to be able in some way to show our gratitude.

Instead, a half empty auditorium greeted the great sporting event of the college, the 99th birthday celebration of its 99th birthday. Students were too busy dancing on the attendance last time to safety. We don't think the student body is interested in their own college.

City's Clever City Is Covering Beauty

City's Clever City Is Covering Beauty

From the vast melting pot of CCNY comes the most photogenic blonde in the nation. How many times have we heard that women are dumb. By far the most photogenic of the college's contributions to the advertising field, in general, and the fashion illustration field, in particular, City's Clever City is a dream come true.

City's Clever City is a beautiful blonde Upper Senior, with fine legs, a warm smile, and a luminous face. She is also a Junior at City College of New York. She is not only photogenic, but also intelligent and talented. She is currently working on a project for the Office of Student Affairs, and plans to complete her degree in Business Administration this year.

City's Clever City is a true American success story. She was born in New York City, and attended the public schools. She is the daughter of a bus driver, and has worked her way through college.

City's Clever City is a true example of what City College offers its students. She is not only a beautiful blonde, but also a hard worker. She is a true City College Type, and is an inspiration to all who know her.

Sylvania Electric Products, said that the radio manufacturers are trying their best to produce FM in a greater increasing volume but they are being hampered by the recent FCC ruling which raised the FM frequency range.

The session, "The Venerable's Chances in Radio," proved rather discouraging to those ex-GI's hoping to make a career of radio. At present there are few opportunities in standard broadcasting but FM and television do offer some hope for the future. Only those who are exceptionally talented can expect jobs today.

Mr. Edward M. Brecher, General Manager of the Metropolitan Broadcasting Corp., one of the drafters of the FCC report, stated that the FCC does not censor programs; it tries to improve them.

of 8,200 when actually there are only 7,200 students enrolled. Mr. Zweifack, Budget Director for the Board of Higher Education, also announced that arrangements have been made whereby City College may increase, if necessary, its budgetary demands. City College employs 145 clerks more than an adequate number, according to Mr. Zweifack. However, these clerks are distributed among the departments in such a manner that the Veteran Counselling Office does not receive any benefit therefrom.
