Candidate to Investigate Recent Budget Slash

By Mike Paschen

Student activities at City College are in danger of a drastic curtailment as a result of a 50% slash in this term's budget. The extraordinary cut is caused by a delay in receiving fees for the spring term.

At the beginning of each term, entering students pay a $5.00 fee, which covers all expenses for the term. However, due to a delayed start, the fees were not collected, and the college was forced to cut appropriations for the following terms. As a result, the college must now operate on a reduced budget.

In an effort to cope with the situation, the Student Council has appointed a committee to investigate the budget. The committee will report its findings to the faculty and students at a special meeting to be held next week.
