PET Scene of Conflict
Friday, Saturday Eve

By Barbara Kirsfield

Pauline Edwards Theater will be the scene of Theatre's dramatic extravaganza, "Richard of Bordeaux," on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30. The show, Theatre's semi-annual production, is one of the most ambitious that has yet been undertaken, according to Myron Moscowski, president of the dramatic society.

With a long list of successful productions to its credit, Theatre is initiating a new policy. That is not merely to capitalize upon the unknown names of Broadway shows, but to present those which will achieve success on their own merit. Mr. Moscowski, commenting on the show, stated, "We feel that it is good taste, and we are prepared to work with a production that will appeal to the student body.

Production material: The play, "Richard," with the part of the king being played by Stephen Chan, partner of "The Ticker," was written by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur. The play was produced and directed by Paulina Edwards, director of Theatre. The setting of the play is medieval England and was inspired by "The Hound of the Baskervilles." The stage and costumes were designed by Hal Fierro.

All seniors—WEEKEND—expect to hear the senior's resignation memos from the Associated Alumni Committee on Friday, April 12. The committee will meet to decide whether or not Davis had tenure before his investigation was under way.

To those claims Pres. Wright had failed to take an aggressive stand on the Knickerbocker and Davis cases, the "Cameo" Club and the Jaz Club are concerned with long irrelevant arguments on procedure instead of the investigation job and finally that he is in disagreement with Wright as to whether or not Davis had tenure before his investigation was under way.

Ad Award
All applications for the Mosaic Achievement Award must be submitted to Mrs. Justice by 3:00 on April 13. All students who apply must have an overall average of C and a B average in their advertising courses. Only those with 15 advertising credits may apply. Those who are not yet enrolled must have 15 credits before submitting their application.

Wright OK's New Chairman

President

By Jerry Deutsch

With unexpected vigor, Pres. Harry N. Wright, defeated all phases of Judge Hubert T. Delany's resignation memo from the Associate Alumni Committee to investigate segregation and discrimination at the college, before a panel of students, faculty and the press at a conference last Wednesday.

"My integrity has definitely been attacked," stated Pres. Wright, as he refuted all phases of Delany's 35-page statement which was released last week. In his resignation, Delany claimed that Wright hadn't failed to take an aggressive stand on the Knickerbocker and Davis cases and that Davis' raise in salary was a reward for one found guilty of segregation.

That the Alumni Committee sessions were concerned with long irrelevant arguments on procedure instead of the investigation job and that he is in disagreement with Wright as to whether or not Davis had tenure before his investigation was under way.

To those claims Pres. Wright had failed to take an aggressive stand on the Knickerbocker and Davis cases and the siding way that Judge Delany attempts to bring out his thesis, 15 advertising committees as soon as the cases were brought to his attention. These committees carried through their work as quickly as they possibly could. The committees mentioned found Mr. Davis guilty of segregation of Negroes at Army Hall. As punishment he was relieved of his job as director of Army Hall. No evidence of any appreciability (Continued on Page 4)

Hire 'Em

President of the University, Dr. Pronstine, has recently appointed an Assistant Professor of Public Relations. Dr. Pronstine, in response to pressure from the student body, has decided to hire two more professors to the faculty. The new professors will be responsible for the promotion and public relations of the University.

The University has also been urged to hire more professors in the field of Public Relations. The students feel that the University is not doing enough to promote its image and that more professors are needed to handle the increased workload.

The student body has been very active in the past few months, and they are now calling for a major expansion of the faculty in order to meet the increasing demands of the student body.

The University has been criticized for not hiring enough professors in the past, and the students feel that the current situation warrants the hiring of more professors.

HIRE EM

B and S

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent news about the University hiring two more professors. As a student, I feel that the University should be more cautious in its hiring decisions.

The University has been criticized for not hiring enough professors in the past, and I believe that the current situation warrants the hiring of more professors. However, I am concerned about the potential impact of this hiring on the existing faculty and students.

I believe that the University should take a more holistic approach to its hiring decisions. It should consider the long-term implications of its hiring decisions and ensure that they align with the University's mission and values.

Sincerely,

Nine Opens With Wins Against Queens, Pratt

The City College baseball team made it two in a row yesterday as they defeated a weak Pratt Institute nine by a 12-1 count. The game was a shortened, seven inning affair.

In the season's opener, the Beavers pulled one out of the fire as they defeated Queens College, 12 to 6.

The firstinning of the Pratt game could have given these Big Four fans a thrilling event, but the second inning pulled the fire out of the flames. The big play of the inning was the 12 to 1 count if the Beavers' nine got out of the fire as they defeated Pratt.
