Faculty to Appear At Hillel Thursday

"Student-Faculty Relations on Campus" will be the topic of a panel discussion at the Hillel Foundation, 113 E. 25 St., Thursday at 12:30.

The speakers will be Prof. Herbert Spero of the Economics Department, Prof. Walter Brandt of the History Department, and Mr. Alvin Lewis, the Department of Student Life. Mr. Victor Epstein, director of Hillel, will serve as moderator.

The panel is the second of its kind sponsored by the Cultural Committee of Hillel. The first, held last semester, was entitled "The Jews and the War," and its topic was "Academic Freedom and Its Limitations."

Each speaker will be given the opportunity to speak briefly and then they will debate among themselves. Questions may be put to the panel members by members of the audience.

Hillel is sponsoring this series to remind students and faculty of the freedom to express better-student-faculty relations. All students are urged to attend. "Freedom will be served," stated Frieda Stein, chairman of the Cultural Committee.

SC Committee Plans Reforms

The Curriculum and Registration Committee of the Student Council, largely responsible for the adoption of the new curriculum last year, is attempting to bring about further reforms in the College's curriculum and registration procedures.

By Hirsch, chairman of the committee, announced the following action of course for this term:

1) To survey the registration systems of other schools with an eye toward determining good practices and their own.
2) To institute a course in business English and Etiquette.
3) To attempt to improve the present registration course in Government 1.
4) To look into the possibility of eliminating the Thursday portion of the Accounting 101 lecture.
5) To attempt to eliminate course from final examinations.
6) To consider suggestions on how to improve the present curriculum and registration procedures.

School Requests Raise In Budget for '50-’51

City College presented a budget request to Budget Director Sam Patterson of $7,200,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1. This figure represents an increase of $932,000 over last year’s appropriation.

The most of the proposed budget, $6,745,000, is earmarked for personnel services, which is $341,000 more than last year. Despite this proposed raise for new personnel, the Board of Estimate, which is $1,169,000, an increase of $157,000 over 1948-50 while Evening Session is scheduled to receive $3,169,000.

Last year the College's request was $6,745,000, an increase of $1,169,000 over 1948-50 while Evening Session is scheduled to receive $3,169,000.

By Ed Lahmeyer

PAS to Hear Guest Discuss Hoover-Text

Mr. Samuel Schewel, of the Citizen's Committee for the Hoover Report, will speak at the meeting of the Public Administration Society Thursday at 12:15 in 308. He will speak on the overall structure of the government, how and why it should be changed and to what extent the government employment.

Mr. Schewel has worked on the task force of the Commission which was brought together by the National Research Council.

South-East Asia Post Held By Prof. Cohen

By Roslyn Riegel

Jerome B. Cohen, Assistant Professor of Economics, has been appointed Chief of the South Asian branch of the State Department. Professor Cohen, who is considered an expert on Southeast Asia, will be in charge of research.

In a letter asking for a six-month leave of absence for Professor Cohen, Mr. W. Park Armstrong, head of the Intelligency Division of the State Department, said: "We hope for some time we have been conducting an extensive search for a well-qualified man to direct our work on South Asia as chief of our South Asian branch. Many of our inquiries, both in Washington and in academic circles throughout the country, have led to Dr. Cohen. Assistant Professor of Economics in the School of Business and Cohen's work in several governmental agencies during and since the war, and his extensive publications on Japan and Eastern Asia are most impressive. We are confident that he is well-qualified for the important work we have in mind."

Cancer Drive Donation Buys 'Uglylist' Ballot

The New York Post and the Sunday Mirror have Supermen, the United States has Mister America, but only City College has the Ugly Man. Alpha Phi Omega is sponsoring an "Ugly Man" contest with the proceeds going to the Cancer Fund. The contest will be held next week.

By Joan Sandors

Beavers In Finale With NYU Tonight

City College accepted an invitation yesterday afternoon to play in the National Invitation basketball tournament, opening at Madison Square Garden Saturday. At the invitation of the Hoosiers, the College will participate in the tournament.

Joan Sander

SA Addressing Service Ready

Sigma Alpha's free addressograph service has been made available to all organizations that are willing to purchase addressograph plates at a cost of $2.50. Addressograph plates may be purchased by University and other student organizations at the Department of Student Life, 113 E. 25 St.
College SWU

Fencers End First Defeateless Season

By Bobby Frondland

The latest fencing clash between the City College and St. John's University, which is being held on the college campus this week, is being anticipated as one of the most exciting of the season.

The fencing team of the college, under the direction of Mr. Charles C. Crowther, will be participating in the tournament, being held at the college on Saturday and Sunday.

In addition to the tournament, the team will also be taking part in a series of matches against other colleges in the city.

In other news, the college's basketball team is preparing for the upcoming season, and the football team is practicing for the upcoming game against the University of Chicago.

In the news, the college's student body is preparing for the upcoming election, and the student council is working on various projects to improve the campus environment.

In the college's campus, the students are busy preparing for the upcoming academic year, and the faculty are working on various projects to improve the educational experience for the students.

In the news, the college's student body is preparing for the upcoming election, and the student council is working on various projects to improve the campus environment.

In other news, the college's basketball team is preparing for the upcoming season, and the football team is practicing for the upcoming game against the University of Chicago.
Put New York University and City College on a basketball court anytime, anywhere, and you'll get red hot action. Pandemonium broke loose in the first game in 1914 and set a pattern for future games between the two schools.

Of the thirty-five games played between the two institutions, NYU has won 18 and CITY 17. The battle between Nat Holman and Howard Carn is tied at 13 victories apiece. NYU leads the series 4-2.

Perhaps the 1934 game received more publicity than any other. It was the final game of the season for both teams, and Nat Holman had won 15 straight and City, undefeated, had won 20 straight.

The Violet winning streak was 24-18. Because of this victory NYU was picked to meet Notre Dame the next year in the first college basketball game in Madison Square Garden.

The year 1939 witnessed the Battle of the Garden. The strange locality didn't have any bearing on the closeness of the game, however, as NYU won 31-29.

The 1939-40 Hall of Famers were rated as one of the best quintets ever to represent their school. They won 18 straight games and were big favorites to beat the Beavers. But City came through with a starting 36-34 upset win and ruined an otherwise perfect season for the Cannons.

In the 1946 game City didn't have too much. Just a few boys who had recently come back from service. But one of these boys was the Navy's leading scorer. Or, better he might have boasted. He brought up Mangesane, scored 17 points, and led City to their 18-17 victory.

And—next year—City was a slight favorite. If anyone would have suggested before the game that City would win, 31-29, he would have been put in a straight-jacket and whisked off to Bellevue. But that's what happened. City whipped the Violets 31-29.

In 1949 NYU sent a team to the Garden that had lost but one game, and was generally accepted as one of the best quintets ever to emerge from the city. The Fighting City underdogs came through once again, and trimmed the Violets 32-29.

The Beavers from City College had won three in a row and the boys from the Heights were getting tired of it all. 1949 wasn't supposed to be NYU's year, but the success was to the tune of a better place in the standings.

Wrestling Team Loses Final Match to NYU

The wrestling season ended for City College Saturday as they went down in defeat to NYU, 17-16. All was not lost for the Beaver grapplers, however, as Jerry Steinberg gained a personal triumph by defeating one of the NYU men.

Steinberg defeated revenge over Bill Tausig, the Violets' captain, who had in two previous meetings last year been victorious over the NYU "counter." He "pinned" Tausig with one second to go in the second period in the only non-decision match of the afternoon.

Dick Meliken and Tom Woods were the only other Lavender point-getters, as Meliken won a decision over his opponent and Woods fought back to win at half. Steinberg, City's heavy weight entry, though losing, did much better than expected against Howard Wolf, the Violets' champion "rascal," in the most exciting tussle of the day.

The Beaver who could have stood as the match neared its end showed more guts than TV tangles show grappling faces. Despite the fact that this was the last carded encounter for Coach Joe Sapora's crew, two of the City wrestlers were engaging in their first battle. Joe Cole and Bill Tausig in the 120 lb. class, and Bob Manganini who tagged the scale at 168 showed Coach Sapora that they are future point-getters.