Senior Prom to Pick 'Queen'; Thaler Stars at Junior Prom

The Senior and Junior Proms will both be held Saturday night at the Penn Top roof of the Statler and the Coconut Grove of the Park Sheraton, respectively.

Highlighting the Senior Prom is a get-together and refreshments in the lounge, a Queen of the Junior Prom, who will receive a cocktail dress with tiara and sash. The Queen will be chosen at the affair. The dress will be donated by the Rosaria Bridal Salon of Brooklyn. Other donations include a La Tausca Necktie, Tifari Jewelry, Barrettes and Shuster Candy, and Philip Morris cigarettes.

The girls attending the affair will wear Fabrice Act IV perfume and Botany MII's cosmetic kits. Replicas of the Hotel Statler and the Coconut Grove of the Park Sheraton, respectively, have been featured on "Studio King of the Junior Prom." A mascot named "Lucifer," will be introduced. The names of the winners will be chosen at random.

The honorary membership is an honor for Mr. Roper, in cooperation with the Anti-Student Apathy Drive. This will be the induction of a student at the New School of Social Research, the financial support for the Student Council in an effort to raise student interest in Social and political organizations.

Clutch Basket By Watson Gives Beavers Win, 63-61

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 5.—A basket by lanicky Dick Watson with 29 seconds remaining gave City College's splintered students a thrilling 63-61 victory over Rutgers before a record crowd of 1300 at Rutgers' cavernous Athletic Field tonight.

"Clutching" by a score of 61-58 with a minute to go, Watson and Stan Cohen hit with free throws to knot the count at 60. Watson then deflected a Rutgers pass with a half-minute to go, and passed up-court to Watson, who hit the clincher.

Dorchers led the City men in with 29 points, while Cohen and Bob Logan also played key roles in the victory, each winding up with 25 tallies for the evening.

The opening quarter of the hard-played contest saw the Beavers play an unsteady brand of basketball, but the Rutgers crew hit consistently from the outside, the City men found themselves trailing 23-17.

Coach Nat Holman's undersized Lavender squad started to move in the second period. Dorchers, who scored 15 of his 29 points in the initial half, paced the offensive with his deadly one-handers from the keyhole. Logan contributed to tying the score, while Bob Logan also hit a pair of baskets.

the request for student aid in the form of scholarships has caused a good deal of discussion among the students. although the student body as a whole supports the idea of aiding deserving students, there is a division of opinion among the students as to the proper method of doing so.

the student body has made it clear that they are not interested in college aid in the form of loans, but rather in scholarships where no further obligation is made on the part of the student. it is felt that scholarships should be awarded to students on the basis of financial need rather than on the basis of merit.

therefore, it is suggested that a scholarship fund be established to provide assistance to students in financial need. this fund could be financed through contributions from the alumni and other interested parties. the selection of recipients could be made by a committee composed of representatives from the faculty and student body.

the students are also concerned about the handling of the entrance exam results. the students feel that the current system of distributing the results is unfair and that a more equitable method should be adopted.

therefore, it is suggested that the entrance exam results be distributed to the students through their college adviser. this would ensure that each student receives their results in a timely manner and would also provide an opportunity for the adviser to discuss any questions or concerns with the student.

the students also feel that there is a lack of coordination among the various student organizations. it is suggested that a student council be established to serve as a liaison between the student organizations and the administration.

the students feel that the current system of determining applicants' standings is unfair and that a more equitable method should be adopted.

therefore, it is suggested that a committee be established to review the current system and to make recommendations for improvement.

City College Boxing Squad Preps for Season’s Opener Against Catholic University

The School had its first look at this year’s varsity boxing squad a week ago Saturday in an exhibition preceding the Stein Fund Alumni Homecoming Day basketball game, and the result was that many fans came away thoroughly impressed by the team’s skillful Since Catholic University, one of the boxing powerhouses of the East, is on again on the Beaver program’s schedule, Coach Yuri Stiviv is preparing for this bout with unusual seriousness. He feels confident that with the manpower he now has, the usually well-conditioned and hard-hitting squad from the Capitol City can be taken by the City men, provided they back up their on-the-training program.

Aside from CU, slated for the 16th of January, the rest of the Lavender schedule is undetermined. The usual curtain-raiser with Fordham University has been cancelled because the Jersey school dropped boxing as an intercollegiate sport. At present, the coach is hopeful that arrangements will be consummated in the near future with two or three other possible games to help fill out the schedule.

Returning lettermen and cors are Coach Yust Stutis, who will be Jimmy Hess and Howie Greenberg, who will don the black and blue in their usual 185 lb. and heavyweight classes, respectively. Other veterans are Bernie Weisfeld in the 175 lb. division, Steve Palka in the 155 lb. class, Ronnie Warsofsky, a 145 pounder, and Teddie Pearlstein at 125 lbs.
