Hot, Sweet Java To Fight A Bomb

Off-campus residents are often in need of a quick meal or snack, whether it's a coffee shop or a street vendor, there's always a place to grab a hot drink and a quick bite to eat. However, as the bomb threat continues to escalate, the need for a quick and easy solution becomes even more urgent.

Of relating the various conditions under which coffee is made, one may note that the coffee prepared in the morning has a different taste than the coffee prepared in the afternoon. It is also important to consider the temperature at which the coffee is prepared, as well as the type of coffee beans used.

It's Same Old Story
As Five Rips B’klyn

By Larry Pollock

It couldn't compare with Lavender fives of old, but this year's edition of the City College basketball team still had enough to hand Brooklyn College it's annual drubbing to 127-45 at the Main Gym Saturday, the largest ever to witness a contest at the Beaver hangout.

The City men had boosted a string of 16 straight victories over the hapless Brooklynites in it's series dating back to 1934, but with the Lavender depleted to a mere shadow of it's former self, it seemed like this would finally be the year for Beaver.

But once the game got under way, it was the same old story. Breaking fast from the start, the Beavers soon raced to a 13 to 1 advantage at the opening period, and were never headed thereafter. Pacing the Lavender during these early quarters were Captain Jerry Domershick, who wound up high man for the evening with 15 points, and Bobby Logue, who tied for runner-up honors with Jerry Shorr, both tallying 14.

Coach Tubby Raskin's Brooklyn quintet then rallied for three quick buckets, but was far from the Manhattan game last week. City left no doubt in the fourth quarter, as to the eventual victory. Playing with a combination of the accuracy and shooting that the Beaver boxers were used to, the city team took the lead with 1:43 left in the final period.

In the Manhattan game last Tuesday, the City men were never headed thereafter. The final score was 99-54.

Beaver Boxers Beaten

In a series of bloody encounters that produced some of the hardest, most closely contested bouts ever viewed at the Carthage's Briskland Gymnasium, Yuri Shrooss, predominately and newly on the upswing, took the decision over Maurice Rothstein in the 156 lb. class.

130-pound Richie Evans initial of the evening's entertainment, setting the tone with the home team's Joe Walsh, who headed the latter lad to the decision, 30-20.

With five seconds remaining in the final round, Catholic's John Cronin was awarded the TKO over Murray Rothstein in the 135 lb. class. Both took turns rocking each other with right-hand jolts in the early rounds, but the referee stopped the bout when Rothstein, obviously bleeding, nasal passages in his nose.

Cool and poised Ronnie "Krakow" Schwartz, with the home team's captain, Joe Inearato, a boxing lesson in the 130 lb. class. The Beaver boxer refused to be bullied by his stronger and wild swinging adversary, causing Inearato to repeatedly miss the "little man who was never there."

However, the referee ruled the fight a draw.
