Gallagher Speaks to Council; Explains Policy On Coaches

By Thelma Rosenblum

"There is no intention on the part of the President of the College in any way to reduce the coaching staff," stated Dr. Buell G. Gallagher before the Baruch School Student Council. The President and Dr. Hyman Krakower, chairman of the Hygiene Department at the College, were invited to Friday's SC meeting in an effort to answer student questions concerning the recent controversy over the paring down of the College's coaching staff.

Throughout the hour in which questions were asked by the Council members and by students in the audience, almost all the conversation was carried on by the President, since almost every question was directed toward him. Neither man made any statements other than those in answer to questions from the floor.

The present plan stems from a directive issued by Dr. Gallagher to coaches that instructors who do not achieve a sufficient number of hours preparation means for each of their class instruction must require those class hours for every two non-instructor work hours.

The effect of this directive in the President's words is: "Obviously, when a certain number of individuals are necessary to perform a job, and you increase the working hours of the individual, then the number necessary to perform the same duties is less.

Standard procedure, when staff cuts are being made, is to drop non-tenure personnel. In this case, the coaches were in that status."

Dr. Gallagher later reiterated his views on collegiate athletics and stated that, "Our hope lies in developing a league of light-minded institutions who only want students to play who want to play, and are not being induced to play."

Bloodmobile to Visit School Next Week

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit the School next Tuesday from 10-3 in Lounge C. All students 18 or older may donate blood by filling out an application at the Bloodmobile booth.

The Baruch School has been challenged by the Uptown Center to a blood contest. A goal of 300 pints has been set in an effort to better last term's total of 224. Mimi Altman and Gene Tashoff are the coordinators of the drive.
Sayer Opposes Stronger UN
Parker Sees Power in Unit

By Beverly Diamond and Leo Martin

Mr. Irwin Sayer, Government Department, declared last week that strengthening the UN was just an illusion.

Mr. Sayer, who has been an active member of the Student Council for the past two years, stated that the United Nations is just a paper tiger and that the world is too complex for one organization to control.

"The United Nations is supposed to be the voice of the world, but it is a voice that no one listens to," Mr. Sayer said. "The permanent members of the UN, the five great powers, have the power to veto any decision made by the organization."

"If the UN were really powerful, why would the United States need a military budget of $30 billion?" he asked. "The UN is just a symbol of the world's inability to work together for the betterment of all."

Mr. Sayer also criticized the UN Charter, which he said was outdated and inadequate for the present day.

"The Charter is written in the language of the last century," he said. "It is time for the world to look beyond the Second World War and into the challenges of the Cold War."
Excerpts From Presidential Question and Answer Period

A story of the origin of the College as an institution was discussed Monday evening when President Prexy's name stands for Gordon at a press conference. The "G" in the University remained in the name even though the College to teach and consider a professor—carries a full work week. For a seven-week period a professor may be dropped after the second week. The doors, opposite the elevators (Lexington Ave. side), seem to be something of a mystery. Origi...

Lavender Stickmen to Open Against Ohio Staters Friday

Talk softly and carry a big stick.

This will be the motto of the City College lacrosse team as it opens a nine-game schedule against Ohio State University at Lewishon Stadium, Friday at 3.

According to the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association of America, both City and Ohio State are Class C outsiders. The ratings are based on the basis of ability and the caliber of opponents faced. The City stickmen are handicapped because about 90% of them are engineering students and are therefore unable to practice frequently. However, the Beavers hope to improve upon their 3-6 record of last season.

Their chances look good as their first five games will be played on home grounds.

The mainstays of Coach Leon "Chief" Miller's team are Captains Militty Perlow, attackman, and Ralph Kelley, midfield. This pair represents City's best scoring punch as they tied for home-ranking honors in 1954.

The rest of the starting team will probably consist of St. Vincent and The College Conservation of the Shiner-sponsored Monmouth Softball game in Florida last Christmas.

This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of Coach Miller as the Lavender lacrosse mentor and both he and the team are sure it will be a winning year, consequently a happy anniversary.

Six Capture IMB Frays

Six teams advanced in their respective divisions as Intra-Mural Board's basketball tournament swung into its third round Thursday in the Hall.

In the Senior division, the Lucks upset the Boro Park Boys, the year's semi-finalists, 29-23. The Inter Monsters doubled up the score on Hunt '57, 24-12; in the only game played in the Junior class, Beto Della Mira thrashed Lloyd '58 in the lone sophomore contest of the day.

Three games were played in the Freshman grouping. The Greens opened up against the Greens and won over the Greens, 59-39; while the Zonnie Roosevelt '58, 47-17; CPA's debited Post '59, 18-12.

President Gallagher recently suggested that those colleges that subsidize athletes, particularly basketball players, should come out into the open and be represented on the field of sport by out-and-out professionals. Here is our conception of what such a school's official catalogue would resemble.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY BASKET, KENTUCKY

i. Introduction

Naim's粘性ism is named in the honor of Dr. James A. Naim's, the inventor of that great American sport—basketball.

ii. Faculty

Joe Galletta, a Baruch School student, still compiled one of the lowest earned run averages in the league.

"I had a one and four record, but that doesn't tell the whole story," Joe said. "Bill Koenig and I pitched practically every game. We each threw about 55 innings and had the lowest earned run averages in the league. I don't know the exact figures, but I estimate them at about 2.75," Galletta continued.

When queried as to how the team appears this season Joe said, "We still have Jimmy Cohen. He's the best catcher in the league. We also have a lot of new kids on the team with a good deal of spirit."

"They love to hit but I don't know how they'll do. Last season we had a team with all the old pros. Do you remember Larry Cutler? He got a contract from the big league and is down in St. Petersburg. He was All-Met last season when he hit home runs in the thousands." Continueing his discussion of last season he said, "We had a good team and we lost a lot of close ones, 3-2, 2-1, last year. St. John's said we had the best pitching in the league. That's great for the chaps who say about the last place team." (Continued from Page 7)

The Beaver's first game under new mentor, John LaPlace, is against the Columbia Lions, March 30.

Lavender Tryouts

The lacrosse team is still accepting candidates. Anyone interested in participating in a fast, rugged sport should see Coach Miller in Lewishon Stadium any weekday after 4. No previous experience is necessary.

Outlook Good Says New Diamond Coach

City College's new baseball coach is a well-educated and ambitious man specializing in Physical Education. Coach John LaPlace has three degrees. Registrar of Science, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy.

LaPlace achieved his degrees at Columbia University. Previously, he attended City College for two years, playing second base for the Beaver nine under former Coach, Sol "Skip" Mikhail. During the summers of 1947 and 1948, he played professionally for Fall River of the Class B New England League. He faced pitchers Don Newcomb and Bob Million, now members of the Brooklyn Dodgers, but hurled for the Nashua club.

The dark-haired, good looking skipper is still a bachelor. He has spent all of his 32 years in New York City with the exception of two years, playing second base for the Class B New England League. 20,000 Hoops Under the Sea

The Swimming Club, a newly-formed organization at the Baruch School, has announced the formation of a water basketball team.

The game played is similar to regular basketball, but with one slight exception that it is played in a pool. Players are required to swim with the ball, not dribble it. In addition to water basketball, the club will sponsor lectures in water safety by guest speakers from the Red Cross and the Navy Department.

Students interested in joining the club should contact Bob Rosen, club president.
