City Nine to Meet Brooklyn After Losing Three in Row

City College's baseball team will attempt to break a three-game losing streak when it opens Brooklyn College tomorrow afternoon at Babe Ruth Field. The Beaver baseball fortunes during the Easter vacation were almost as bad as the weather that dogged the Metropolitan area throughout that time.

The Lavender bowed to Fordham and New York University during the holidays. These two losses, plus a defeat by Princeton on April 4, dampened the optimistic outlook that had arisen after City had won its first two contests of the season. The Beavers' record mark is 4-9. They stand in the Metropolitan Conference standings, tied for fourth place in the six-team loop.

City got a two-hit, one-scoring Columbia, N.C., in the season opener at Brown Field. Kenneth Showler, a left-handed pitcher, handled the innings and four hits, walking one and striking out five.

Three days later at Bedinstead, 1-1, Joe Galletta, GCNY's ace of 1964, pitched the Lavender to a 5-2 triumph over Hofstra.

A four-run flurry in the ninth inning made the difference between 6-5 and enabled Princeton to top City, 6-5, at the victory field on April 4. Showler, making his second start, pitched fine but for six innings before the Tigers clutched him in the decisive ninth.

On April 7, Fordham's baseball power house made GCNY the third victim of a winning streak which currently stands at six games. Bill Cronev, blanked the Beavers on seven hits but City outscored the Rams, 8-4, out left nine men stranded, and drove pitcher well for Coach John LaPlace. Galletta, who won but was the victim of two run-scoring own errors.

In a Met Conference game or April 8, NYU beat the Beavers, 8-4. The contest was played under poor weather conditions that resulted in several errors, eight by the Violets. City wasenterhanded Nick Brown for the entire season when in-caliber with left fielder Len Boreman on the third inning and fractured his right leg.

Galletta was the losing pitcher in the game that saw NYU erase an early lead because of runs and scoreless innings in the middle innings. Bob Goldberg came out of the bullpen in the seventh and preserved the victory for Joe Scarpinato.

Unbeaten Stickmen Ri Alumni, Blank Adelphi

City College's unbeaten lacrosse team roared third victory when it trounced an Alumni team studded All-Americans, 13-6, at Lewisohn Stadium Saturday.

Previously, on April 9, the stickmen racked up Ado 9-0, scoring the first Beaver shutout in 15 years. Soph. Spielman, a replacement for goalie Ralph Rischer, who was injured in the Ohio State game, did what no other City netman could do since 1942, when George Kranz pitched Remsen's current mark.

Racer's Mark to 2

The City College track teams placed third at 5:60.0, this season.

On April 7, the Beavers' Hunter-College. 18:0 at Lewisohn Stadium. Joe versatile Lavender are won decisive 100, 11:0, the broad jump with a of 20 feet 8 inches.

The Beavers, on April 9, won their second match, they beat Fairleigh Dick 29-35, at the Leopards field Saturday, the Beavers compete against their own rival, an attempt win the Collegiate Track Conference Relay Carnival.
