College Parley Today; Cancel 12-4 Classes

By Eugene Heftman

"What are the responsibilities of the City College for developing values in thought and action?" is the theme of the second All-College Conference.

All classes will be suspended from 12 to 4 today, so that students and faculty members may share in the panel discussions. Everyone is invited to attend and to express his views.

"A vote for an ugly man is a vote for an ugly world," said Professor Edwin Hill, who will address the students on the "King of the Ugly Men." According to Dr. Hill, each University must have an ugly man, as the "ugly" Baruchians Abundant project of the Mardi Grass Queen, who will be chosen from the five contestants, will be served in the refreshments.

Leading the panel on "What contributions can student government make in the development of values?" is Professor Edwin Hill, who will address the students on the "King of the Ugly Men." According to Dr. Hill, each University must have an ugly man, as the "ugly" Baruchians Abundant project of the Mardi Grass Queen, who will be chosen from the five contestants, will be served in the refreshments.

Dean Thomas L. Norton addressed last year's Convocation. He will become Dean of NYU Commerce in September.

Dean, Seven Students Receive Major Award

By Jerry Ravnitsky

Student Council elected 31 new members Friday to Chosen for their contributions in recognition of their contribution to the School's extra-curricular program. The awards are given with honors, high honors, or highest honors each semester to graduating seniors in recognition of their contribution to the School's extra-curricular program.

Dean Thomas L. Norton, nominated by the Council, was elected with highest honors, along with seven seniors. Highest honors indicate outstanding diversification or excellent specialization.

Students receiving highest honors include Jerrell Burke, former Inter-Club Board chairman, Howard Cohen, vice ICB vice-chairman, George Greenberger, treasurer of SC, Harriet Guber, president of SC, and Neil Weiss, former vice-president of Student Council and vice-chairman of Sigma Alpha.

Election with high honors went to nine seniors for good diversification or outstanding specialization in extra-curricular activities. They are: Arthur Field, Alice Glaser, Fay Lasky, Harvey Maurer, Herb Neter, David Rosen, Marvin Whitman and four others.

"I believe the problems and needs of the Baruch School are the responsibility of all who are concerned. I believe that the new man will bring a fresh approach to the problems and needs of the Baruch School."

News of Dean Norton's impending departure comes as an additional blow to the building's operations. The building has been under construction for several years, and a new leadership is expected at the next function as well as a visit to the building erected during the past ten years.

Norton Statement

My decision to leave the Baruch School has been a difficult one for me, but I have given great thought to the School and its students and alumni, and I appreciate most sincerely the friendship and cooperation they have granted me.

However, after ten years as Dean, I feel it is time to allow a new man with new ideas to assume leadership. I believe a fresh approach to the problems and needs of the Baruch School will prove beneficial to its growth and development.

I also wish to convey to the students and alumni of the School, my gratitude for their confidence during the past ten years and my wishes for the success and progress of the Bernard M. Baruch School of Business and Public Administration.

The Student Government Association, which met for the first time in the fall of 1958, is still in its infancy. Today, the Student Government Association is a recognized and respected body on the campus of New York University, and its activities are of great importance to the students of the Baruch School.

The Student Government Association is composed of the President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, who are elected by the students at large. The officers are responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the Association, and they must be in agreement with the policies of the University, as established by the Board of Trustees.

The Student Government Association meets on a regular basis, and its meetings are open to the public. The meetings are held in the Student Center, and they are attended by the students, faculty, and administration.

The Student Government Association is responsible for the promotion of student activities, the representation of student interests, and the maintenance of a healthy campus environment. It is also responsible for the administration of student services, such as the registration of students, the maintenance of the student records, and the provision of counseling services.

The Student Government Association is an important body on the campus of New York University, and it plays a crucial role in the lives of the students. It is a body that is dedicated to the promotion of student activities, the representation of student interests, and the maintenance of a healthy campus environment. It is an association that is committed to the well-being of its members, and it is an association that is dedicated to the success of its members.

The fencing team has become a power in intercollegiate competition. This was accomplished despite a lack of adequate facilities and insufficient practice hours. "I had hoped to spend the rest of my coaching career at City College. I wanted to use the fruits of my coaching years to establish City College as the center of fencing in the United States. That dream has disappeared."

IMB Hoop Final

Bah Boro Five will meet the Boro Park Boys Thursday at 12, in Hansen Hall, to decide the Intramural Board's basketball championship. At the conclusion of the game the most valuable player will be selected and awarded a trophy.
