Dean Appoints Committee To Study Degree Change

Acting Dean Mayors has appointed Professor Arthur Albrecht chairman of the committee set up to investigate the possibilities of changing the Bachelor of Business Administration degree given at the Baruch School, to a Bachelor of Science. Dean Charles Eberhard, Miss Agnes Mulligan and Professor Emmanuel Saxe make up the rest of the Committee.

The Committee has been formed to investigate and report to the faculty as to whether or not a degree change is desirable. Statistical data and other factual information will be gathered and interpreted so that an accurate estimate can be made. The Committee will hold its first meeting shortly.

The group would like to know the opinions of the faculty and students and has already obtained some information about degrees conferred upon students by other business colleges in the United States, said Professor Albrecht.

He also said, "The Committee cannot recommit a change of degree unless there is substantial evidence that the present title is a handicap to graduate students."

Miss Agnes Mulligan has told Bernard Cohen '56, that 5,545 of the 1953 business school graduates received a Bachelor of Science degree and in the same year, 6,434 received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and 7,045 received a Bachelor of Business Administration.

Blood Drive Tomorrow

Blood bank Co-Chairmen Harvey Isaacs and Bob Grosman hope students will duplicate contributions of "Jug Club" member Jerry Koss.

Precious blood will be collected as the long publicized Blood Bank drive culminates tomorrow. With fulfillment of the goal which was set at 360 pints, Committee Co-Chairmen Harvey Isaacs and Bob Grosman hope to be able to replace the depleted Blood Bank.

The Bank makes free blood available to all students, faculty members, administrative staff members, and members of the immediate family. There is no restriction on withdrawals, whether or not they have donated in the past.
The Neckie Party

From what was an ever-changing scene, we hear ominous rumblings foreshadowing future events of a restricting nature. An ever-growing movement is found to require skilled students to stand guard. We examine as the scene tightens already, and it does not lessen the pressure to know what it will be. Unlike multicolored fabric.

Return, with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear when white shirts and red ties were the hallmark of the dim-witted scholar on his way-like way to school. We visit with the Athletic Department say: And better yet, what will the minus-teenagers do that we, a school of business, will cherish the entire young generation of our time.

And as we hear the nearly extinct Barbarian, with the past's dying gasp, there is a wistful song, 'Good Morning Dear Professor, good morning to you.'

Knicker anyone?

Stein Fund Game

When Nat Ridlow's bandmates take the floor against the Columbia Lions Thursday it will not only be the first game of the year for the Stein Fund Game. They need help to raise funds to make the necessary improvements at Paley Field in order properly to maintain the playing surface and lay down enough grass to carry the necessary receipts to raise the necessary funds to improve the playing surface. The Stein Fund Game is the only one in the country which has a restricted number of games, with the majority of games being played in the States, in order to make the necessary improvements at Paley Field in order properly to maintain the playing surface and lay down enough grass to carry the necessary receipts to raise the necessary funds to improve the playing surface.

The New School students appreciate the fact that they must learn a certain amount of business and the desire to become experts in the field of business. They see in the current struggle of a young nation for the existence of its organization and the desire of its students for recognition by the business world. The New School students believe that the organization's recognition by the business world is essential for the students in order to gain the respect of the business community.

The New School students are aware of the fact that a student who is interested in a certain field of business should be well prepared for the future. CHEVROLET'S

With its frisky "Turbo-Fire V-8" this Chevrolet is pure dynamite. But, be warned — it can be rowdy, too-quiet, instantly obedient to your slightest signal!

Nudge the accelerator and you're away. The Turbo-Fire V-8 says, "Here's a new kind of power." You'll feel it. It's not that supercharged, flat out sensation. It's a new kind of feeling — smoothness. There's a pulsating power that builds up your confidence — your stability, and helps keep your mind on the road. The Turbo-Fire V-8's power is smooth, well distributed and easy on the engine. It never take away from a neat car. Directional signals are standard. Controls are simple. They're a joy to use.
Basketeers' Outlook Bright Despite Defeat by Panthers

Just as he has done in the past, Nat Holman again has set out to prove that he is quite a basketball coach. The sagacious CCNY mentor has taken a group of two regulars and two impossible rookies and molded it into a surprisingly tough Crown College à la M Stockton in 1954.

It is true that the Beavers dropped their opening game Saturday night to Adelphi, 71-64, at Garden City, L.I., and it is also true that they looked somewhat ragged in spots in doing so. But all in all, the team looked good indeed, losing by only seven points to a heavily-favored Panther quintet which was strong under the backboards and whose shooting skills were far superior to those of the Lavender.

Ralph Schefflin and George Jensen, the two regular holdovers from last year's team, showed up well Saturday. Schefflin, a 6-2 center, was regular, as he always has been, long since last year and still showed up well Saturday, marking ten points, more than any other player against the Adelphi defense.

But all City had still couldn't hold the fast and determined Adelphi five. The Panthers' jump shooters—Harvey Pachter, Harvey Halford, and Gilbert Scott—scored 50 points to help the CCNY defenses from the outside and proved to be the difference.

Pachter, only a substitute, entered the game in the middle of the first half and proceeded to score 22 points to capture high scoring honors for the evening.

But Halford, Scott, Pachter, and Gilbert Soderstrom, who showed up well Saturday, scorings 17 points each, were the key men in the game. Scott, a 6-6 center-forward, showed up well Saturday, scoring 17 points each.

The half-time show included selections by the Adelphi College drum and bagpipe group. The CCNY freshmen bowed to the Panther cubs, 70-61, in the first game. Alex Delia of City and Robert Kopko of Adelphi scored 17 points each.

The Baby Beavers overcame all but two points of an early ten-point Adelphi lead, closing to within 27-25.

But that's as close as Coach Dave Polansky's yearlings could come. Adelphi shot out to a 32-28 lead at the buzzer and was never threatened afterward.

The money collected goes toward the payment of doctors' bills incurred by injured Beaves athletes. The Stein fund takes the place of regular insurance, of which City has none.

The Lavender's opponent, the Panthers, has a powerful, up-to-date squad. Coach Lou Simin's outfit is favored to win the Ivy League title this season. The Lavender's 1954-55 Ivy League title is the only championship they have won since 1922.

Undermanned Mermen Set for Jasper Opener Friday

By Ralph Sobovinsky

The City College swimming team will not make their accustomed splash in the pool this year, according to Coach Jack Rider. The Beaver swimmers, who have won the Metropolitan Swimming Conference for the past two years, will be minus the talents of five of the stars who helped them achieve this glory when they meet Manhattan College Friday in the season's opener.

Although Rider is not too optimistic about how the team will fare during the season, he is certain about the outcome of the contest against Manhattan, to be held at 8 in the Hygiene Building. He said: "They haven't beaten us in 10 years and they won't beat us this year."

Howie Schloemer, probably the greatest distance free-styled swimmer in the four-year-old metropolitan league, will lead the old-time CCNY swimmers. Dave Polansky, the record-breaking breast-stroker; and Tony Sousa, the back-stroke artist, have all been lost by graduation. Steve Kesten, holder of the 50-yard free-style record and Ben Tannen, captain-elect of the squad, have also been ruled ineligible.

Most of City's hopes will lie in the efforts of Jimmy Johnson, a 6-1, 200-pound junior. "I expect him to carry the ball for us this season," stated Coach Rider. "He's capable of doing the freestyle, the breaststroke, and the backstroke. I have a lot of hope for him and I expect a lot of good things from him before he graduates. He has already broken the City College record for the 100-yard freestyle in practice."

The team still has several veterans who will be relied upon to carry the load of the season. They are Richard Silverstein, freestyle; Sheldon Manaping, breast-stroker; and Arnold Pachter and Sol Stern, back-strokers. Joe Weissman, a newcomer from Hunter, will do the diving.

Stein Fund Game Pits City Against Columbia

The proceeds from City College's first home basketball game of the season, Thursday night against Columbia, will be donated to the Stein Fund, CCNY's financial pool for injured athletes.

The fund is named after Dr. Sydney Stein, a great City athletic and former physician at the College, who died on the CCNY bench during a football game with Long Island U. in 1959.

The money collected goes toward the payment of doctors' bills incurred by injured Beaves athletes. The Stein fund takes the place of regular insurance, of which City has none.
