Management Society Sets Automation Fair for-PET

The Society for the Advancement of Management will sponsor an Automation Fair Thursday, May 10, from 12 to 10 and Friday, May 11, from 9 to 10 in Pauline Edwards Theatre. All students are invited.

The purpose of the Fair is to acquaint students with the theme of automation and its practical application in the business world.

Among the participating companies, and the exhibits they will present, are: Remington Rand, Univac; R.M.C. Associates, closed circuit television; Sylvana Electronic Products, atomic display utilizing automation and Freed Transfer, with a new and unique system featuring remote control.

The Society has endeavored to make this Fair a success by mailing two thousand invitations to businessmen throughout the city, for whom the Fair is being sponsored by the Association of Manufacturers, which is cooperating with the Society in the staging of the Fair, has mailed thirteen hundred letters to its New York members encouraging attendance.

Labor Leader to Speak

Ted F. Silvey, national director of education for the AFL-CIO, will be one of the speakers at Thursday's session.

Arrangements are now in progress to have leading speakers of management and labor discuss the pros and cons of Automation.

The fair will be awarded Thursday at 2.

In Council Elections

The filing of petitions for the Student Council elections, to be held next Tuesday, indicate an unusual interest in SC executive offices but a complete lack of enthusiasm for class council and Student Council representation for upperclassmen.

A three way race for president has developed between Dave Golinsky '57, SC treasurer; Harvey Isaacs '57, SC Blood Bank chairman; and Idi Raucher '56, SC vice-president. Running for vice-president are SC reps Sheldon Brand '58, Paul Douglas '57 and Bill Lipton '58.

In addition, the National Association of Manufacturers, which is cooperating with the Society in the staging of the Fair, has been asked to have lead speakers of the AFL-CIO, which will be one of the speakers to be invited.

The Cafeffe Federation of Commerce, Industry and Labor, has been invited to make this Fair a success by mail."

In an afternoon highlighted by six homeruns and marred by ten errors, nine of them by City College, the Beaver baseball team split two games with Wagner College, winning the first, 13-8, Saturday, at Babe Ruth Field, the Bronx.

Raoul Nacinovich, the College's shortstop, scored the winning run for the Beavers in the seventh inning of the first game when he smashed a homer over the right-center field fence. Nacinovich also scored in the fifth frame, after doubles. Andy Telling knocked him home with a pinch-hit single.

John Ryan accounted for two of the Beavers' three runs in the seventh inning when they came back with four tallys.

John Ryan, the veteran Beaver first baseman, homered with two runs in the second, but only two of them were earned. Six of Wagner's 13 runs were unearned.

Petey Marcano, the Dutchmen's second baseman, knocked in two runs in the seven-run second inning with a home run and came back with another homer in the sixth inning.

The Beavers, after making four errors in the first inning, came back even stronger in the second contest, making five miscues. Only this time, the errors proved costly. Wagner scored seven runs in the second, but only two of them were earned. Six of Wagner's 12 runs were unearned.

City ‘Nine’ Splits Doubleheader; Tilts Highlighted by Six Homers

Beaver Netmen Beat NYU for First Time in History

If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. And so the Beavers did. For the first time in approximately 15 years, (the records are very hazy) the College tennis team defeated New York University, 5-4, Saturday, at the Fleet Swim and Tennis Club, the Bronx.

With a record of four wins and no losses, the rest of the season consisting of four matches, should prove to be easy sailing. The only team which is expected to give City any trouble is Fordham University, which defeated the Beavers last year, 5-4.

The decisive match in the NYU encounter proved to be the second of the three doubles matches. The Beavers, leading 4-3, put up Allan Jong and Mel Drimmer against the Violet's Alex Sosinsky and Herman Gluck. The Lavender duo promptly trounced their opponents, 7-5 and 6-3.

FOLKS WHO KNOW THE SCORE

Always smoke Luckies. Witness the Droodle above. Smoke blown by Lucky-smoking spectators at tennis match. They're netting themselves plenty of enjoyment, because Luckies taste better. You see, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco—light, mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Okay, the ball's in your court. Serve yourself a Lucky—you'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
