Baruch Ball Features TV Star Pat Carroll
Friday at Commodore

Television comedienne Pat Carroll will be the guest star at the Third Annual Baruch Ball to be held Friday at 8 p.m. in the Commodore. The bands of Billy Butterfield and Tito Rodriguez will provide continuous music throughout the evening.

Tickets for the affair may be purchased from any student wearing a "Holiday Hop" pin. The price of the tickets are $5 per couple. Student salesmen will assist groups in making seating arrangements.

Since the Fall of 1956, Miss Carroll has been featured on the "Sit Down Show," television show. She has also appeared with TV comedians Red Buttons and other stars as Jimmy Durante, George Gobel and Mickey Rooney. A talented nightclub performer, Miss Carroll has been seen at the Village Vanguard and the Blue Angel.

Both Butterfield and Rodriguez are well-known for their Latin-American music. Billy Butterfield is a saxophonist for his bar, and jazz group. Appearing with Butterfield will be his wife, vocalist Dotty Dare. Both Butterfield and Rodriguez have appeared at college proms throughout the country.

The Baruch Ball, a School-wide affair has been run for the last three years to provide an evening's entertainment at minimal cost.

First Ball
The first Baruch Ball was held in the Statler Hotel Statler. More than 1000 Baruchians were entertained by the music of Charlie Spivak and his orchestra.

Last year's affair featured the music of Les Elgart. The late William Johnson was the guest star.

Blood Donation Nets 154 Pints
A total of 154 pints of blood was collected this semester in the Baruch School's semi-annual Blood Drive, 126 pints short of the designated 250-point goal.

Jug Club
The eight students inducted into the Jug Club are: Philip Beane, Sheldon Brand, Neil Buckley, Ed Greenberger, Theodoor Harris, Robert Hennis, Fred Del Pizzo and Emantol Sanger. Students automatically become members of the Club after donating four pints of blood to the School's account.
Lehman Raps Giantism In Corporate Economy

Ten Days for Class of '59 Rush at Clarks Lake, N.Y.

By Katherine Street

In a weekend for the Class of '59, rush at Clarks Lake near Utica, New York, a total of five or more days will be spent in socializing and acquiring a campus "dime's worth" of personal information. The event will get underway Saturday and continue until the following Thursday.

Friday will be the beginning of the rush period at Clarks Lake, and will involve the students' attendance at the freshmen luncheon and the freshmen dance at 8 p.m. The new freshmen, who have been waiting for this opportunity to meet their fellow students, will be introduced to the campus personnel and the faculty. The freshmen will also have the opportunity to see the facilities and meet the students who have already been on campus.

Saturday will mark the beginning of the actual rush, and will involve the students in socializing with the members of the fraternity and sorority organizations. The rush will be a chance for the students to get to know each other and to decide which organizations they would like to join.

The rush period will continue until Thursday, when the students will participate in the final round of rush. This round will involve the students in a series of events designed to help them make their final decisions about the organizations to which they would like to belong. The events will include a series of dinners and social events, as well as a series of meetings with the members of the organizations.

The rush period is an important part of the college experience, and is a chance for the students to get to know each other and to make decisions about the organizations to which they would like to belong.

Mardi Gras Chooses Five Queen Finalists

Tickets for the Classes of '59, '60, and '61 will be sold at the Mardi Gras Ball on Saturday, May 12, from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Grand Ballroom of the New Park Hotel, at a cost of $5 per person.

The selection of the Mardi Gras Queen and the two co-queens will take place on Saturday night, May 12, at 12:30 a.m. at the Grand Ballroom of the New Park Hotel. The three women will be chosen on the basis of their beauty, grace, and charm.

The Mardi Gras Ball is a traditional event held to celebrate the start of the spring season. It is a chance for the students to come together and enjoy the festivities of the season.

Flogging Echoes

By Richard Kravitz

A red umbrella was held up in the wind by a group of people outside the City College of New York. The umbrella was being used as a symbol of protest against the recent events in the United States.

The students were protesting against the recent events in the United States, which have been characterized by a rise in intolerance and political repression. They were calling for the end of this kind of behavior and for the promotion of civil rights and democracy.

The students were holding a rally in support of the protesters who were demonstrating against the recent events in the United States. They were calling for the end of this kind of behavior and for the promotion of civil rights and democracy.

Wechsler Attacks Cavallaro In Academic Freedom Talks

James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Post, launched an attack against Board of Education President Francis X. Cavallaro on Monday night at the City College of New York. Wechsler, who is a fierce critic of the Board of Education, accused Cavallaro of being a hypocrite and a political opportunist.

Wechsler accused Cavallaro of being a hypocrite and a political opportunist. He said that Cavallaro was only interested in gaining power and influence, and that he would do anything to achieve those goals.

Wechsler's attack on Cavallaro was met with a storm of protest from the audience. The students who were present at the event were outraged at Wechsler's comments, and they called for the end of this kind of behavior and for the promotion of civil rights and democracy.
Rain Cancels Tilts With Tigers, Rams

A combination of rain and wet grounds caused the postponement of the opening Princeton University baseball season. A scheduled doubleheader with Fordham University yesterday was called off, and after it became apparent that the field would not be in playing condition, Coach John LaPlace's charges will try to open the season tomorrow against Wagner College of Staten Island at Wagner. LaPlace will take the mound for the Beavers. Last year D-I Bernard, a freshman pitcher, took the mound against the Tigers. Last year's opener was against Tony Lucie and the Bucknell Pete Trotz, co-captains of the squad. The teams are in a mound staff, but the one that showed up in the Ivy League.

To open the Princeton schedule, the Tiger's run average last year was one of the most consistent in the Ivy League. So far this season, the Tigers have beaten Columbia and Moravian. They have a good mound staff, but will have to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Beavers are high on Princeton dates to date, however, only fifteen innings played have been in that game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

The teams last met in 1952 when Princeton triumphed at the Lawrence, 9-2. The last time they played was in 1929, by the way.

Ferrara Out; Net Opener Called Off

Hopes for a "fair" tennis season for City College this year took a sharp turn for the worse this week. Captain Guy Ferrara, undefeated in two years of collegiate competition, announced Thursday that he is leaving the net squad because practice sessions are interfering with his private life. Ferrara plans to get married soon.

Opener Postponed

In the meantime, Coach Harry Karlin and his men will wait a few days before opening their season — Saturday's inaugural against Pratt Institute was called off due to wet grounds. The match will be played Monday, April 22.

Stickmen Lose, 5-4; Face Drexel Saturday

Coach Leon "Chief" Miller's stickmen, after beating the New York Chiefs and an alumni squad during the past two weeks, lost to the University of New Hampshire Wednesday, 5-4, Uptown.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.

Approximately 500 fans almost went into overtime before Mountie Sid Wheeler broke through City's defense to score with 46 seconds remaining in the first period.

The first score of the game came at 5:02 of the first period, just minutes after New Hampshire's Doug Mackenzie flung the ball past Beaver goalie Shelly Cashdin.

Mark Rosenberg tied the game for City a little more than five minutes later. In the second quarter, the two teams traded goals and walked off the field with a 3-3 tie at the half.

John Devore tallied a quick one, and New Hampshire goalie Bob Tjoia turned-outfielder. The teams were left to wait until frame three in their opening game. The Jocks are a half and a half in the Ivy League.