Insignium Awards Given to 23 Seniors

In a seventeen-hour meeting Friday evening, Student Council granted 23 graduating seniors Insignium Awards for their contributions to extra-curricular activities.

Winning awards with highest honors were Bob Becker, chairman of the Inter-Club Board; Harold Datch, former chancellor of Sigma Alpha; Ida Raucher, former vice-president of Student Council; and Andrea Weiser, editor-in-chief of Lexicon.

Those selected for awards with high honors were: Fred Blank, former president of the Freshman Orientation Society; Larry Bloch, president of the Senior Class; Samuel Brown, former chancellor of House Plan; Paul Douglas, Student Council corresponding secretary; Paula Goodman, chancellor of Sigma Alpha; Edward Kerrigan, former president of the Newman Club; and Richard Bevis, former editor-in-chief of THE TICKER.

Also granted high honors were: Rachelle Laskowitz, former vice-president of Boosters; Syd Levy, captain of the basketball team; Roman Strauss, former president of Boosters; Ralph Sobolovsky, former sports editor of THE TICKER; Darsen Spiegel, former president of the Freshman Orientation Society; Paul Wallach, former corresponding secretary of Student Council; and Joan Weisman, former vice-president of the Senior Class.

Selected for an Insignium Award with honors were: Ann D'Oro, former chancellor of Pi Alpha Tau; Michael Gold, former chancellor of Tau Alpha Omega; Paul Neuwirth, vice-chancellor of Sigma Alpha; Paul Rose, member of the varsity basketball team, and Gotse Tsachev, former president of House Plan.

Louis J. Lefkowitz
Joseph A. Cox
James Barnes
Saxe to Serve In WUS Drive

Dean Emmanuel Saxe, Dean of Students Ruth C. Wright, Professor Edward Mammen of the Speech Department and Central Treasurer P. C. Li, among others, will visit on cafeteria tables Friday, from 11-1, to raise money for the World University Service.

WUS, which is supported by the three major faiths, is an international group aiding financially deficient colleges to obtain equipment and textbooks. Last year, it spent approximately $750,000 in Europe.

The drive is sponsored by the Phi Epilson Pi fraternity.

Baruch School's Founding To Be Discussed by Fertig

The events leading up to the chartering of the Baruch School will be discussed by Malcolm Fertig at the Charter Day Com-
Planned Retirement Revealed by Fjeld

E. I. Field, assistant dean in charge of Graduate Studies, announced his retirement, effective September 15. In his letter to the faculty, Field said he is stepping down from his position to spend some time in Vermont, toward the end of the academic year, before his retirement, effective September 15. He mentioned that he was not able to decide when to retire, but he feels it would be best to do so at this time. His retirement will allow him to spend more time with his family and pursue his interests in Vermont.

Alumni, Ticker, GAX Give Student Awards

By Almamomed

The Alumni Association, THE TICKER, and Gamma Alpha Chi have announced awards to students at the Baruch School for outstanding service to the College. An award of $100 and a bronze plaque, for doing outstanding work in the field of education, has been presented to the Baruch School. The alumni association has presented Certificates of Leadership Awards "to several members of the graduating class of 1955 who have shown marked improvement in scholastic standing and are eligible for membership in the alumni association in the fall of 1955. The Ticker has presented Certificates of Honor to Bernard J. Dinkelacker, who has been a member of the Baruch School during the three years since his graduation. The Ticker has also presented Certificates of Honor to several members of the graduating class of 1955 who have shown marked improvement in scholastic standing and are eligible for membership in the alumni association in the fall of 1955.

E. I. Field

E. I. Field announced that the Baruch School will be receiving its education at the College. He retired in 1931, has taught Accounting at the University of Colorado School of Business, and in the Decathlon over every car in its division of Rutgers University. He has also been a member of the Baruch School since 1955 and has been teaching Accounting at the University of Colorado School of Business.

Who's Who in the East, Who's Who in Education, and the American Association of University of Colorado School of Business. He has also been a member of the Baruch School since 1955 and has been teaching Accounting at the University of Colorado School of Business.

Bernard J. Dinkelacker

Bernard J. Dinkelacker has been a member of the Baruch School during the three years since his graduation. The Ticker has presented Certificates of Honor to several members of the graduating class of 1955 who have shown marked improvement in scholastic standing and are eligible for membership in the alumni association in the fall of 1955.

Sheldon Brand

Sheldon Brand, graduate of the Baruch School in 1955, has been a member of the Baruch School since 1955 and has been teaching Accounting at the University of Colorado School of Business.

Gary Strum

Gary Strum, a member of the Baruch School since 1955, has been teaching Accounting at the University of Colorado School of Business.

Class of '57 Slates Cruise, Plans June 12 Graduation

By Martin Jacobs

A Moonlight Dance sponsored by both Uptown and Downtown Class Clubs has been scheduled for May 28, at 8:30 p.m., and will be held at the Rector Street Community Center. The entrance fee will be $1.50 per person.

The heat will live from 6 to 10 p.m., and will be held at the Rector Street Community Center. The entrance fee will be $1.50 per person.

Chevy showed its still the champ...at Daytona...and in the Decathlon!

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-down ten-way test? Chevy has led both the answer and the proof on the champion Decathlon over every car in its division of Rutgers University. First, Chevrolet won the Auto magazines' Ten-Way Test, and in the Decathlon! Chevy showed its still the champion! Decathlon over every car in its division of Rutgers University. First, Chevrolet won the Auto magazines' Ten-Way Test, and in the Decathlon! Chevy showed its still the champion!
Israel Air Force Sergeant Competes in Beauty Contest

After serving in the Israel Air Force as a sergeant, a twenty-two-year-old Baruch School freshman, here on a student visa, will compete in the Mardi Gras Queen Contest in Mobile, Alabama. The student, who has been a member of the ROTC since February, will compete in the Miss America Pageant next year.

A Prince

Several weeks ago, Dr. Henry Kissinger, the new Under Secretary of State, in a television interview, agreed to sit down with a student journalist for a meeting in the Student Union on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania. The meeting was to be broadcast on local television. The student, a junior, was to interview Kissinger on issues of national security and foreign policy.

On the day of the meeting, Kissinger called the student to his office and explained that he had decided to cancel the meeting. The student was disappointed but understanding. He then asked if he could interview Kissinger in the same location at a later time. Kissinger agreed, and the student accepted.

Mardi Gras Queen Finalist

Dances and Teaches Ballet

Dance Cliks for Baruch, in addition to being beauty pageants, are also a way for students to express their creativity. The Mardi Gras Queen Contest is just one example of this. Through dance, students can showcase their talents and express themselves. It is also a way for students to connect with each other and form new relationships. As long as we can remember, the KKK, with its attempts to intim­idate and intimidate, has been a part of American life. The group is still active today, and has increased its membership in recent years.

Boosters, the girls' service or­ganization, marched into the Mardi Gras Queen Contest as a guest of the Millers, a Nazi family in Germany. He did not have a guest when he was in Korea, but he's known in Korea. His opening remark to forty-­eight people was, “It is the first time a Baruch student has competed in the Miss America Pageant.”

Student Escaped Nazi Wraith

Acknowledging his background as a student in Israel, the student said, “I was a student at the Baruch School, and I was able to complete my studies there. I then went on to serve in the Israeli Air Force, and later in the Israeli Army. I was able to complete my service and return to the United States.”

In the meantime, the student continued his studies at Baruch and obtained a student visa to return to the United States. He was able to find a job and continue his education.

The student’s visit to Baruch was well received, and he was able to connect with students and faculty. He was able to share his experiences and learn from others. The student also continued to work on his studies and achieve his goals.

In conclusion, the student’s visit to Baruch was a success, and he was able to connect with students and faculty. He was able to share his experiences and learn from others. The student also continued to work on his studies and achieve his goals.

Baruch School freshman, here on a student visa; will compete in the Mardi Gras Queen Contest in Mobile, Alabama.
Sticklers!

What is the Best Present You Can Give a Smoker?

STICKLES MAKE 99

Millionaires: do your friends or family members smoke? Stickles have something to offer! Stickles are made from the finest tobaccos selected for their quality, flavor, and aroma. You can choose from a wide variety of blends to suit your taste. Stickles are available in five popular blends:

- Regular
- Menthol
- Filtered
- Light
- Classic

Stickles are the perfect gift for any smoker. They're a thoughtful and practical present that will be appreciated by your friends and family. Order Stickles today and make your loved ones happy with the best gift they could ever receive.

Brooklyn Law School
New Terms O'Fallon Sem. 22, 1957

Brooklyn Law School
375 Pearl St., Brooklyn 1, N.Y.
Telephone: 5-5900

Phi Alpha

Congratulations to our new Sweetheart
Deanna Davis

The Capitol

Forum Selling Begins Monday

The annual Forum selling begins Monday at 11 a.m. in the Forum. The Forum is located on the first floor between the auditorium and the library. The Forum sells a variety of items, including student publications, club merchandise, and other goods produced by the university community. The proceeds from the sale will be used to support student organizations and clubs. All students are encouraged to participate in the Forum selling and help support their favorite organizations. The Forum will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Flashbacks

Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words: Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words.

Flashbacks

Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words: Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words. Every Year Are These Words Worn Wise Words.
Queens Trips Beavers, 15-2; ‘Nine’ Loses Seventh Game
By Richie Guran and Sid Davidoff

Scoring five runs in the second inning and seven in the third, Queens College defeated Manhattan College 15-2 in the Knights’ home diamond. Getting only five hits, the Beavers were never in trouble. They were led by the pitching of Tom Debole, who also contributed two hits to the Queens offense. In addition to Debole’s efforts, Mike Fagen, Bob Weiss, Leon Entin and Joe Debole contributed two hits each to the Knights’ attack. They garnered a total of 11 against three Beaver pitchers.

Starting for City was Steve Stelzer. He was shelled from the mound in the second inning, when Fagen blasted a ball-loaded triple to give Queens an edge they never relinquished. Scoring two in the second against Stelzer, the Knights added seven more in the third to open their margin to 12-0. The seventh was a result of four City errors in the third stanza.

While Debole twirled the whole game, giving up only two walks and striking out nine, the Knights continued to hammer away at the Beavers. Queens added one more in the sixth stanza, and then two in the eighth to finish out a 15-2 victory.

City’s only scoring came in the fourth frame when they put two hits together, but errors spoiled the chance to garner its only two marks of the fray.

Tony Lucich, Beaver catcher and centerfielder, was robbed of a hit in the late innings, when a Queens outfielder made a good catch.

City Tops Manhattan, 7-1, To Even Record at 2-2
By Mel Winer

Coach Harry Karlin’s tennis team yesterday overcame Manhattan College, 7-1, at the Jasquins courts.

The Beavers, in a row for the Beavers who last week tripped St. John’s, 6-3.

City captured all the singles matches except one and swept up all doubles contests.

In singles, Arnold Menschenfreund defeated Jim Haven, 6-2, 6-2; Larry Gittleson beat John Spira, 6-3, 6-7; Jay Hamm took down Robert Perlman, 6-0, 5-3, 5-0; Roy Fleischman tripped Bill Linson, 6-6, 6-2; and Ray Pethick trounced Bill Mills, 6-3, 6-0.

“Chief” Miller goals between them.

The Beavers finally scored in the third period, the ball being put into the net by the Army goalie. Mark Rosenberg received credit for the tally. But Black Knight forwards James Williams and Leon Miller, respectively, put two in the net before going to City.

It took City College’s baseball team more than eight hours and three games with Brooklyn College this week to achieve its first victory of the season.

The Beavers checked the Kingsmen in the afterpiece of a doubleheader Saturday, 4-3, when the game was called at the end of six and one half innings because of darkness.

The tilt, a replay of a City-BC match earlier in the week, was the first Beaver win in nine games. Wednesday’s game was deadlocked at 6-6 at the end of nine innings. A Parks Department regulation forbids the starting of an inning after 6.

In Saturday’s first game, Brooklyn came from behind in the ninth inning to beat the Lavender, 9-2.

For City, there was more than one player who could wear the hero’s mantle. It could be Steve Stelzer who came into the game in the seventh frame with two out and the bases filled up on Liky Mlynar and got the Brooklyn basemans to hit a soft liner to Ron Weiss at third. Or, it could be shortstop Bob Demas who singled in Mlynar in the sixth with what eventually proved to be the winning run.

For the Lavender, lefty Mike Spielman entered the game in the eighth. He twirled the last two innings, giving up one run and four hits. The score was 9-4 at the time he entered.

“Chief” Miller made one of his biggest heroisms. Back in the ninth inning, he blasted an inside-the-park home run to give the Beavers a 12-10 lead in the 10th frame.

DISCUSS STRATEGY: Marty Herman (left) and Marty Gruenberg (right).