First Lady' Cites Russian Advances

"When you look at the Soviet Union today, you can't help but be impressed," said Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, told more than 500 Baruch students Thursday. She spoke in Pauline Edwards Hall on the subject of "Twenty-Five Years of Responsible Freedom."

Mrs. Roosevelt said: "One must direct himself of the way he would think about wars as an American citizen. One must be independent of the pressures of the world to think as if he were a Soviet citizen," she added.

The "First Lady" said that the whole story was much better today than it was 40 years ago.

The people in the Soviet Union now have their own economic security. "Jobs are provided for everyone in the state," she stated. "In the past, there were many who didn't have jobs because of a lack of education," she added.

The woman said she continued to believe that life is very much better in America.

Gallagher Reveals Fight For Rescinding of Ban On Speakers at College

City College President Buell G. Gallagher Wednesday revealed that he had been working since March to rescind a ruling, barring Smith Act violators from speaking on municipal college campuses. He reported that he had been unsuccessful.

Dr. Gallagher made his remarks in light of campus reaction to the banning of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, People's Rights Party candidate for City Council.

A ruling in March by the Administrative Council, composed of the four city college presidents, banned all people convicted for violating the Smith Act from speaking on college campuses.

Miss Flynn has served a three-year jail sentence for conspiring to organize and help the Communist Party of the United States of America.

Dr. Gallagher said "I sympathize with the reaction on campus. This is not a matter in which I think we have the right to interfere."

President Gallagher remarked that he had been trying to rescind the Smith Act ruling since it was instituted in March. The President brought the matter to the attention of the Administrative Council which referred it to the City College Administrative Committee. The Administrative Committee makes recommendations to the Board of Higher Education for all matters affecting the College.

On October 21, the President said the Administrative Council had voted to turn down his request. He stated "I cannot single-handedly change the ruling without the approval of the faculty."

SC Refuses to Lend Name To Anti-Bias Bill Petition

The motion was made by SC Corresponding Secretary Larry Schiff and was defeated. The motion was subseqent that a petition is required to be submitted to the council.

SC Refuses to Lend Name To Anti-Bias Bill Petition

The Faculty Committee on Student Activities voted Tuesday to place on referendum the question of whether or not the student council would lend its name to the petition. The Fredwick Scholarship Association, which is sponsored by Queens University of London, will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Uptown AAUP Opposes Lists

The College's Uptown chapter of the American Association of University Professors released a resolution last week calling for the end of compulsory membership lists.

The action represents the first organized faculty protest against the compulsory club listings edict. A ruling made in 1964 by the Board of Higher Education requires all campus organizations to submit a list of at least 12 members.

The AAUP said that the existence of permanent student memberships tends to restrict student participation in extra-curricular activities.

The names of the officers of the organization, the AAUP said, should not, without the consent of the individuals involved, be disclosed to non-College personnel, who have no legitimate interest in the names.

Several student organizations have left campus Uptown because of the compulsory list ruling.

Gallagher Report: Outlines Guest Speaker Procedure

By Martin Jacobs

City College President Buell Gallagher will present to the General Faculty Thursday. November 14, his recommendations for improving and procedures governing invitations by student organizations to guest speakers at College.

A report, summarizing his recommendations, President Gallagher stated that the "visiting speakers" issue is not at all a "slog" issue. Rather it is only an "academic freedom" issue. It is an issue regarding the rights of an educational institution whose students and faculty must be free to inquire. Restrictions on these speakers must be independent of the pressures of public opinion, he asserted. "I would therefore place no ideological or organizational restrictions of any kind on the holding of invitations to visiting speakers."

BHE Restrictions

There are, however, certain restrictions stipulated by the Board of Higher Education. In addition, the Administrative Council of City College President has agreed that no person under indictment for felony may be invited to speak on a municipal college campus. This exclusion has been extended to include persons convicted under the Smith Act.

The student organizations must bear the responsibility for their actions, therefore, approval should rarely, if ever, be given to the invitation.

SC Refuses to Lend Name To Anti-Bias Bill Petition

In other actions, the Council mandated its president to present a motion to PCA to change its rules to allow individuals to have the right to petition. A ruling in March by the Board of Higher Education and the Administrative Council of Presidents expressing its approval of the ban on speakers convicted under the Smith Act.

A motion by Sydney Traum '58 to place on referendum the question of whether or not the stand taken by SC in March expressing its disagreement with the ban, should be reaffirmed, was defeated. The motion was subsequently passed.

All profits from the program, sponsored by Queens, Uptown and Downtown City, and Uptown and Downtown Hunter College, will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

A floor show will feature Dinah Washington or Chris Connor, in addition to Capo Letatti, vocalist Dorf Ann Gray, and the Latin Demons, currently appearing at the Latin Quarters. The music will be provided by Hal Atkins 12-piece Society orchestra and Joe Capore's orchestra.

The evening will be marked by the crowning of a Metropolitan College Queen. Tickets at 25¢ per couple and are on sale in 921.
No Fear

When merrily times ar sus, Student Council Friday evening as to whether the Chapter Council should re-examine the constitution and the Student Council of President Boulding's campuses Facilities. In favor of the student body, an actual fear crept into the minds of the Council representatives.

This came when President Boulding re-examine the constitution and the college's facilities. It is not the type of question to be placed before the student body, an actual fear crept into the minds of the Council representatives.

But that fear, if fear ever arises, is indeed legitimate. If the college students continue to take their jobs seriously, it is an important matter of principle and is essential to the effectiveness of any educational institution of the student body.

Beavers Rip Owls; Minnerop Boots 4

Completely outplaying its opponent, the City College soccer team turned an "iron-man" Temple University squad into cardboard as it ran its regular-season undefeated string at Lewisohn Stadium. Beins Minnerop led the attack for the Beavers, as he tallied four goals for the second time this season. Defenderman Johnny Paranomos contributed two tallies in the barrage. The Lavender struck quickly. At the four minute mark, Victor Schlender took a pass from Manfredi and headed the ball to Billy Sund, who rammed the ball into the net.

At 17:56, Minnerop scored his first goal. Three minutes later, the sophomore scored again, this time after taking a rebound off Marcus Wachter's shot. After taking a corner kick from Sund, Paranomos scored his first goal as he headed the ball into the net at three minutes of the second quarter. His second tally came in a penalty shot in the third quarter.

Owl goalie Walt Manning made 11 saves; 21 in the second half. Beaver goalie Leon Manfredi made only five saves during the entire game.

On Wednesday, the City-dominated Hunter College, 4-0, at the Islanders' field, to clinch a tie for the Eastern Division championship in the Metropolitan Soccer League. Schlender led the scoring with two goals. Minnerop and Wachter tallied for the remaining scores. The team was marked by inaccurate passing and shooting, but the Islanders were unable to get a scoring drive going.

Following Cleary, whose time was 28:13, were Randy Crossfield and Ralph Taylor. Four other Beavers placed in the first ten. After Iona could place only three harriers, Saturday, the Lavender will be host to Montclair State Teachers College at Van Cortlandt Park.
