Faculty to Discuss Speaker’ Proposal

The General Faculty will meet tomorrow to discuss President Buell G. Gallagher’s “speakers-on-campus” proposal. The meeting, which is closed to students, will take place in the Baruch School.

The General Faculty states that there should be “no ideological or organizational restriction on the issuing of invitations to visiting speakers.” The General Faculty exercises supervision over extra-curricular activities at the College. The by-laws of the Board of Higher Education charge the faculty with supervision of these activities.

President Gallagher has prepared his proposal so that “City College shall continue to be a center of free inquiry and freedom of expression.” The following are the main points of the plan:

- A speaker or performer shall be invited to the College on invitation extended by a registered student organization to a guest speaker.

- The President states that students are entitled to the same rights of speech as are enjoyed by citizens.

- There is no campus in the country whose students are better versed in the meaning of constitutional freedom, more alert to democratic rights, more able to deal with specious arguments, less ready to swallow easy speeches of demagogues, more able intellectually to sift the chaff from the wheat and reject what is bad, than at City College.

- Faculty members are currently pending after a year of investigation by the BHE’s special investigating unit.

- The Board of Higher Education reports that nine cases are the only cases that have been brought before the BHE for conduct unbecoming a man.

BHE Reports Nine Cases Pending in Loyalty Check

The Board of Higher Education reported Friday that nine staff members are currently under investigation for refusing to answer questions regarding alleged communist activities before government loyalty boards.

The nine cases are the only pending hearing of investigation by the BHE’s special investigating unit. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board, made the report under the terms of the New York State regents rules.

The law stipulates that the committee must report on the findings and activities and measures taken by the BHE for the enforcement of the Feinberg Law and related statutes.

The Feinberg Law states that no person employed by a governmental organization in the State of New York may be a member of an organization which advocates the violent overthrow of the government.

The case of Dr. Warren B. Austin, a City College English instructor, suspected last March for conduct unbecoming a member of the staff, is covered in a separate report.

Dr. Austin is awaiting the results of the hearing of investigation by a committee set up by the BHE to hear charges that he lied under oath and was a member of the Communist Party. No decision in Dr. Austin’s case has been announced.
education. By Martin J. Murphy

When I was a student, I had a tutor who was a published author and a regular contributor to The New York Times. He would often come to school and tell us about his experiences as a writer and educator. He would also give us tips on how to improve our writing and reading skills.

One day, he mentioned a book he had written called "The Art of Writing." I was intrigued by the title and asked him to lend me a copy. He was happy to oblige and gave me the book.

The next day, I read the book cover to cover in one sitting. It was a revelation to me. I realized that writing was much more than just putting words on paper. It was a craft that required a lot of practice and hard work.

I started to take my writing more seriously and began to put in more effort into my work. I found that I was able to write better and faster, and my grades started to improve.

I am grateful to that tutor for introducing me to "The Art of Writing." It changed my approach to my work and helped me to become a better writer.

I encourage all students to read this book and see how it can benefit you in your academic and professional pursuits.
Hunter Mentor Set For City Encounter

By Marv Levy

Motivated by twin defeats at the hands of the City College quintet last season, Hunter College basketball coach Mike Fleischer hopes to have his team in mid-season form for Saturday’s battle at the Hunter Gym.

Led by Dave Alpert and Dave Miller, both 6-4 veterans and 6-6 Irving Brown, Hunter has the height necessary to counteract 6-5 Bob Silver, 6-6 Hector Lewis, and 6-8 Joel Ascher, City’s big men.

Barry Falt, 5-10, who played well against City last year, is the Hawk’s top playmaker. The fifth starter is Harvey Barstein, who, at 6-10, plays backcourt with Falt.

Fleischer realizes that although City lost 6-9 Syd Levy, Lewis and Baruchian Silver are valuable assets who have improved since last year. The rapid improvement of these two against City will be key factors in determining the Hawks’ success.

City Coach Dave Polansky will start Silver and Ascher in the backcourt, with Haskins, Marty Groveman and Mike Gom in the backcourt slots. Baruchians forwads, Lewis at center, and Air, Sanger and Ascher at the forwards, will be hard to contain.

The Beavers a 42-41 lead, which was counteracted by Ascher’s three-pointer by Ascher and Lewis, Wallit stole the ball and tallied on a layup to maintain the Lions’ three-point margin. Following one-pointers by Ascher and Lewis, Wallit stole the ball and tallied on a layup to keep the Lions at a 42-41 lead, which they never relinquished.

score and take the lead for the first time in the half as Wallit connected with two jump shots.

The Lions roared back on a three-pointer by Phil Matthews and a layup by Stan Needelman to take a 39-36 lead.

After two successful foul shots by Wallit, Needelman again scored on a layup to maintain the Lions’ three-point margin. Following one-pointers by Ascher and Lewis, Wallit stole the ball and tallied on a layup to keep the Lions at a 42-41 lead, which they never relinquished.
