City Action Rejects Bid for School Site

An eleventh hour attempt to convince Mayor Robert F. Wagner that the city should postpone sale of 74 acres of land to Fordham University and set it aside for a new Baruch School ended in failure last week.

In a letter sent to the Mayor, February 23, Hyman Epstein, chairman of the College Division of Local 384 of Board of Higher Education Employees, urged him to halt the scheduled sale of land in the Lincoln Square development so that the Board of Estimate could have further time to consider the Baruch School's needs.

However, the plea was ignored. The city announced Saturday that the land had been auctioned to Fordham at reduced cost, and thus violating the constitution.

Curriculum Conference Set By Council for March 28

A Curriculum Conference will be held among the administration, faculty and Student Council March 28, it was announced by Irving Feller, Council president, at last Friday's meeting.

The Conference will be in the form of a Tea from 2-4. This will be followed by the 4 at which various department heads will address the Council.

The purpose of this as set forth by Feller, is to orient and guide the Council as to the curriculum problems existing.

Degree Change

Council also passed a motion to have a committee investigate a possible degree change.

The motion, proposed by Bruce Markenson, stated that Council's committees will "contact graduate schools, new schools and business concerns to find out information concerning the BBA degree."

In 1956, on recommendation by Council, a faculty committee was set up to investigate the effect of the BBA degree on business personnel.

The purpose of this motion felt that the 1956 study was incomplete as to area covered and a more intensive study should be undertaken by Council.

Electives

Elective Cards are now available in Room 312. Students must fill the cards and return them by Friday, March 13. Failure to do so results in popularity at registration.

Van Veen Displays Mural

Professor Stevanov V an of the Uptown Art Department has completed a mural for New York City Board of Education which will be installed in a new school in the city.

The mural, entitled "Children's Play," was recently exhibited at the Architectural League of New York.

Van Veen describes it as "the ultimate in freedom."

The mural is 8 feet by 12 feet and is done in 28 colors. The painting was developed from a small sketch. It was then projected on the wall of paper pasted to the wall.

Van Veen then penciled the image onto the large sheet. Each section of the mural was numbered to correspond with a specific color and shape. Sections were glued onto the paper to complete the piece.

Wright, in an interview with the student newspaper, discussed the recent conference and its significance.

The conference, which was sponsored by the foreign affairs committee, brought together prominent figures from various fields to discuss the future of international relations. Among the speakers were the Secretary of State and several other high-ranking officials.

As the conference concluded, President Stevenson expressed his satisfaction with the event. "It was a real success," he said. "The participants brought a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table, and the discussions were both informative and engaging."

Department Split

Beavers Lose, 69-55 As Lewis Scores 17

Rebounding told the story Saturday night when the City College basketball team lost to the tournament-bound St. John's quintet 69-55. Alan Seiden, with 22 points, was high man for the victors while Hector Lewis led the Beavers with 20. With his height to full advantage, took the lead in the first minute of play and was never headed. With big Lou Roethel leading the attack with five points, Coach Joe Lapchick's Brooklynites had a 12-2 lead with but five minutes gone in the game and the Beavers without a field goal.

A set by Joe Bernardo made it 12-4 but the Redmen went on an eight point tear and the score stood at 20-4 with eight minutes gone. The teams exchanged three baskets but Roethel and Seiden scored back-to-back jump shots to bring the score to 26-10. When Roethel was whirled with his third personal foul and seven minutes remaining in the first half, the Beavers showed some signs of recovering.

With Lewis and Joe Ascher doing the bulk of the rebounding, and scoring and rebounding, Julio Delatorre and Leo Waltz the feeding and ball-handling, the Beavers fast break began clicking. They mapped within eight points of the Redmen for a 40-32 halftime score.

In the second half, two substitutes, Hugh Kirwan and John Ryan combined with Seiden to put the game on ice for St. John's. Ryan took over the rebounding while Kirwan started setting Seiden up for jump shots and drives on which he drew fouls.

Delatorre who had been guarding him effectively in the first half, could not cope with him in the second; as Seiden scored nine points for St. John's.

Baseball Coach Hopeful About Team's Chances

By Mary Levy

With hopes for better weather, coach John LaPlace is anxiously awaiting to put the 1958 edition of the Beaver varsity baseball team through its first outdoor work. Although the Lavender compiled a mediocre 3-11 record in the first season, LaPlace is optimistic about the coming campaign.

Last year's starting infield, Tony Picardello, first baseman; John Whelan, co-captain and second baseman; Bobby Demas, the team's leading hitter and co-captain at shortstop; and Baruchian Ronnie Weiss, third baseman, is returning intact for this year's play.

Bob Kevin and Martin Kneib brought up from last year's varsity team are promising infield members.

The pitching strength depends on the strong arms of two sophomore performers, southpaw Baruchian Stu Weis and the right-handed Lou Mlynar. Backing up this duo, are Mitch Stearn, Les Rubinstein and fresh Nick Mazzara.

NYU...

City back into contention and they trailed 24-21 at the half.

In the second half the teams exchanged four baskets and with four and a half minutes gone Bernardo put in a set to cut the score to 34-30 in favor of the Violets. Then the roof fell in. While the Beavers scored four shots in the course of the next eight minutes, Ramsey, White, Bob Ryan and Mike Di Napoli combined to score 11 points and put the Violets in command, 43-34.

Baruch '5' Romps, 79-50, In Season's Final Contest

The Baruch Basketball team ended its 1957-58 season with victory Thursday when it defeated Brooklyn College Evening Session, 73-50. The victory brought the team's final record to 5-3. Falling behind 12-5 in the opening minutes of the contest, the Baruchians, combining ball handling and rebounding, rallied to outscore the Brooklynites 24-8 in the remainder of the half.

With a 22 point halftime margin, Baruch coach Jerry Gold, cleared his bench in the second half and gave everyone an opportunity to participate in the contest. Because of the substitutions by Gold, everyone on the baruchian's ability to play as a team and combine good passing and rebounding, skillfully and methodically.

Beaver Mermen Drowned In League Championship

The varsity schedule consists of 17 games. The first game is with Rutgers University at New Brunswick April 1, May 7. The Beaver travel upstate to play the Black Knights of West Point.

With Cunningham maintaining control of the ball for most of the game, the Lavender were out of contention.

The outcome of the game can be explained by two very telling statistics: City shot for only 31% from the floor while NYU was hitting 46%. City was also out-rebounded, 41-28.
