VSA Proposal Ruled Out of Order by SC

Two National Student Association recommendations were brought before Student Council Friday for its approval.

The first, dealing with the mistreatment of Algerian students by the French Government was ruled out of order by President Irwin Feller as not affecting "students as students at Baruch College as such." Feller contended: "I am in favor of a broad interpretation of the Charter. However, I don't feel that this is within the scope of the Student Council Charter. To rule this in order would be to open the floor of Council to anything under the sun." His ruling was appealed by Ed Sullivan '60, co-chairman of the Non-Voting List.

Those in favor of the appeal contended that the resolution was within the Charter and that voting with the Chair would set a "dangerous" precedent. The chair was upheld 16-9-2.

The other NSA recommendation, dealing with federal aid to education, was postponed until the March 28 meeting.

The tentative arrangement within the Uptown Student Government to allow them to join the Baruch Repeal was cancelled.

Mayor Wagner Names Two Board Appointees

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, noted for his work as United Nations mediator in the Israel dispute in 1948, will fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Joseph R. Cavanagh, which ends June 30, 1964.

He was graduated from St. John's School of Commerce and was awarded a Doctor of Laws from New York University.

The Placement Bureau, Lawrence A. Lansner, the survey established that there were more students working in upper terms than those in lower grades.

When asked to relate why they felt that they were not employed, although seeking employment, 72% of those queried cited their inability to arrange programs to suit potential employers.

BHE Denies Alumni Request To Aid in Nominating Chancellor

The Board of Higher Education refused last week an Alumni Association offer to formally advise in the selection of a chancellor of the municipal colleges.

The Alumni bid was made in a letter to the BHE by Seymour Weissman, executive secretary of the Association. Acting on a resolution passed by the group, Weissman presented that the Alumni Association act as formal advisors to the Administrative Council, municipal colleges, of the presidents of the municipal colleges, which is expected shortly to nominate a candidate for the chancellorship post.

Rejected by the Board, the Alumni will continue to act in an informal capacity; however, their reaction to a Council nominee will be kept off the record.

The purpose of the Alumni bid, most observers believe, is to prevent a possible "political nomination" by the administrative Council.

When the mayor recommended last year that the city set aside money for the establishment of the chancellorship post, the Alumni Association expressed the fear that the position might become "a political football."

The Association opposed the plan because "it does not provide adequate safeguards of the autonomy of the individual college presidents or protect the integrity and distinct character of each of the municipal colleges."

"We should have a voice in the selection of a chancellor," Weissman told THE TICKER, "but we do not think we will not approve."

Placement Survey:

59% of Baruch Students Work

By Terry Becker

In a survey conducted by the Placement Bureau of the Baruch School, it was found that 59% of the Student Body is now holding part-time jobs.

The survey was the result of a questionnaire distributed to students at registration last semester. Responses from 94% of the entire student population were received.

Conducted by the director of the Placement Bureau, Lawrence A. Lansner, the survey established that there were more students working in upper terms than those in lower grades.

When asked to relate why they felt that they were not employed, although seeking employment, 72% of those queried cited their inability to arrange programs to suit potential employers.

Baruch Gamma Sigma Elects Hill, Thirty-two Baruchians

The Baruch School chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the national honorary fraternity of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, announced last week the election of 32 Baruchians and one faculty member.

Organized in 1926, the Baruch School chapter of BGS was organized in 1935, operates as an affiliate of the national society. Throughout the United States, there are sixty chapters, with over 27,000 members. Its eligibility requirements are comparable to those of Phi Beta Kappa.

Baruchians who worked 10 hours or more a week were those who reported working for at least 30 hours a week. It was further found that male employees tended to earn more than females. While 19% of the males said they earned more than $1.76 per hour, 17% of the females made this statement. Only 5% of the males, as opposed to 17% of the females, replied that they earned $1 an hour or less.
Regents Board Joins WOR In Educational TV Contract

By Larry Miller

Thomas P. O'Neill, owner of WOR and Dr. Jacob L. Holtzmann, chairman of the New York Board of Regents, have completed a contract for television programs to be produced annually by the Board of Regents. This is being done in an effort to improve public education.

Dr. Holtzmann estimates that $50,000 would carry the project through the first year. It is scheduled to begin next fall, and will continue through the current academic year.

The Board would have heard in the form of a formal document by the end of the current academic year. The contract has been negotiated with the University of Pennsylvania and the University of California, Berkeley.

The school year will end with the contract being signed. The Board will then have the opportunity to review and consider the contract before it is made public.

A column appearing in the New York Times stated that the Board of Regents is under pressure to increase its educational programs.

A spokesperson for the Board of Regents indicated that the contract is a tentative arrangement and that it may be modified in the future.

Part-Time College

The survey on employment of Baruch School students (see page 1) has given us some statistical evidence of a situation which every student and faculty member of the College is concerned with: that both students and faculty are working more hours than ever before.

We have nothing against students working part-time. There is no doubt that they can earn some money, which is a distinct advantage. But the statistics here point up some very significant facts. On page 1, we showed that the average student works about 19 hours a week, which is close to full-time work.

The most interesting fact is that the number of students working more than 20 hours a week is greater than the number working less than 20 hours. This means that the extra-curricular program comes to a halt. There are some who work more than 20 hours a week, but they are fewer than those who work less than 20 hours. The number of students who work more than 20 hours a week is greater than the number who work less than 20 hours.

There is no question that these students are working more than 20 hours a week to supplement their income. They are working to pay their tuition fees.

Why such contempt for the College? Why the necessity of working more than 20 hours a week? Why do the students have to work so much? The answer is: because of the College's policy of charging high tuition fees.

The College does not provide any aid to the students. It does not give any help to the students. It only charges them high tuition fees. The students are forced to work more than 20 hours a week to pay their tuition fees.

Conference Studies Mid-East Problems
By Adrian Steppen

Problems of the Middle East were the topics of discussion at the fifth Annual Conference on International Education, held on Saturday.

Professor Samuel Rees of the Education Department was chairman of the Conference, which was sponsored by the Metropolitan Committee on International Education and the United Nations.

The Middle East is one of the most important areas of the world, and an understanding of it is very important to the world's future.

There are several things that can be done to help better understand the Middle East. One is by studying its history and culture. Another is by learning the language of the region.

Panel: Problems in the Middle East

The panel consisted of three leaders in the field: Mr. Arthur S. Hahn, the chairman; Dr. Ira N. Katz, and Mr. Eric B. H. Stilson.

Mr. Hahn discussed the current situation in the Middle East, emphasizing the importance of understanding the region.

Dr. Katz spoke about the history of the region, focusing on the effects of colonialism.

Mr. Stilson talked about the current political landscape and the challenges facing the region.

The panelists concluded by emphasizing the importance of education and the need for continued research and dialogue on the Middle East.

City Places Fourth In Fencing Contest

City College's fencing team finished its mediocre season in a blaze of glory last weekend, as they finished fourth in the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing tournament, held at the Racquet Club Plaza Hotel.

The Beavers finished with 59 points, behind Columbia, New York University and Navy. However, the Lavender finished well ahead of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which defeated the Beavers the previous week, 14-13.

The Lavender did best in the saber competition, and finished second behind Columbia, the overall winner. Leading the squad in the saber were Andy Kemeny, who compiled a 9-2 record, and Baruchian Manny Fineberg, who finished with a 7-4 slate.

Coach Edward Lucia singled out Fineberg for his outstanding record during the regular season. Lucia also felt that the loss of captain Bill Kaplan, out with a bad leg, severely hurt the team.

It is noted that a leading fencer on last year's team, Stan Hochman, was forced to resign, in addition to the loss of the entire foil team through the graduation route. "However, the experience gained during the season far outweighed anything that happened this year," Lucia said.

The coach also had good words for Hal Mayer, who had been fencing only six months. "He is one of the best recruits I've seen this season," Lucia said. Hal Mayer finished with a 7-4 record in the saber competition during Saturday's meet.

Before the meet, Lucia said: "If you equate our win and lost record to the cost of the entire team, there was a lot of money spent, but considering all the obstacles we had to overcome, it was not a bad season.

Karlin Makes Bold Stroke: Moves Rookie To Top Spot

By Mary Levy

Tennis coach Karlin has elevated newcomer Bernie Stiener to the number one position on the 1958 City College tennis team, in a bold maneuver.

"He is the word at Stiener, without any previous college tennis experience, has pushed himself ahead of four lettermen. The move is war ranted, however, as Bernie has shown a high degree of skill on the courts."

The number two man and captain is Baruchian Roy Fleishman, the only two-letter man on the team. Completing the nucleus of experienced men on the squad are seniors Ray Petrong and Ju nior Mike Stone.

"Coach Karlin is more optimistic than ever this year's club than he was about last season's at the same time. Last spring the coach knew his team would be dif ficult, but now he is confident of success," said Bernie Stiener.
