Legislature Passes Bill To Curb Accountants
By Bruce Markens

A bill to restrict the accounting profession exclusively to Certified Public Accountants has been passed by both the Assembly and Senate of the New York State Legislature.

Averell Harriman is expected to take action on the bill, which passed "without a dissenting vote," according to Assemblyman Louis Tenen, chairman of the Accounts and Appropriations Committee.

"Under the present laws, only Certified Public Accountants are subject to a code of ethics," he said.

The bill, according to Dr. Stanley W. Tenen, chairman of the CPA's Accounting Department, would provide for the registration of all accountants.

"This, in effect, will allow only CPA's to practice the profession of accounting," he said.

In addition, the bill will permit non-CPA's to continue practice until their death, provided that they have begun their practice prior to July 1, 1958.

The bill, introduced January 15, has been amended since that time to satisfy Civil Service Commission objections on certification of Civil Service accountants.

SC Hears Faculty Views At Curriculum Conference

Eleven faculty members spoke on the courses offered by their departments and the relation of these courses to a school of business at a Curriculum Conference held Friday, April 22.

The conference was designed to give the Council information for its planned evaluation of the Baruch School curriculum. Representatives of all the School's departments were invited to present their views to the Council.

Four Editors of Kingsman Resign in BC Controversy

The eight year old controversy over Brooklyn College's student newspaper inflamed last week as the four editors of the Kingsman resigned in protest against "interference" by the college administration.

The resignations resulted from the Faculty-Student Committee on Publications of Brooklyn College. Professor Gideonse stated that they "have arrived at the conclusion that they have outlived their usefulness."

Student—Life Have "Sections" which then proceed to payment of dues. FCSA also passed a motion to establish a committee to reorganize the membership of the Inter-Club Board, yesterday for a one year trial period.

Curriculum II

We were impressed more with the possibilities of our institution than with the accomplishments that were the source of the Student Council Curriculum Committee's Friday night speech.

The students of the College have more than just an academic obligation, and the curriculum should reflect this. During the introductory period of a student's college career, there is a need for an integrated and broad educational program that will allow the student to explore different subject areas and develop a sense of self.

The curriculum committee's speeches were well-conceived and thought-provoking. They addressed the need for a more integrated curriculum that would allow students to develop critical thinking skills and a sense of self.

The idea of a curriculum that is flexible and adaptable to the needs of the students is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that this will be implemented in the future.

City Debut Ruined; Drops 8-2 Contest

Nicholas made a poor throw while Weiss was lucky in the second inning for three runs.

The Scarlet Knights also unleashed a 13-hit barrage against three Lavender hurlers. However, it was the shoddy Beaver defense that opened the dikes for the Jerseyites with a single.

The baseball team tops the list with four scheduled contests during the holiday vacation. The Beaver nine will play its first Metropolitan Intercolligate Baseball League game of the season when it meets Hofstra tomorrow afternoon at the latter's field. The team's other contests are against Manhattan, Saturday, and Columbia and New York University, Wednesday and Saturday, of Easter week.

The lacrosse team will open its regular season Friday against Harvard at Lewishohn Stadium; The Millermen will also play Stevens during the holiday

Boo-Boos are a clown's best friend. The clown in question has a penchant for shining his shoes with molasses, arguing with elephants and diving into wet sponges. But he makes no mistake when it comes to choosing a cigarette. He picks the one that tastes best. He puts his money on the only one that's all fine, light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. He selects (The suspense is unbearable.) Lucky Strike!
