Senator Javits to Speak Tomorrow; Will Lecture on 'America in Crisis'

"America in Crisis" will be discussed by United States Senator Jacob K. Javits, Republican of New York, at the Baruch School's 11th annual Charter Day Convocation. It will be held tomorrow at 10 in the Auditorium.

This is the first time that the Bernard M. Baruch Distinguished Lecture Series and the Charter Day ceremonies have been combined. Past Lecturers include Brigadier General David Sarnoff; the late Thomas J. Watson, Sr.; Frank Pace, Jr.; Paul G. Hoffman; and former Senator Herbert H. Lehman.

Javits was a member of the House of Representatives for 4 years before he assumed his Senatorial post in 1956. While in the House he chaired the Sub-Committee on Foreign Economic Policies.

Throughout his career, Javits has been known as an opponent of discrimination. In this field, he has opposed segregation in the Armed Forces, and has consistently backed bills to eliminate bias in education, housing, government, and the Foreign Service.

Election Forum to Feature SC Executive Candidates

The first Student Council Election Forum in three years will be held Thursday in Lounge C. The forum, which will be moderated by SC Corresponding Secretary Arthur M. Haberman, will consist of all candidates vying for School-wide positions.

Those candidates are: Larry Schub, running unopposed for the presidency; Bob Nadlel and Matthew Levinson vying for the vice-presidency; Carol Groening and Edward Sullivan, unopposed for Recording Secretary and Corresponding Secretary, respectively; Joe Fiebrich and Dan Herman competing for the posts of Treasurer, and Stewart Kampolmacher, unopposed for the position of National Student Association delegate of the Baruch School.

The Forum

The forum, which is to give the Student Body a chance to see the candidates, was absent from the election scene since 1955 because of a poor response on the part of the students.

"We expect a large response from the Student Body Thursday. We also hope," said Haberman, "to have time for a question-and-answer session.

Gurian Selected Editor By Ticker Association

Richard S. Gurian, a 10-year old upper junior majoring in accounting, was elected editor-in-chief of THE TICKER by the Ticker Association Thursday. He was opposed by Arthur L. Goldberg.

Gurian began his career with the Ticker Association as sports editor in the Fall '57 term. This term he served as managing editor.

He defeated Avron Vann, Lipia and the late Max Cohen, who was the first student to be editor of THE TICKER.

Bruce Marks and Adrian Meppen were named news editors, and Ann Sigmund features editor. George Privassky and Isaac Sulpude were selected sports editors, and Larry Miller was appointed copy editor.

Morton J. Horwitz, this term's editor, and Stewart Kampolmacher, last term's editor, will occupy the post of editors emeriti.

Lion Jacobson was named correspendence editor, and Peter Egan will remain as exchange manager.

Gurian was born in New York's lower East Side in 1904. He attended George Washington High School and, after graduating, went to night classes at Columbia University. He was admitted to the bar at 27 after receiving his law degree from New York University Law School earlier this year.

The Forum, which will be moderated by SC Corresponding Secretary Arthur M. Haberman, will consist of all candidates vying for School-wide positions.

Distinguished Lecturer: United States Senator Jacob K. Javits will speak at the annual Charter Day celebration tomorrow at 10.

Reconsideration Likely As SC Ends Insignium

In a surprise move, Student Council Friday voted 14-11 to discontinue the granting of Insignium awards to graduating seniors who have excelled in extra-curricular activities.

By the end of the meeting, however, there appeared to be considerable sentiment for reinstating the award at next week's meeting.

Prior to the passage of the motion, Council defeated a proposal to grant only one category of awards: 12-16.

Those in favor of abolishing the awards said that the Council was not qualified to judge, and therefore did not give an award that had significance. It was also pointed out that most other groups in the College presented awards to their members.

The opponents of the motion said that Council was well qualified to grant a school-wide award since Council represents the entire Student Body. It was also argued that the Insignium has more significance than any other award in the School.

Those in favor of granting only one award argued that the stratification of awards only leads to jealousy and strife among its recipients. In addition, the proponents felt that since the Insignium is a School-wide recognition award, its elimination was necessary.

The opponents of this proposal said that in order to have only one award was not necessary because of the difficulties that would arise.

The granting of Insignium awards began at the Baruch College in 1960. At that time, they were judged by a committee of both students and faculty.

Eventually Student Council was given the power to grant the awards.

At first, SC gave only one award, but after much argument it decided to have two categories—one major and one minor.

This was later chaneled to three categories—highest, high, and honors—which had been in effect until this semester.

The Graduate Program

Several people in the Foreign Service and business may be able to compete with the world foreign service. This is not a sound policy when there are thousands of very bright people from abroad. The other is the academic qualification of the student. The same student who can be well trained in a technical subject at home can be equally well trained in a subject at home. The problem is to train the student.

It is interesting to note the amount of money spent on foreign students in the U.S. The amount spent on foreign students in the U.S. is estimated to be around $1 billion per year. The amount spent on foreign students in Canada is estimated to be around $150 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in Australia is estimated to be around $100 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in the U.K. is estimated to be around $75 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in France is estimated to be around $50 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in Germany is estimated to be around $25 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in Japan is estimated to be around $10 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in China is estimated to be around $5 million per year. The amount spent on foreign students in Russia is estimated to be around $2 million per year. City to Play NYU; Seeking First Win

By George Privracky

New York University, the number one team in the Metropolitan Baseball League Conference, will oppose the powerful City College "nine" this afternoon at Ohio Field. The Beavers will still be in search of that first victory, while the Violets will try to secure their bid for a ninth Met Crown.

Violet coach Bill McCarthy has not decided who will start the ball rolling from the mound. The possible candidates are Art Steiner, who has a 3.27 ERA; John Fasciano, with an ERA of 1.00; Joe Boccardi, with a slate of 1-0; and Richard Kwaxnik, who has an ERA of 1.80.

Around the infield is Cy Fai- tell, with a batting average of .331, at first; Tom Tittman, hitting .457 at second and Dick Kellely, batting at second and third, the number one man for the Violet, Jerry Hurnow (.414), with three homers and 12 RBIs, and around the infield are Cy Faitell, with a batting average of .331, at first; Tom Tittman, hitting .457 at second and Dick Kellely, batting at .304 at third.

The number one man for the Violet, Jerry Hurnow (.414), with three homens and 12 RBIs, will play short. Mike Muzio with a .207 clip at third.

In the outfield, Al Kulik is in right; Bob Hurnow (.321) in center, and Al Blumman in left, replacing Al Weiser, who has a broken leg.

Injuries have plagued the NYU team extensively. Besides Weiser's broken leg, Faitell suffered a shoulder separation and two pitchers were put out of commission because of sore arms.

Undaunted by all this, the Vikings have managed to stay undefeated with an 8-0 record.

According to Coach McCarthy, "No team is a push-over. City happens to play good games, but they have had a lot of bad luck. In their last outing against NYU, City looked good."

In the wrestling tourney semi-final, of the Intra-Club Men's, the Baruchians Roy. Fleischman and Mike Stone both registered victories. Fleischman won 6-2, 6-0. Stone took a close, 5-7, 6-2, 6-0 victory.

In the third position Ron Ettie took another close match, 6-4, 6-4 and 6-0. Jay Harrell and Ray Stonington won both in the fourth and fifth spots, 6-2, 6-2 and 6-2, 6-0, respectively.

Steiner and Stone combine talents to win 6-2, 6-0. Hammer and Fleischman won 6-1, 6-0.

Netmen Meet Fordham, Bid for Upset Triumph

By Isaac Steiner

The City College tennis team will visit Fordham University tomorrow in an attempt to upset one of the top teams in the New York area. The Beavers lost was at the hands of the Violets that they have faced this term.

In the varsity game at 2:30 on the Fordham Court will be a sophomore-Mike Deffy, Dufay's choice in the varsity, "The" leadoff spot. Following him will be Al Brown, a junior, playing in the second position.

The only match that the Beavers lost was at the hands of Brooklynites Steve Kowit; he beat the top City player, Bernie Steiner. As a result, Steiner's
