GF to Vote on ‘Lists’ at November Meeting

An extension of the voluntary membership system, approved by the General Faculty for a one year trial period last year, will be voted on at the next General Faculty meeting, November 20.

The voluntary membership system was at first voted down by the faculty. However, it was approved a week later because of an increase in the attendance of faculty members and the presentation of a compromise amendment which was received with the benefits of clubs declining to submit membership lists. The vote was 46-0.

The compromise amendment, which was presented by William J. Finkel of the Speech Department, contained two sections:

- Only those organizations which submit membership lists will be considered chartered student organizations at the College. This provision eliminates those organizations not submitting lists from receiving allocations from student fees. A Board of Higher Education ruling states that only chartered organizations can receive money from fees.
- At the meeting which voted down a system of voluntary membership lists only 84 faculty members were present. The vote was 46 to 38. Twelve additional members were present at the meeting which established the one-year trial period.

After the reversal, one member of the General Faculty said “lobbying” continued until the group’s change of position. Professor Mark Brunswick, chairman of the Department of Music, stated: “We lobbed last week, just as the conservatives lobbed the week before.”

President Beull G. Gallagher

At his press conference after the reversal, President Gallagher seemed satisfied with the General Faculty’s decision. Dr. Gallagher stated that only the “very conservative” and the “very radical” could not be satisfied with the outcome.

Under the present set-up, each club, by a majority vote, decides whether or not to submit a membership list. If the organization declines to register its roster, the faculty advisor must certify that it has 12 members.

If an individual in an organization which has not handed in a list desires to record his name, he may do so. An individual who is a member of a group which submits a list must resign if he declines to be recorded as a member.

SC Hears Curriculum Views Of Top Scholastic Students

More than 20 of the “best Baruch School students scholastically” attended the first of a three part study of the curriculum held under the auspices of Student Council.

The other two parts of this study will be held this week with a Student-Faculty Workshop, Thursday, and an SC meeting devoted to this subject, Friday.

The meeting, which lasted three hours, was in two parts—general discussion of the Baruch School curriculum and a more specific debate on such areas as required courses, specialization seminars, honors courses, etc.

In the general discussion, there was prevalent uneasiness due to the apparent disapproval of the curriculum. The most frequent comment was more "liberalization" of the School's curriculum. However, most of the students who attended were Economics and Psychology; a few in Accounting and Accounting Majors.

A Statistics major declared: "In this School even the liberal arts courses are keyed toward business. I'm told they have practical apprenticeship business, but I don't think this severely limits liberal arts courses. Except for some few courses, I think this School is unchallenging."

An Accounting major stated that he was quite satisfied with the Accountancy Program, however, I do not like the liberal arts courses and that I do not want to be challenged electives. The required courses are taught in an elementary school level, I blame this on the teachers’ attitude and the "valueless" textbooks."

Continuing along these lines, an Economics major, who switched from Accounting, noted: "I would like to see more business courses taught on the required level. My main complaint is that the students don't adhere to the students' level."

Taking a different approach to the curriculum, Larry Schaff.

Student-Faculty Workshop Slated by Student Council

The Student Council Faculty Workshop will be held Thursday in the Faculty-Council Lounge. The meeting is part of Council’s investigation into the Baruch School curriculum.

The Workshop will be composed of Faculty members and Council representatives divided into groups consisting of three instructors and three representatives.

The basic aim of the Workshop is to elicit from the members of the Faculty their opinions and comments on the content of the curriculum and their views of the Baruch School as a college.

The Workshop is only one-third of the Council's investigation into the curriculum. Friday's meeting-time was given over to hearing the opinions of Baruch School students who are in the upper percentages of their classes.

The second portion of the curriculum investigation will be Friday's meeting. At this meeting, members of Council will offer their opinions of the curriculum.

Larry Schaff

These three meetings are the culmination of Council's research into the curricula of the Uptown City and Baruch Schools throughout the country.

The report, when finally completed, will be presented to the Faculty and Administration early in December.

All-City College Prom Set for Thanksgiving

The first All-City College Prom will be held November 25, Thanksgiving night, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel at Seventh Avenue and Thirty-third Street.

All schools of the College are participating in the event.

A semi-formal event, tickets will cost $5 per couple. Various students throughout the School will sell tickets this week. They may also be obtained in the Student Council office, room 925.

It is expected that Kenny Sheldon and Jack E. Leonard will be the entertainers featured at the prom. Sheldon, a renowned band-leader, has appeared in many of the top spots throughout the nation. Last year he appeared at the Baruch School for its Easter Dance.

Jack E. Leonard, one of the most popular comedians of the present day, has appeared on such shows as Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan, Dinah Shore, and other vaudeville comedians, and is well-known for his biting wit.

The All-City College Prom replaces the Baruch Ball, which was formerly a major event at the Baruch School. The Baruch Ball was discontinued three years ago.

Mike Horowitz, president of Uptown Student Government and Larry Schaff, president of the Baruch School Student Council, announced that they are looking forward to this unique event, and are hoping for an enthusiastic turnout.

Both Councils are sponsoring the prom. It was felt that a joint effort by both the Uptown and Downtown centers would give greater acceptability by the student body.
Government Professor Talks On U.S. Constitutional System

There is no room in our constitutional system for two kinds of citizens," said Professor Hershkopf of Michigan University, who is now teaching a course in government at the University of Michigan.

Professor Hershkopf noted that "equality before the law" is not to be made a reality under any system of law. He explained that the courts and the Federal government have the power of interpreting the Constitution, but that the powers of the several states over civil rights and criminal law are not to be interpreted in the same way as the federal government.

The President began his dis- cussion of the subject with a quotation from the United States constitution and the Bill of Rights. He also mentioned that the Federal government has the power of interpreting the Constitution.

Black Day at Baruch

The name of the Baruch School was blackened Thursday, when only four Baruchans showed enough interest in the problems of our time to turn out 4 South. A political candidate spoke. A drabber change from two years ago, when 60 or 70 students crowded in the same room at the same time.

We cannot be surprised, however, since we have noticed few, if any, students interested in the current political situation. As we walk up to the ninth floor and see only 20 or 30 students listening to a debate on the Gold Standard, we cannot be surprised, however, since we have noticed few, if any, students listening to a debate on the Gold Standard.

Mr. Irani, commenting on business in both countries, said that a school did not have the obligation of financing veterans. When your reporter approached Martin, he exclaimed: "You see, in engineering, the most serious challenge to the young engineer is that he has to expect more interest and responsibility. A teacher, who may or may not have your best interest at heart, is not going to expect more interest and responsibility of you. A teacher is not going to have your best interest at heart.

We are not alone... but we have nothing to be proud of.

We All Have Problems

No doubt the most important news school in Little Rock, Arkansas, is Little Rock schools. We quote: "It was terrible to take the school, when with all the problems of our time."

Beavers Down Temple, 4-1, As Minnerop Tallies Twice

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 1—Heinz Minnerop's two fourth period goals broke up a closely fought contest between the Beavers and the Temple Owls today, and gave the Lavender a 4-1 win.

The Beavers were forced to come from behind in gaining their sixth win of the season, against one tie.

The game's opening tally came at 6:20 of the opening period, on a defensive lapse by the Beavers, as Owl high scorer Skippy Kellogg kicked the ball into an open net.

The first quarter was evenly played, with neither squad gaining a decisive advantage, although the Lavender had more shots on goal.

With little more than three minutes remaining in the half, outside-left Les Solney scored an assisted, as his shot bounced out of the Temple goalie's hand and into the cage, giving the Lavender a 1-0 lead at the half-time intermission.

In the second half, the Beavers dominated play, as the Owls seemed down. By the end of the third period, the Beavers had led, 3-0.

In the fourth period, the Beavers were constantly on the offensive and only once slight defensive play by the Owls fullbacks prevented the score from being higher than it was.

Both of Minnerop's fourth quarter shots went cleanly into the upper left hand corner of the net, well out of reach of the Temple goalie.

During the period the pressure was constantly applied by Solney, Leon Manfredi, Billy Sund, Gabe Schlisser, and Minnerop, in an effort to run the score up.

The loss was only Temple's second of the year. They had been undefeated until Wednesday, when they lost a tight game to Bucknell.

City Booters to Face Tough Brockport '71'

In what will prove to be one of the toughest games for the national soccer co-champions, the Beavers will take on Brockport State Teachers College, Saturday, at Lewisohn Stadium. Last year, the City '11' traveled to Brockport, New York, and came home with a 5-1 victory.

The Golden Eagles are led by co-captains Fred Taub and Roland Sandburg, both seniors. Brockport lost its All-American from last season's squad, Bill Hughes, via the graduation road. However, Ray Woodward, a member of the All-New York State team, will be playing outside-left in the contest.

Brockport will field a total of seven lettermen, including Frank Hussey, Barry Wallace, Mike Moscowitz, Frank Wilhelm and the above mentioned players. William Van Dyke, a transfer student from Kenyon College, will also be on the varsity squad this year.

Brockport's team will also be bolstered by five players from last year's varsity squad and 13 players from the JV.

Baruch 'Five' Coach Wolfe Faced with Many Problems

George "Red" Wolf, coach of the Baruch School basketball team, has many problems. Besides the fact that Wolf is replacing Jerry Gold, he is faced with the unenviable situation of rebuilding a whole new team. Only one member of last year's team came down to the preliminary practice sessions.

Wolf thinks that this year's team is "green, very green." Most of the students who came down to the gym for the tryouts have had no previous college experience in basketball. But the coach is impressed with the way that the boys have handled themselves in the few scrimmages that they have had.

"Green" "Even though they are green in the sense of time-played they have court savvy which is almost as valuable," said Wolfe.

Four Teams Win:

IMB Hoop Tourney Progress

By Bob Signer
Four teams gained victories in the Intramural Board's basketball tournament quarter-finals, Thursday, in the gymnasium.

The Panic Merchants, paced by Charley Forman's 17 points, rode over the Howswersmen, 41-37. Larry Oringle, also with 17 points, led Saxes '61 to a 50-25 rout over the Owls. Les Solney took the team's scoring lead at 18 points.

Scoring the highest team's tally of the afternoon, the Gunners bested the Scotchmen, 83-72. Al Miller and Frank O'Neill orbited 10 points each for the winners.

In the fourth contest of the day, the Losers lived up to their name—they lost. Deans took the tally of 62-20, with Carl de Pasquycio registering the highest individual score of the day, 24 points.

Modern Dance

The IMB announced that there will be a new group of girls being formed today — A Modern Dance Club — at 1 in 613. All girls are welcome to be interested in the new field of modern dance.

Winners of the IMB bowling tournament are Herb Schwartz, Art Schoenwald, Ricky Haddad and George Pevracky. They scored the most pins in the tourny. Toby Markovitz won the girls' division of the bowling tournament.

Team bowling tournaments will begin Friday, 2-4, at the Gymnasium Lanes, 3rd Avenue and 23rd Street.

Handball and Ping-Pong contests will be conducted Thursday by IMB. The handballers will meet in 613 while the ping-pong enthusiasts are urged to go to 614.

To be featured later on in the month will be a semi-annual "grudge" match in basketball between THE TICKER and IMB. Last term, THE TICKER romped, 72-58, with Mike Moscovitz contributing 26 points for the victorious team.

If the shower room alterations are completed, the semi-annual co-ed dip will take place. Scheduled for December 11 is the Faculty-Student basketball game.

Tri-run Lost By Harriers

"It looks like we'll have to win next week," said Coach Harry de-Girolamo, after the City College cross-country team lost a triple meet to Iona and Kings Point. The Beavers lost to Iona, 20-37, and to Kings Point, 27-38.

The losses bring their record on the season to 2-3. The team lost more meets this season than they did in the last four years.

In the Kings Point loss, Ralph Taylor and Phil Phillips came in first and second, respectively. Taylor's time was 26:22, while Phillips ran the five mile course in 26:19. The 27-year-old Railway Beaur was the sport of the 1958 season. The sophomore played junior varsity ball for City.

George "Red" Wolfe standouts during the practice sessions and didn't say who will be the starting "five" when the season opens December 1. Just like the rest, he is 'growing' into the situation, he is moving his way up the pecking order of the team. Among the players he looks at are Phil Phillips, who is third in the senior class.
