Council Votes to Send Letter On Voluntary 'Lists' System

Student Council, Friday, voted unanimously to send a letter to President Buell G. Gallagher, expressing its hope that he would propose a voluntary system of membership lists based on the individual's prerogative at Thursday's General Faculty meeting.

The letter added, however, that although Council prefers a "lists" system favoring the individual, it would prefer any voluntary system to a compulsory one.

Snow Fall

Thursday night's snowfall will affect today's schedule of activities.

Dr. Gallagher has not yet announced what proposal he will bring before the General Faculty meeting. Last year he proposed a voluntary system based on the individual's prerogative which was defeated by the General Faculty.

However, a compromise proposal presented by Professor William L. Finkelstein of the Speech Department the following week was approved by the Faculty for a one-year trial period. This one year period comes up for extension at Thursday's meeting.

California Faculty Committee Adopts Teacher Ethics Code

In a surprise move, a legislative body representing the faculty of the University of California (UC) in Los Angeles has adopted an ethics code that will require all prospective employers to provide student views and beliefs expressed in the classroom. This move is significant because it marks the first time that UC faculty have entered into such a contract with student views, and it is expected to have implications for other universities across the state.

The resolution was adopted by the UC faculty in response to a growing concern among students about the increase in political correctness on college campuses. The code requires that all prospective employers provide student views and beliefs expressed in the classroom, and that these views are not to be suppressed or censored.

The resolution states that "the promotion of freedom of speech and expression is a fundamental principle of academic freedom." The code is intended to ensure that students' views are not suppressed or censored, and that they are able to express their ideas freely without fear of retribution.

The Ethics Code is expected to be a significant step forward in protecting the rights of students to express their views in a free and open manner. It is hoped that this move will set a precedent for other universities to adopt similar codes, and will help to ensure that students' views are respected and protected.

The code is a significant victory for students, and it is expected to have a positive impact on the academic community. It is hoped that this move will help to create a more open and inclusive environment on college campuses, where students are able to express their ideas freely without fear of retribution.

The University of California has been trying to find a way to educate young people in a world where television, movies, and popular music are the primary sources of information. The officials at the university believe that the best way to do this is through television and media studies. At City College, this question is easily solved by the administration. However, this is the present policy, and it seems that the university has not been able to solve the problem of membership lists. We believe a club is given out to anyone except the government without the approval of the student. This is the purpose of this clause in the present policy, and it is the policy of this letter to the editor.

The issue of censorship in student publications is a poor interview victim. Rosenberg stated that the person being interviewed is often a poor interview victim, and that the interviewer needs to be corrected. But if the person being interviewed has little or no information, the interviewer needs to be corrected. If the interviewer is not corrected, then the interview is useless, and it should not be used. This letter to the editor is a good example of how to correct an interview victim. The interviewer needs to be corrected, and the interview is useless, and it should not be used.

Sund, Schlisser, Paranos Register

Bill Sund, Gabriel Schlisser and Johnny Paranos kicked two goals each, to account for all the letters in the power team's win over Adelphi at Levisohn Stadium, Wednesday.

Rosario, who could not play, was substituted in the second half, at which time Adelphi tied the game up at one point. However, Paranos, after a short series of passing, kicked into the goal, giving the City College team its lead.

In the last period, Paranos made the first of his two goals.

The second half started with the enrollment of the 500 students, who were divided into seven teams in the semi-finals. The high-scoring teams advanced to the final round, which was won by Paranos.

Strong Knicks Overtaken In Deans' Basketball Upset

The Knicks, led by Dan Ho, have seconded money of treatment, upset the streaking City College in the semi-finals of the basketball tournament, Saturday afternoon.

The City College team was defeated by the University of Illinois, 60-0, in the final round. The University of Illinois team was led by Dan Ho, who scored the only goal of the game.

The game was played at Levisohn Stadium, where a large crowd was on hand to witness the exciting contest.

The University of Illinois team was the only one to reach the semi-finals, but the City College team was left out of the tournament.

To the Student Body

The response to our production of "The Good Soldier" has been overwhelming. Because we are in Steventown High School, we do not have as many tickets to distribute as we would like.

The tickets for Saturday night are almost all sold out, although there are still some available. The last tickets can be secured for Friday evening.

Make Friday, December 5, your night to see the show. Once again, thank you for your support.

City Wins Tenth, 8-1 As Schlissler Notches

By Ed Satran and Bob Kane

With the basketball opener just two weeks away, it appears to Coach Nat Holman that the team is "fair." The coach is worried mainly by the "lack of height." Graduation took three key men from the roster-Joe Bennardo, Stan Friedman and Bob Silver-yet, without these players, Holman still contends that the CCNY team will do well this season, against the other municipal colleges—Brooklyn, Hunter and Queens.

The return of Joel Ascher doesn't make the coach too happy, for Ascher won't see action for a while since he has to recondition himself. Hector Lewis, City's point guard, will still be a pivot man.

Holman plans to use Barnie and Marty Groveman, Julio Delatorre and Barry Kline extensively. They will most likely be in the inside slots.

The five above-mentioned players, along with Ted Hurwitz, Herb Weiler and Hal Bauman, will form the immediate nucleus of the team.

"Teamwork is the most important thing. If you depend on one man, he states, "and this person gets sick when the team is lost for the night." Holman doesn't believe in "substitutes." He believes that the subs' attitudes towards correcting their errors is better if they feel that they are part of the team and not just benchwarmers.

In regard to shooting, the coach again says he's worried only about fundamentals. Holman also says that he plans to start six men in every game this season. One man—outside shooter—should create a problem for opponents. Lewis and Groveman have been most impressive with their shooting in the pre-season workouts, however.

Summing up the team's chances, Coa?id Holman frankly declares, "I'll carry a rabbit's foot in my pocket for the duration of the season."

X-Country Team Thashed At 18-Team CTC Running

The City College cross-country team went into the Collegiate Track Conference meet Saturday afternoon at Van Cortlandt Park without the services of its number one runner, Ralph Taylor, and was solidly defeated.

Entering the meet with 17 other teams, the harriers tallied a total of 22 points. The winners of the meet were Le Moyne College of Syracuse; they also won the honors last year.

Taylor's absence from the team was due to a pulled leg muscle. In addition to Taylor sitting on the bench, Irv Kallet was sick with the flu. There were six new faces in the starting five of the City team at a disadvantage, for the starters had to run the number three slot.

Karlinmen to Play Hunter In Final 1958 Encounter

By Bob Signer

Saturday, Coach Harry Karlin's Beavers will take on Hunter's Hawks at Lewisohn Stadium. This will be the last Leagues game this season for the Beavers, who had a very successful season. Only Pratt, who was an otherwise spotless loser, lost a game all season.

Last year, City romped over the Hawks 46-0, for their fifth straight shutout of the regular season. That was a year when Hunter won only one game all season. They've repeated that feat this year with their only win a 31-0 victory over Fort Schuyler.

The Hawks, coached by Michael Yahia, have several key players. Two of them, according to Yahia, Ed Katch, the goalie, and George Vargas, the team's high scorer, are expected to make All-City.

Defenders Craig Gonsalves and Peter Voigt stand out among the team's regulars. Vargas, who plays in the front line, scored two goals in Hunter's only victory.
