Students Boycott Variety Stores; Sit-in Demonstrations Spread

Negro students from Alabama State College planned a mass walk-out Saturday in protest of the exclusion of Negroes from the supermarket, only to find that their protest was not met with closed counters.

The Negro students have been arrested because of lunch-counter sit-in disturbances. The National Student Association called the arrests "a gross miscarriage of justice."

High Court Rules Against Reinstatement Suit

Arthur Steier, 24, expelled from Brooklyn College in December, 1956, suffered another setback in his battle for reinstatement, when the Supreme Court refused to hear his case last week. Steier, who claims his dismissal was arbitrary had previously been ruled against by both the District Court and the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Although Steier admitted that his chances for a rehearing are slim, he hopes to have the case remanded to the Circuit Court where all seven justices would sit in judgment.

While Judge Ernest Gibson, in the majority opinion of that decision, felt that the court would be usurping a state function if it considered the issue under its jurisdiction, Judge Charles K. Clark, in a minority opinion, held that Steier's case is not a habeas corpus, rather than a crime or misdemeanor.

Steier brought the case before the Circuit Court, contending that the conditions of his dismissal for disciplinary reasons constituted an abridgment of his constitutional rights under the Fourteenth Amendment in that he was deprived of liberty without due process and refused equal protection of the law.

After attending the student committee meeting by special invitation of the business manager, they felt, in their department, that the project was essentially at an impasse. The business manager received the impression that the project was still in the planning stage, but that it was being conducted in such a way that it would be difficult to implement.

The business manager expressed views that, although only two students had been selected, they had actually worked more than their share of the committee, and that the majority were favorably inclined in mechanisms that were being set up for the promotion of the project.

It was also beyond their comprehension who the factory members present did not want to make their opinion in the discussion.

The students' impression of the meeting is in question different from that of the business manager, and that the project appears to be progressing more slowly than had been anticipated. The minutes indicate that the section for mass communication did not come to any conclusion.

Another concern was the possible procedure of the committee. We think that it is imperative to find a way to overcome the present impasse in communication.

The business manager's financial report raises several questions about the future of the project. The committee is concerned that the cafeteria has not made a profit since 1962, and that this has been taken at the time when the cafeteria should have been discussed at an earlier date.

The committee does not want to encroach on the operations of the cafeteria, but believes that the current situation should be brought to the attention of the committee. We feel that the committee should take action to correct the present situation.

Student Participation

The battle for integration has reached a new proportion. Recognizing this, the National Student Association of the State College has decided to continue the efforts.

The Association with the National Student Association of the State College has agreed to continue the efforts in their efforts to provide quality education for all students.

The Association will meet the full and nothing if there are no problems. The Association will be held at 3 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

SABRE, FOIL TEAMS UNBEATEN
AS BEAVERS CRUSH BROOKLYN

Ed Lucia's fencing team closed out its 1959-60 regular dual-meet season Saturday, with a 23-4 win over the Brooklyn College Kiniamen. The win was the team's sixth against only three defeats, in contrast to Brooklyn's 4-20 record.

To route to the win the Beaver foil and sabre squads swept all their events. Each division showed identical 9-0 records. This was the first time this season both divisions went undefeated in the same meet. In a match against Harvard earlier in the year, the latter team swept to a 9-0 record, but the foil squad showed a 7-2 mark. This was the closest the two squads had come to a perfect 18-0 record in one meet this season.

In addition, the epee squad, which had been the only weak part of the team this year, showed a 3-4 record for the meet.

Five Beaver fencers won three bouts each without a loss. They were Baruchian Al Kulkin, Harold Mayer, and All-American Army's Kennedy of the sabre squad, and Albert Johnson and Jerry Mauldin of the foil division.

white Baruchian Al Kulkin registered one.

Other winners for the Beavers included Mike Goldstein and LeRoy Lomax of the epee squad, Goldstein had two wins.

Goldstein's second win was the team's 144th winning the victory.

The Beaver total was the highest the team had run up in several years. The previous high for this season was 30 points, both in the Rutgers match early in the season, and the Harvard match two weeks ago.

Foiling Tournament

Friday and Saturday, at a roundup of the season, the teams will compete in the Intercollegiate Fencing Association tournaments in the Bronx. In other fencing matters, Mike Goldstein, was elected captain of next year's squad.

Captains

Two Upper students have been named co-captains of the 1960-61 City College baseball team. They are Tom Hufnagel, a center-fielder, and Bill Nicholas, a catcher.

Sullivan led the Metropolitan League in batting last year.
