Grace Award:

Gracie Named 'Man of the Year'

By Ellen Cahn

This year's Foreign Trade Week's "Man of the Year" award will be presented to J. Peter Grace, President of W. R. Grace and Company, at a dinner tonight at Fraunces Tavern.

Mr. Grace's contributions in the field of foreign trade include the promoting and carrying through of an extensive program of expansion in existing and new fields in Latin America and the United States.

Although his major concentration is on the development of his company's chemical products, he also directs the management of the other phases of the enterprise's business. These other interests include Light American Export, agricultural and commercial enterprises, ocean shipping, insurance and air transportation.

Mr. Grace's career as an officer of W. R. Grace and Company began in 1942 when he was elected secretary. A year later he was named one of the company's directors, and in May, 1945, he was elected vice president. Mr. Grace assumed the presidency of the firm four months later, in September, 1945.

In addition to the presidency of W. R. Grace and Company, Mr. Grace is a director of Grace Lines, Inc. Other directorships which he holds are in Ingersoll-Rand Company, Assurance Company of America, Stone and Webster, Inc., Northern Insurance Company of New York, Brasilia Transportation, Light and Power Company, Limited and Kentuckian Copper Corporation.

In his public life Mr. Grace is a member of the Mayor's Business and Finance Committee of the City of New York.

Four institutions of higher learning have conferred honorary degrees on Mr. Grace. These degrees include Honorary Doctor of Laws from Mount Saint Mary's College, Manhattan College, Fordham University and the University of Notre Dame.

Yale is Mr. Grace's alma mater, from which he was graduated in 1936.

Ethics and Economics Discussed By Gallagher

President Buell G. Gallagher addressed the 314th annual Charter Day Convocation on the topic, "On Ethics and Economics" yesterday in Pauline Edwards Theater.

During Dr. Gallagher's student days the country was scandal ridden, but instead of turning to communism as some of his fellow students did, he said he began his research into what has since proved to be "a continuous interest in ethics and economics."

According to the President of City College, "Ethics is the science of morality; economics is the science of wealth."

Dr. Gallagher said that he spoke in the hope that one student would listen and perhaps devote himself to "the ethical issues of economics." He feels that much has been done in this field, but much more remains to be done.

The President stated that some students believe that a business career has three steps: to get on, to get rich, and to get honest. However, Dr. Gallagher maintained that "The difference between selfishness and altruism is as between night and day."

To stress the importance of ethics in economics, Dr. Gallagher cited two examples. The first was the 110-year steel strike of 1939-40. During the strike he was on the National Council of Churches' committee studying the strike. This committee published their report, "In Search of Maturity in Industrial Relations," and in it they.

"Corps" Parley Set Tomorrow

Student Council's final seminar of the semester, concerning the recently instituted Peace Corps, will be held tomorrow from 2-4 in a South.

Dr. Charles J. Ebersolt, dean of curricular guidance, will be the principal speaker at the session. Among topics to be discussed may be the Peace Corps. Should the Peace Corps be broadened in order to include underdeveloped parts of the United States? Should the Peace Corps be an alternative to the draft? Should the Peace Corps be established in the developed countries, and should the Peace Corps be allowed some time to travel in the country in which they are assigned?

All interested are invited to attend.
Council Prospects

The election for Student Council promises an exciting battle, with a multitude of issues to be reviewed by the voters. The candidates will face each other in a series of debates and forums, with the goal of appealing to as much of the electorate as possible. The candidates will present their visions for the future of the school, highlighting their ideas for improving the quality of life for students and the community. The election will be held next week, with voting taking place on Monday and Tuesday. The winner will be announced on Wednesday.

Gallagher Speech

The following words were spoken by John Gallagher, the President of the Student Body, at the annual meeting of the Student Council:

"Ladies and gentlemen, you have heard me talk before. I have been here for a year now, and I want to say a few words about the future of the School of Sociology.

"The School of Sociology is facing some difficult times. The budget cuts have affected us, and the enrollment has dropped. But we are not going to give up. We are going to fight for our rights.

"We are going to fight for more funds for the School of Sociology. We are going to fight for better facilities. We are going to fight for better teachers.

"And we are going to fight for our future.

"Thank you."
Wagner Triumphs, 8-2; City Retains Last Place

By Mel Bernhardt and Steve Rappaport

Al Di Bernardo's nine suffered its fourth consecutive setback by losing to Wagner College, 8-2, at Grymes Hill, Staten Island, Tuesday. The loss gave the Leopards, in last place in the Metropolitan Collegiate Baseball Conference.

In a series of defeats in the region's winning ways against Queen's in a non-league affair at Alley Pond Park today, Wagner Jared by the Leopards, the Leopards traveled to Hempstead to play Hofstra Friday and Saturday. The loss gave John H. B. State Hospital field Saturday. The latter game was the second game, the Leopards' powerful first baseman, Jim Powers, blasted a three-run homer in the first inning to pace the Seahawks' attack. The loss was Friedson's sixth of the season against one victory. City also had seven hits, but committed six errors in one for the victory. Friedson, a sophomore formerly from Monroe High School, pitched adequately once again, but his clash with Victory were held scoreless through three innings.

The winning hitter was Jim Mann, who went 3-for-5, walking once, and striking out once. To even his record at two wins and two losses.

Against Queens, the Leopards were faced with the ace of the Hotshots, Jeff Maloney. The strong performance was almost thwarted in the ninth inning. The final score was 12-2. Queen's took the third place finish in the Metropolitan Conference with a 9-3 league mark.

Hofstra also presents a formidable foe for the Leopards, at this time. The Leopards, the Long Islanders, are in second division of the league. In City's opening game, the Long Islanders won a 5-4 contest, with Jim Mann's hitting credit for the Leopards.
