Civil Liberties Union Statement Scores Administrative Council Speakers Ban, Labels Restriction ‘Clearly Erroneous’

The American Civil Liberties Union, in a statement circulated to Chancellor John R. Everett and the presidents of the City Colleges, assailed the legal opinion used by the Administrative Council in its ruling barring members of the Communist Party from speaking on the campuses of the city schools. The A.C.L.U. labeled the ban as “clearly erroneous.”

As to the Feinberg law, the union referred to another Supreme Court decision which stated that although a state may decline to employ members of the Communist Party, such persons have a right to assemble, speak, think and believe as they will.

The A.C.L.U. applauded the segment of the Administrative Council’s report which declared that it had found “no evidence to support the conclusions of the administrative council” that speech on the campuses of the city colleges was “a serious threat to the public welfare.”

In closing, the union strongly urged the Administrative Council to strip Communists of the right to be informed by the educational techniques of free speech, press, and association and to give opportunity to students to listen to and to question a person whose beliefs are opposed to those of the majority.

Pruzun Seeking Presidency In Student Council Elections

Paul Pruzun ’62, current Student Council vice president, is running uncontested for the position of next term’s Student Council president. Ken Klein ’62, treasurer of Student Council, is the single candidate for next term’s vice presidency.

Pruzun is running for the post of president of the Student Council and Class positions. He is the only candidate for the post of class president. The two vacancies in the Class of ’63 are open to all students.

Activities Coordination Board Chairman, Pfister is presently A.C.R. chairman, and the Board of Education is also a member of the Student Council.

The presence of the Student Council at the open forums was not mentioned in the letter. The council, in its reply, took “strong exception” to Ryan’s contentions. The proponents of the motion said that by inviting Ryan to speak they would continue to use the opportunity of debating controversial figures to appear at the School. The college authorities refused his permission to speak, they felt that our views against the speakers ban would be strengthened.

The Student Council, in its reply, took “strong exception” to Ryan’s contentions. The proponents of the motion said that by inviting Ryan to speak they would continue to use the opportunity of debating controversial figures to appear at the School. The college authorities refused his permission to speak, they felt that our views against the speakers ban would be strengthened.
Queens Holds President Stoke Approves Student Council to Hold Class Boycott: Administrative Council Ban Mock General Session 1,000 Picket Jobs

Correction

Volpe Describes Faulkner Attack Began is 'Great' Modern Writer By BHE Head On State Law
Letters to the Editor

Tuesday, November 21, 1961

The Speakers Ban Issue

The event was attended by the speaker audience—no more than a dozen people or so. If the conference was to be as planned, it should have been an event of a different character. The event was not as planned, and instead was an event of a different character. The event was not as planned, and instead was an event of a different character.

To the Editor of THE TICKER

Dear Editor,

I have received many letters from students concerning the Speakers Ban issue. Many of these letters express concern about the ban and its implications for the University. Some students feel that the ban is a violation of their constitutional rights and threatens academic freedom. Others believe that the ban is necessary to maintain order and prevent disruptive behavior.

The ban has been implemented as a result of a decision by the University administration. This decision was made after careful consideration of all relevant factors and in consultation with various stakeholders. It is important to note that the ban is not directed at any particular group or individual. Rather, it is intended to protect the safety and well-being of all members of the University community.

While the ban may be controversial, it is important to consider the broader implications of allowing speakers who advocate violence and disruption. The presence of such individuals on campus can have a chilling effect on academic freedom and intellectual engagement. It is essential that we maintain a safe and conducive environment for learning and discourse.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and feedback on this important issue.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Elections... Faculty Action... (Continued from Page 1)

The faculty action to reopen the Metropolitan Conference, City College, is a major step forward in the progress of the college. The faculty, in voting against the proposal to reopen the conference, is making a clear statement that the college is committed to the principle of academic freedom. This is a positive step in the direction of improving the quality of education at the college.

Rituals... (Continued from Page 3)

The ritual of the Senate is a fundamental part of the academic process. It is through the Senate that the faculty expresses its views on matters of policy and procedure. The Senate is a democratic body, and its decisions are made by a majority vote. The ritual of the Senate is an important part of the academic community, and it should be respected and upheld.

Sit-ins... (Continued from Page 5)

The sit-ins are a form of protest that has been used by students to express their views. The sit-ins are a way for students to show their discontent with the administration. The sit-ins are a form of direct action, and they are a reminder of the importance of the student voice in the academic community.

Auditor... (Continued from Page 7)

The auditor is an important member of the faculty. The auditor is responsible for ensuring that the courses offered by the college meet the standards of the university. The auditor is a trusted figure, and the faculty should continue to support the work of the auditor.

Stake Statement... (Continued from Page 8)

The stake statement is an important document that outlines the college's mission and values. The stake statement is a guide for the faculty, and it should be used to inform the decisions that are made about the college.

The TickeR... (Continued from Page 1)

The TickeR is a student newspaper that is published by the students of the college. The TickeR is an important outlet for student expression, and it should be supported by the faculty.

Elections... Faculty Action... (Continued from Page 1)

The faculty, in voting against the reopening of the Metropolitan Conference, is making a clear statement that the college is committed to the principle of academic freedom. This is a positive step in the direction of improving the quality of education at the college.

Rituals... (Continued from Page 3)

The ritual of the Senate is a fundamental part of the academic process. It is through the Senate that the faculty expresses its views on matters of policy and procedure. The Senate is a democratic body, and its decisions are made by a majority vote. The ritual of the Senate is an important part of the academic community, and it should be respected and upheld.

Sit-ins... (Continued from Page 5)

The sit-ins are a form of protest that has been used by students to express their views. The sit-ins are a way for students to show their discontent with the administration. The sit-ins are a form of direct action, and they are a reminder of the importance of the student voice in the academic community.

Auditor... (Continued from Page 7)

The auditor is an important member of the faculty. The auditor is responsible for ensuring that the courses offered by the college meet the standards of the university. The auditor is a trusted figure, and the faculty should continue to support the work of the auditor.

Stake Statement... (Continued from Page 8)

The stake statement is an important document that outlines the college's mission and values. The stake statement is a guide for the faculty, and it should be used to inform the decisions that are made about the college.

The TickeR... (Continued from Page 1)

The TickeR is a student newspaper that is published by the students of the college. The TickeR is an important outlet for student expression, and it should be supported by the faculty.
Lavender Hoop Team Lacks Height; Experience, Shooting Chief Assets

By Lee Lipsit

An air of uncertainty surrounds City College's basketball team as the Beavers prepare to open their season against Columbia Saturday, December 2.

The dubious situation is caused by the lack of height. If Coach Dave Polansky can solve this problem the Beaver cagers should have a successful campaign. On the plus side, the team has experience.

Golden, the 6-5 center of the freshman team, would replace Bender, but unfortunately Golden is ineligible.

Leading the list of returnees is senior Tor Nilsen. Tor, who has steadily improved, led last season's squad in scoring with a 14.5 average. At 6-4, Nilsen will be the Beavers' tallest starter, which emphasizes the need for additional height.

Irwin Cohen and Mike Winston, both seniors, have been elected the team co-captains. Cohen, at 6-1, has always been a hustler and an excellent rebounder for his height. Irwin averaged over seven points a game last year, but scored at a much higher pace over the last half of the season.

Winston, one of the smallest cagers at 5-8, also was an impressive figure over the last half of the season. Mike averaged seven points a game, but more important than his scoring was his ability to be the field general Polansky has needed since the graduation of Teddy Hurwitz last January.

Don Sidat, Jerry Greenberg, Billy Gjebre and Howie Wilstein are all experienced performers from last season, will return with Cohen and Winston.

Lion Tamer: Cagers aim to avenge last year's Lions defeat in their season opener against Columbia Dec. 2.

Mike Winston

which improved so much at the close of last season will return, but the noticeable absentee will be Shelley Bender, who was graduated in June. Bender, at 6-5, was the team's top rebounder and second high scorer.

It was hoped that Steve Lavender Hoop Team Lacks Height; Experience, Shooting Chief Assets

By Lee Lipsit

An air of uncertainty surrounds City College's basketball team as the Beavers prepare to open their season against Columbia Saturday, December 2.

The dubious situation is caused by the lack of height. If Coach Dave Polansky can solve this problem the Beaver cagers should have a successful campaign. On the plus side, the team has experience.

Golden, the 6-5 center of the freshman team, would replace Bender, but Unfortunately Golden is ineligible.

Leading the list of returnees is senior Tor Nilsen. Tor, who has steadily improved, led last season's squad in scoring with a 14.5 average. At 6-4, Nilsen will be the Beavers' tallest starter, which emphasizes the need for additional height.

Irwin Cohen and Mike Winston, both seniors, have been elected the team co-captains. Cohen, at 6-1, has always been a hustler and an excellent rebounder for his height. Irwin averaged over seven points a game last year, but scored at a much higher pace over the last half of the season.

Winston, one of the smallest cagers at 5-8, also was an impressive figure over the last half of the season. Mike averaged seven points a game, but more important than his scoring was his ability to be the field general Polansky has needed since the graduation of Teddy Hurwitz last January.

Don Sidat, Jerry Greenberg, Billy Gjebre and Howie Wilstein are all experienced performers from last season, will return with Cohen and Winston.

Lion Tamer: Cagers aim to avenge last year's Lions defeat in their season opener against Columbia Dec. 2.

Mike Winston

which improved so much at the close of last season will return, but the noticeable absentee will be Shelley Bender, who was graduated in June. Bender, at 6-5, was the team's top rebounder and second high scorer.

It was hoped that Steve...