Council Approves Picket to Protest Ban
If Impartial Legal Opinion Not Sought

Student Council passed a resolution, presented by Bob Brooks, corresponding secretary of Student Council, Thursday evening, to picket the Board of Higher Education office, 335 East 80 Street, Saturday at 2 in opposition to the picket ban. The motion, presented by Bob Brooks, corresponding secretary of Student Council, indicates that it will be a non-violent protest in support of the student body. The motion will be voted on at the next meeting. The Student Council is holding a special meeting today, Dr. John R. Everett, chancellor of the university, was in attendance. The meeting will be held on campus, but the location is not yet determined. The meeting will be open to the public and all members of the Student Council are encouraged to attend.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

I have been a student of the University for the past three years and have noticed a trend that I believe needs to be addressed. The current situation in which students are denied the right to publish certain opinions, even if they are not libelous, is unacceptable.

It is the responsibility of the university to ensure that students have access to a free press, which allows them to express their thoughts and ideas. This freedom of expression is essential for a healthy and engaged community.

I urge the university to reconsider its policies and ensure that students have the right to publish their opinions, regardless of their content, as long as they do not violate any legal or ethical standards.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

Friday Night!

By Bob Brooks

Student Council has been confronted with many problems recently, but one of the most pressing is the issue of the speakers' ban. The Council has been trying to come to a solution that will resolve the situation.

The speakers' ban was established to prevent the University from fulfilling its commitments to the independent opinion. It has been in effect for several years and has caused a great deal of controversy.

The Council has considered various options, including allowing the University to publish certain opinions, but this has been met with resistance from those who believe in the importance of an independent press.

The Council is currently working on a new policy that will hopefully address the concerns of both sides. We hope to have a solution in place soon.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

Speaker of the House

Student Council has scheduled a speaker of the House of Higher Education Saturday. We have stated our feelings on the speakers and even participation in the speaking of the issue if you are against the ban.

The Importance of Understanding

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

I would like to address the recent decision by the university to ban certain opinions. I believe that this is a step in the wrong direction and will hinder the progress of the university.

The university should be promoting a free and open press, where students can express their thoughts and ideas. This will only help to foster a better understanding of the world and promote a healthier community.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

Election ...
Veteran Team to Open Slate Against Lion 'Five' Saturday

By Mel Bernhardt

The experienced Beaver hoopers open their 1961-62 campaign against a young Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym. This is the annual Stein Fund contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other home games. The game starts at 8, preceded by a freshman game at 6.

Coaches from the game are used to pay for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes during the course of competition.

The Beavers have performed well in practice scrimmages, making over 50% of their shots. Dave Polansky, Beaver mentor, notes that Columbia is a well-conditioned team and athletes. Polansky's starting five will come from 6-1 Irwin Cohen, 6-2 Don Reit and 6-3 Ray Leman at forwards; 6-4 Tor Ninlson at center and 6-6 Howie Wilkes, 5-10 Jerry Grossman and 5-8 Mike Winston, at guards.

Of the above-mentioned players, Cohen is the only one without previous varsity experience.

Senior Marty Kehlheim, the only returning starter from last season's squad, which defeated St. Louis 75-67. The Lions may be characterized as a team with fair height and speed but lacking experience. Missing from last year's club are Indulis Brikmanis, Ed Auzenbergs, Billy Smith and Mike Audin. Jim Cleven, 6-4 and Roy Bubay, a 6-4 sophomore, appear set to operate from the forward spots. Jim Braun, a 6-6 junior, seems to have the inside track on the pivot position over Steve Hartman and Paul Muench, the latter man on the team at 6-7.

Students interested in seeing the game may reach the extra seats by 67th Street or the IND at 145th Street. Tickets for the game can be purchased at the gate.

Fund Buttons Now on Sale

Stein Fund buttons will be available today through Thursday. Proceeds will go to the fund which provides for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes during the course of competition.

The buttons cost twenty-five cents each.

The annual Stein Fund basketball button drive and dollar admission charge will be donated to the fund, which will be played against Columbia University (Uptown). However, admission to all other Beaver home games is free.

Billickens Dropping NCAA Finalists

The West Chester (F) 8-2 Rams upset St. Louis, 2-0, to become NCAA soccer champions Saturday on the Billickens' home field. It was the first NCAA title for the Rams, who have been playing for the past two years.

West Chester scored two goals in the final period to clinch victory and end City's season. The Rams scored 15-0. The Billickens lost their final game in extra time.

The Rams defeated St. Louis and Bridgeport to gain the final, while St. Louis vanquished Illinois-St. Louis in the semifinal for the past two years.

This marked the Rams' third consecutive appearance in the NCAA tournament. They have been playing for the past two years.
