Professor Tunick to Retire After Thirty-Year Duration

By Florence Gross

Professor Stanley B. Tunick, chairman of the School's Department of Accountancy, will retire January 1962.

Professor Tunick is both an alumnus and a faculty member of the Baruch School. He received his A.B. from the College in 1919 and a Masters of Business Administration in 1923. He has also studied law and is a Certified Public Accountant.

Professor Tunick has been with the Baruch School for over thirty years. He started as an instructor in the Evening Session in 1930. He began teaching in the Day Session in 1931 and became chairman of the department in 1936. Professor Tunick remembers the days when only about 1,750 students were enrolled and the faculty was a small, intimate group. He was the author of "Principles of Accounting," a textbook used in colleges throughout the country. He is also a contributing editor of "Prentice Hall New York Tax Course." He has been a partner in the accounting firm of Tunick and Pliskin since 1941 and will continue his participation after his retirement from the College.

Among the many honors bestowed upon Dr. Tunick is membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Beta Gamma Sigma and Beta Alpha Psi. He was also a lieutenant colonel in the Corps of Engineers and is the recipient of the Army Commendation Medal.

No Presents Please

City College students have been asked for the second straight year not to give presents to their teachers.

The basic issue is the conservation of the student's time and effort, and the teacher's time and energy. The student's need for economical expenditures and the teacher's need for educational and economic information are both considered in this decision.

The issue of presents to teachers is not a new one, but it has been brought to the forefront in recent years by the increasing cost of living and the need for more efficient use of time and resources.

The basic problem is that the student's time is limited, and the teacher's time is valuable. The student should be able to use his time for his own educational purposes, and the teacher should be able to use his time for his own professional purposes.

The solution to this problem is the development of a system of educational and economic information that is both efficient and effective. The student should be provided with the educational and economic information that he needs, and the teacher should be provided with the educational and economic information that he needs.

The system should be based on the principles of efficiency and economy. The student should be able to use his time for his own educational purposes, and the teacher should be able to use his time for his own professional purposes.

The system should be designed to meet the needs of both the student and the teacher. The student should be able to use his time for his own educational purposes, and the teacher should be able to use his time for his own professional purposes.

The system should be designed to meet the needs of both the student and the teacher. The student should be able to use his time for his own educational purposes, and the teacher should be able to use his time for his own professional purposes.

Nilsen Nets 31 in Loop Win
Over Blackbird Five, 82-76

By Harvey Pensky

Tor Nilsen tallied thirty-one points in leading the Beaver hoopers to an 82-76 Tri-State League win over Long Island University Tuesday at the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn.

This marked the first time that C.C.N.Y. defeated L.I.U., since March 28, 1942 when Nat Holman's boys scored a 42-32 triumph. In the thirty-two points.

Tor Nilsen, a r>-3 L.I.U. forward, who tallied total points was the highest of his reach. Johnson paced the Blackbirds, failing to pass and re- and went on to their second wiiv the Beaver teams saw act this weekend and all scored victories.

However, after the intermission the Beaver regained the cool poise they displayed in the Columbia tilt and went on to their second win without a loss.

In the last two minutes Nilsen scored eleven points — seven on Fouls — to insure the victory. Tor's total points was the highest of his career, topping the thirty he made against the Blackbirds last season.

However, high scoring honors went to Ed "Cornflakes" Johnson, a 6-3 L.I.U. forward, who tallied thirty-two points.

In the first half City played a skilful half, falling to pass and re-bound effectively. Only the shooting of Nilsen and Baruchian Mike Winston kept the Lavender within reach. Johnson paced the Blackbird attack, grabbing twelve rebounds in addition to getting seventeen points. The half ended with L.I.U. on top, 53-29.

However, after the intermission the Beavers regained the cool poise they displayed in the Columbia tilt and went on to their second win without a loss.
