Lane Denounces Bill For Fallout Shelters

Assemblyman Mark Lane of Manhattan called the fallout shelter bill passed by the last session of the New York State legislature the most fraudulent piece of legislation he has ever seen. He spoke on the fallout shelter controversy at a lecture sponsored by the Speakers Bureau of Student Council Thursday, December 21.

Lane revealed that the Administrative Council is now determining whether fallout shelters should be constructed at the city colleges. Under the provisions of the bill, each college must contribute half the cost of the shelters. Assemblyman Lane called this a waste of funds which are needed elsewhere.

He strongly denounced the shelter bill and Speaker of the Assembly for the fifth and sixth seat, and accused of ramming the bill through the legislature. "No public hearings were held, not a single scientist was consulted," charged Assemblyman Lane. He decried the legislation recently called a "frivolous charge to the New York State legislature. However, said Assemblyman Lane, the chairman and the chairmen of this four-man committee were appointed by Speaker Carlino. According to Lane, the committee met before the legislation was passed.

"We have the highest regard for the wisdom and the leadership shown by the men of the New York State legislature," said Lane, "but we believe that this responsibility which is given away belongs to the people of the City of New York who, as a referendum over a century ago, voted overwhelmingly in favor of extending the benefits of education gratuitously."

"The distinguished chairman of the B.E.E., Dr. Gustave Rosenberg, has stated that discretion is right to decide tuition policies was a power the board itself did not need, and, in fact, actively opposed. He has pointed out that while the present members of the board are in favor of the retention of a free-tuition policy, future appointees to the board may not be so minded," Lane added.

"We want the Governor to join us in the fight to guarantee that the gates of free higher education will never be slammed shut in the face of the newcomers of our city who depend on it most," Lane stated.

Student Council Sets Special Run-off Vote For '64 Class Seats

Student Council will hold a special run-off election today to choose two representatives from the Class of '64. The election will be held in the lobby of the Student Center from 9-3.

Gary Sperber, Zac Dyckman and Bill Bergenfeld each received 151 votes in the regular class election December 18. They are now competing for the fifth and sixth seats on Student Council from the Class of '64.

Sperber is a brother of Alpha Phi Omega, Dyckman is treasurer of Parks House and Bergenfeld is vice president of the Student Seniors organization.

Alumni Unit to Utilize Power To Obtain Free Tuition Law

The City College Alumni Association has launched plans to utilize all its powers to restore the New York State Education Law mandating provision of free tuition for City University.

Last year the state legislature amended the law and transferred tuition discretion to the Board of Higher Education. Until that time, the law mandated the City University to provide the benefits of collegiate education gratuitously.

Saul J. Lance, president of the association, which represents 61,000 alumni of the college, stated that the alumni group would open a public campaign to obtain support for the battle to plug the gap in the state education law.

Lance indicated that the Association has received an attempt may be made to secure the Board of Higher Education to abandon free tuition, by cutting or withholding state funds.

The amendment which granted the B.E.E. discretion power to impose tuition was not sought by the board and was scored by the Alumni Association.

Lance stated, "We have the highest regard for the wisdom and the leadership shown by the men of the New York State legislature, but we firmly believe that this responsibility which was given away belongs to the people of the City of New York who, as a referendum over a century ago, voted overwhelmingly in favor of extending the benefits of education gratuitously."

NSA Official Tells Council Of Interest in Programming

Tim Zagat, program vice president of the National Student Council, told Student Council Thursday, December 21, that N.S.A. has oriented itself more towards the various campuses, and is working with the various campuses. Zagat, who has been associated with the School, is the chairman of the program and the executive committee of the Student Council.

"N.S.A. is not as effective as it should be," noted Zagat, "because not enough students are taking any interest in the N.S.A. and its activities."

"There is no survival as a result of nuclear war. . . We want the Governor to join us in the fight to guarantee that the gates of free higher education will never be slammed shut in the face of the newcomers of our city who depend on it most," Lance stated.

Baruch Freshman Wins Highest Marine Award

A Baruch School Freshman has been awarded the Highest Marine Corps award presented annually to an outstanding Marine officer trainee. The award was received by Alexander Nichols, Baruch Freshman, at a ceremony held at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The Baruch Freshman was presented the Highest Marine Corps award after he completed the Baruch Freshman Marine Corps Program at the University's Marine Corps Unit. The program is designed to provide Baruch Freshmen with an understanding of the Marine Corps and its role in national defense.

Alexander Nichols, a Freshman at Baruch, was selected for the award based on his performance during the program. He was one of several Freshmen from Baruch who participated in the program, which is open to Freshmen from all colleges and universities.

The award is presented annually to the Freshman who demonstrates the highest level of leadership, scholastic achievement, and personal conduct during the Baruch Freshman Marine Corps Program. The award is considered one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a Baruch Freshman.

The award ceremony was held in conjunction with the Baruch Freshman Marine Corps Program at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The ceremony was attended by Baruch officials, including the President of the University, and the Baruch Freshman Marine Corps Program instructors.

The award is a recognition of the Baruch Freshman's leadership abilities and his commitment to the Marine Corps. It is a testament to the Baruch Freshman's dedication to military service and his commitment to excellence.

The award is a source of pride for the Baruch Freshman, his family, and the Baruch Freshman Marine Corps Program. It is a symbol of the Baruch Freshman's contributions to the Marine Corps and his commitment to serving his country.
City Takes Knights, 78-70; Good Shooting Key Factor

By Lew Lipsitz

For the second consecutive game, the City cagers put on a dazzling shooting exhibition to overcome a one point halftime deficit on their way to victory. This time the hooptiers defeated Queens, 78-70, at the loser's Fitzgerald gym.

The Beavers won their fourth game in five starts, and have now won fourteen of fifteen games from the Knights.

The Lavender were led in the second half by the shooting of juniors Don Sidat and Jerry Greenberg. This pair consistently hit long jump shots as City rocketed to a thirteen point lead, which they never relinquished.

Queen's, headed by high scorer Jeff Maloney and backcourtman Charlie Hennekens moved to a 20-15 back to regain the lead at the half. Maloney hit thirty-two points, only Hennekens could accomplish him in double figures with fourteen.

Though the Flushing team came back to regain the lead at the half, 38-37, they were showing signs of tiring since they were playing a pressing zone defense. While Maloney hit thirty-two points, only Hennekens could accompany him in double figures with thirteen. The Beaver offense was almost in perfect scoring balance as Tom Nilsen led with seventeen, Greenberg and Sidat tallied fifteen each, while co-captains Irvin Cohen and Mike Winston chipped in with fourteen and twelve, respectively.

The Beavers proved that their lack of height could be compensated for by their seemingly invincible shooting. Nilsen, Sidat and Greenberg have shown the ability to score consistently from the outside, whereas the Beavers have used the opposition's high scorer, has been hitting clutch shots late in the game, and Winston has proved to be one of the finest playmakers in the Tri-State League.
