Gallagher Urges Student Say
In Scheduling of Examinations

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher stated at a press conference for student newspapers Thursday that "students should have a say in matters that affect them.

"There is no harm in considering student opinion," he continued, "and in matters such as final exams, even curriculum changes, considerable value can be derived from it."

Dr. Gallagher made his statement when asked for his comments concerning the changes in scheduling of final examinations at the Baruch School. This term, all examinations will be given during scheduled days, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., repeated previous terms made without requesting student opinion.

Upon being informed of a petition being circulated by Student Council in an attempt to have the current schedule revoked, he said, "If the changed schedule is causing criticism, something must be done."

Dr. Gallagher spoke extensively on the Helsinki Youth Festival. He explained that students should first study what happened at previous youth festivals before considering whether to attend this one.

However, he concluded, "opportunities for unaffiliated, unattached and uncompromised students are small, and the people in control of the festival (the Soviet Union) are determined to influence whatever happens there. Thus, I would discourage any student from going."

In addition, Dr. Gallagher happily disclosed that the campaign for private funds for C.C.N.Y. is 69% ahead of last year.

Bronze Beaver Purchased
For Student Center Lobby

The beaver: Front...

By Norm Rednik

A $1,500 bronze statue of the Student Center lobby. The purchase was handled by the Student Council.

Jerry Beber, chairman of the Beaver Statue Committee, explained how the artist was chosen.

"Letters asking for ideas and bids were sent to ten major artists. The Sculpture Committee went to the most famous and the best known work is the statues of Gug­genheim and Whitney Musums and to the Museum of Modern Art. In addition, we went to the Museum of Natural History and the director of the New York City Sculpture Center. We went to the Museum and the Sculpture Center. We also went to the Curators of the Guggenheim and Whitney Musums and to the Museum of Modern Art."

The final choice for the statue was made by the Committee and the artist will be chosen. The artist's sketches for the statue were sent to the advisory board of Sigma Alpha, the student group that sponsored the project.

Jerry Beber, chairman of the Beaver Statue Committee, explained how the artist was chosen.

'The Best Way to Use Your Time'--I際

"Letters asking for ideas and bids were sent to ten major artists. The Sculpture Committee went to the most famous and the best known work is the statues of Gug­genheim and Whitney Musums and to the Museum of Modern Art. In addition, we went to the Museum of Natural History and the director of the New York City Sculpture Center. We went to the Curators of the Guggenheim and Whitney Musums and to the Museum of Modern Art."

The final choice for the statue was made by the Committee and the artist will be chosen. The artist's sketches for the statue were sent to the advisory board of Sigma Alpha, the student group that sponsored the project.
Students Give Over Hundred Pints of Blood

The British School Blood Bank

The British School Blood Bank conducted a blood drive in April, and members of the Student Council, consisting of ten students, enthusiastically participated. The drive was a success, with the Student Council reporting that over one hundred pints of blood were donated.

Display

A display featuring various costumes and props from the play "The Baruch School Blood Bank" was set up in the Student Center lobby. The display included costumes worn by the student actors and props used during the performance.

Sigma Alpha

Congratulations to the Sigma Alpha fraternity for winning the Alumni Society's Service Award.

Karis Views South Africa

As Having a 'Black' Future

By Jay Hahman

Dr. Thomas G. Kasa of the Political Science Department concluded his lecture in South Africa with this quote from Tom Mboya, a former African leader: "The future of the continent, in the rest of the world, depends upon the present. The future is not white. It is black."

The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," said Dr. Kasa. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he continued. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he added. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he concluded.

Dr. Kasa underscored the importance of education and the role of the private sector in the South African economy. He discussed the challenges faced by South Africa in the post-apartheid era and the need for reconciliation and national unity.

Eisenstein Urges Jews To Face Modern Care

By Steve Eagle

Dr. Ira Eisenstein urged Jews to face up to modern care. He discussed the importance of modern medicine and the challenges faced by Jews in the medical field.

Dr. Eisenstein described the development of modern medicine, starting with the early days of vaccination and bacteriology. He highlighted the impact of medical advancements on the Jewish community and the importance of continued education and training for medical professionals.

"The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," Dr. Kasa concluded.

Display

A display featuring various costumes and props from the play "The Baruch School Blood Bank" was set up in the Student Center lobby. The display included costumes worn by the student actors and props used during the performance.

Sigma Alpha

Congratulations to the Sigma Alpha fraternity for winning the Alumni Society's Service Award.

Karis Views South Africa

As Having a 'Black' Future

By Jay Hahman

Dr. Thomas G. Kasa of the Political Science Department concluded his lecture in South Africa with this quote from Tom Mboya, a former African leader: "The future of the continent, in the rest of the world, depends upon the present. The future is not white. It is black."

The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," said Dr. Kasa. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he continued. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he added. "The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," he concluded.

Dr. Kasa underscored the importance of education and the role of the private sector in the South African economy. He discussed the challenges faced by South Africa in the post-apartheid era and the need for reconciliation and national unity.

Eisenstein Urges Jews To Face Modern Care

By Steve Eagle

Dr. Ira Eisenstein urged Jews to face up to modern care. He discussed the importance of modern medicine and the challenges faced by Jews in the medical field.

Dr. Eisenstein described the development of modern medicine, starting with the early days of vaccination and bacteriology. He highlighted the impact of medical advancements on the Jewish community and the importance of continued education and training for medical professionals.

"The government's policies have failed, and they have created a new generation of black revolutionaries," Dr. Kasa concluded.
Letters to the Editor

In the past few weeks several noisy groups have been raised against their leaders. First, I would like to discuss the Combatant Delegates, though I think the general idea must be typewritten. This rule must go into effect again. The reason for this is that many students have revealed that students have the notion that one must read the other. We do not want a place to look up the number of words we need to write a letter. So the letter must be on one sheet of paper.

Another problem that arises concerns hand-written letters. To the Editor of the TICKER: Since the paper will be typewritten, all letters must be typewritten. This rule must go into effect again. The reason for this is that many students have revealed that students have the notion that one must read the other. We do not want a place to look up the number of words we need to write a letter. So the letter must be on one sheet of paper.

Trainees

The New York Times recently published an article about the United Nations training camp at the University of Wisconsin. The article was based on a faulty assumption.

Fellowship Available

For Berlin Studies

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to express my concern about the current state of affairs in the University of Wisconsin. The recent publication of a series of letters in THE TICKER has brought to light some disturbing trends in the administration.

First, I would like to address the issue of trainees. The article published in THE TICKER was based on a faulty assumption. The author implied that all trainees were uniformly treated and that the training process was transparent. However, recent events have shown that this is not the case. There have been instances of discrimination in the selection and treatment of trainees.

Second, the article failed to take into account the importance of the role of the trainees in the overall functioning of the United Nations. The author suggested that the trainees were merely passive observers. In reality, the trainees play an active role in the decision-making process and are instrumental in the implementation of policies.

I believe that it is important for the administration to address these issues and work towards creating a more inclusive and equitable environment for all trainees.

Yours sincerely,

[Name]

The Social Security Administration is offering job opportunities to the general public. All interested parties are encouraged to apply.

The New York Times recently published an article about the United Nations training camp at the University of Wisconsin. The article was based on a faulty assumption.

Fellowship Available

For Berlin Studies

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to express my concern about the current state of affairs in the University of Wisconsin. The recent publication of a series of letters in THE TICKER has brought to light some disturbing trends in the administration.

First, I would like to address the issue of trainees. The article published in THE TICKER was based on a faulty assumption. The author implied that all trainees were uniformly treated and that the training process was transparent. However, recent events have shown that this is not the case. There have been instances of discrimination in the selection and treatment of trainees.

Second, the article failed to take into account the importance of the role of the trainees in the overall functioning of the United Nations. The author suggested that the trainees were merely passive observers. In reality, the trainees play an active role in the decision-making process and are instrumental in the implementation of policies.

I believe that it is important for the administration to address these issues and work towards creating a more inclusive and equitable environment for all trainees.

Yours sincerely,

[Name]
Letters

Kirkland...

In the anti-poll tax protest March 17, I felt that the sympathy of the community towards international war was evident. However, at the same time American history repeated itself. It is not the first time that we have been influenced by such wars, but it will not be the last. We must be prepared to fight for our freedom and not be so easily led into becoming the aggressors.

Karis...

(Carried over from Page 5)

I am not at all impressed by the policy of separation of church and state. However, it is not the first time that I have been influenced by such arguments. I am convinced that the government should provide education for all, and not just for those who can afford it.

Eisemann...

(Continued from Page 5)

I am not sure what is the best way to proceed, but I would like to see some action taken. If we cannot solve the problem of segregation, we should at least make sure that the integration is done fairly. I am not sure what the proper solution is, but I do believe that something must be done.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of THE TICKER: After reading Norman A. Ross' article, I was impressed by his arguments. However, I am not convinced that his solution is the best one. I believe that the government should take a more active role in the integration process.

SWEET

The thought that European plan can influence the racial policy of the United States is seriously remiss in his duty to let us know that this is the case. We must continue to work towards the goal of a society in which all people are treated equally.

Washington, D.C.

Eisemann

In conclusion, I hope that the government will take action to ensure that the civil rights of all people are protected.

For The Editor of THE TICKER: I am not convinced that his solution is the best one. I believe that the government should take a more active role in the integration process.

Washington, D.C.

Eisemann
Promising Sophs, Veterans Highlight Baseball Fortunes

By Lew Lipset

Several promising sophomores and proven veterans will highlight City College's attempt to break out of its baseball doldrums when the Beavers open their campaign Saturday against Hofstra in a Metropolitan Conference game.

The Beaver nine has finished in the second division of the conference for eight consecutive seasons. In 1961 the team could only win two of twelve league contests while compiling a 2-12 overall record.

Frank Seeley, who mentored the freshman team last season, heads the varsity, succeeding Al Dibrinaudo. Seeley has the advantage of knowing much about the sophomore candidates since most of them played for him.

He also has the pleasant task of selecting his starters from a abundance of promising material. The main pitching spot on the team will go to Co-Captain Howie Friedman, a junior righthander.

Friedman, who is cited as being the leading pitcher last season, also led the team in hitting with a .368 average. He was only one game away from losing six, but his earned run average of 2.96 is more indicative of his capabilities.

Moreover, Bob Marzullo, John Lavender, and Mike Friedman, three sophomores, will team up with Paul Pathfinder and Mike Griswold to back up Friedman.

Most of the catching chores will fall on Baruchan Bari Franzo. The top hitter on the 1960 freshman team with a slugging .470 average, Franzo will be a definite asset in determining how far the Beavers can go. Dave Euc, another sophomore, will be ready to assume the catching duties if necessary.

Coach Seeley has to choose between good hitting or excellent fielding at first base. Both Ed O’Hara and Bill Trust are fighting for this position with O’Hara getting the edge in the stick department, while Trust is an excellent grounder.

In the absence of book end Francisco, a returner from last year, who will probably start at second, Ron Carbone, up from the freshman team, appears set at shortstop. Marino, who elected co-captain along with Friedman, is the first sophomore in City history to be given the post.

Art Coulloff, a fine hitter with good power and a strong arm, appears the likely starter at the “hot corner.”

The outfield positions are still up for grabs. Baruchan Artie Goldstein, Marty Antonelli, Law Bobis and John Palmare are the top contenders. Goldstein topped the 300 mark in the fall season and will probably start in left.

The Beaver schedule has been increased to twenty games, nine at “home” and eleven “away.” In addition, Brooklyn College dropped out of the Metro Conference and was replaced by Iona.

Frank Palka Fires Riflemen To NRA Sectional Conquest

By Steve Rosenblatt

The City College rifle team, led by sophomore Frank Palka, took first place in the individual and team competition at the National Rifle Association Middle Atlantic sectionals Saturday at Kings Point. The Beavers fired 1,139 out of 1,200 to lead the fifteen-team competition. The NRA declined to list the country into five parts, with the top teams from each area firing in their respective sections to determine the regional champions.

In other rifle news, the Beavers split two matches, defeating New York Community and bowing to St. Peter’s in a triangular meet Friday at St. Peter’s. The final score was St. Peter’s, 1,482; CC, 1,481; the catching duties if necessary.

The Student Athletic Association will hold its meeting Thursday at 12:30 in the Lewishohn Stadium Building.

Coach George Baron

Lacrosse Team Opens Against New Hampshire

By Jay Wellner

The City College lacrosse team opens its ten-game schedule against New Hampshire Saturday at Lewisohn Stadium. Coach George Baron’s men have sustained the loss of five starters through graduation, including brilliant Dave Boda, but are still optimistic about improving the team’s record this year.

Lacrosse, the oldest American sport, has been called the most brutal in the world. It is only organized collegiate sports where the official rules call for a doctor to be in attendance at all games.

The game is played with men on a team on a field forty yards. A ball the size of a ball but made of hard rubber. A player uses a stick, called a crosse, to transport the ball from his spot to another. The crosse is between four and six feet long and at the farther end of the ball, a strung loosely with rawhide, is like a loosely strung racket.

Lacrosse is one of the few sports played on dirt. In addition, the players run miles a day through the course of a game, which consists of four fifteen-minute periods. It combines the rough football, the movement of hockey and the teamwork of basketball.

Saturday, City lost a six-game conference game to Hofstra, 8-4, in its first meeting this spring.

Coach Baron was pleased with the Beavers’ showing.

SPORTS SHORTS

C.C.N.Y. spring sports schedules are available in 725.

City’s opening tennis match against Brooklyn Poly has been postponed. The reason: Coach Harry Karlinsky’s daughter is getting married.

Carolan Guard and Seaboard & Blade, military fraternities, will meet in basketball tomorrow at Votcheals Gym. (Uptown.)

The Student Athletic Association will hold its meeting Thursday at 12:30 in the Lewisohn Stadium Building.

Paul Lamprinos: City Pitcher Shrugs Off Injury

By Arlin Revin

Doctors have told Beaver pitcher Paul Lamprinos that the only way he can curtail his frequent injuries is by terminating his competition in track and baseball.

However, the 5-11, 140 lb. athlete says he would never think of doing such a thing. “We athletes at City College are out to prove that we are not only students,” he declared.

Be noted that Bronx High School of Science students are not supposed to be athletes, only scholars. Lamprinos asserts that he wants to “show up” the schools which grant athletic scholarships by defeating them in athletic contests.

Lamprinos feels this year’s baseball team has a good chance to do well. “We have more material, a tighter infield and have more experience than we had a year ago,” he asserts.

In addition to his baseball ability, Lamprinos is a proficient trackster. He runs in the longer distances for the track team and stands on the cross country team.

Lamprinos feels this year’s baseball team has a good chance to do well. “We have more material, a tighter infield and have more experience than we had a year ago,” he asserts.