History Head Elected

Gadol Succeeds

Dr. Joan Gadol was elected by the full-time day session instructors of the History Department at the Baruch School to replace Professor Bernard Bellush as the department's sub-chairman. Dr. Bellush is retiring from his position to teach at the Upton campus of the College.

Dr. Gadol has indicated that there will be changes in the History Department next term, but not because of her assumption of the departmental duties. In an interview, she said, "The positions of secretary and vice-president are open. There will be changes in the student council."

NSA Function Attracts 120

By Ross A. Opp

The New Student Association held its first social function of the year Friday through Sunday at Riders, Dunellen. The NSA has a membership of at least 200 students in the university, said Walter L. Wadsworth, director of the university's Student Activities Office.

The party was held to introduce the NSA to the students and to acquaint them with the various groups and activities in the University. The event was well-attended by students from the various colleges and faculties, and a large number of the students who attended the event were from the schools of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Council Committee Seek Final Examinations Aid

Student Council, driven by students who feel that the final examinations aid should be abolished, has presented a petition to the Student Council.

The petition states that the final examinations aid is not necessary and that it should be abolished. The Students Council also asked that the aid be abolished for the next academic year.

Salvation of Life Merits Legality of Wiretapping

By Ira Yellin

"Wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping are not illegal" states a new article in The Federal Bar Association's "Federal Bar," a national publication for attorneys.

The article, written by Ira Yellin, states that the legality of wiretapping is determined by the individual states. It is up to the states to decide whether or not to allow wiretapping.

The article was written to help attorneys understand the legal implications of wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping.

World Won't Survive

By Ross A. Opp

The report of the United Nations Special Commission on the Future of the World, released this week, has caused much consternation among many people. The commission, headed by Professor Paulson, who also practiced law, has produced an interesting report on the future of the world.

The report states that the world will not survive if we do not do something about the legal system. The report goes on to say that if we do not change the legal system, the world will be in danger.

The report was written to help us understand the legal system and to help us understand the future of the world.
What Does He Mean?

Why would a President of Cornell E. C. Faust have said "I do not want to unseat the operations of the Executive Council because it is my firm belief that the best thing for the students of Cornell is that they be in on the decisions that will affect them"? It seems to mean that the students are not involved in the establishment of the college. Furthermore, Faust furthered his point by saying that student involvement is the key to the future of the college.

Poor Timing

The Shah of Iran and an English vacation had already ended. John F. Kennedy and Richard Nixon were campaigning for the presidency of the United States. The state legislatures of the United States had passed bills that were apparent to be of the value of student involvement in policy-making and as students of democracy. We agree that the charter amendment that was passed by the Board of Trustees was a step forward for student involvement in policy-making. It didn't happen, you say. No group of any size would have asked for student involvement in policy-making if it had not been for the possibility of the student involvement in policy-making.

BC Game Gives City Most Wins Since '56

By Lew Lipsig

A double defeat at the hands of league-leading St. John’s Saturday demolished any hopes that City College’s baseball team had of winning the Metropolitan Conference title. The score was 2-1.

Three losses followed a 1-2 drubbing of Brooklyn Thursday at Macombs Dam Park. The three-game loss left the Redmen with a .483 record. The five wins are the most, C.C.N.Y. has compiled since 1956.

In addition, the Kingmen victory coupled with the doubleheader triumph over N.Y.U. April 13. gave the Lavernians nine games to the streak, the longest the team has had since 1963. In that year, City put together streaks of three and four straight victories.

City’s league mark is 2-4, which

Tennis Team Cops Fourth

By Ken Freeman

The City College tennis team brightened its chances for the Metropolitan Conference championship Saturday with an easy 7-2 victory over Brooklyn College. The Bears’ record is now 4-1. According to Coach Harry Karlin, “I am very optimistic. I keep winning, and we’ll have a good chance to win the title.”

In the win over the Kingsmen at the Finley Courts, City’s number one man, Karl Otto, won a hard fought match in three sets. At Loos, Ken Wunst, and Marty Delich was easily.

A new doubles combination of Otto and Wunst paced the doubles teams to victory in all three contests. Otto and Wunst, previously undefeated partners, are giving the team a much-needed force wind that prevailed during the matches.

The netmen meet a strong Queens College squad tomorrow at 3 at Finley Courts. City’s number one man, Karl Otto, won a hard fought match in three sets.

Juvonen’s Marker Enables City Stickmen to Win Third

By Jeff Palca

Ossi Juvonen’s goal in the fourth period enabled the City College lacrosse team to extend its winning streak to three Saturday at Riddock Tech of Philadelphia, 7-6, at Lewisohn Stadium. Thirty-nine penalties were called in the rough game. C.C.N.Y. now has a 3-2 record.

Juvonen’s first goal of the game gave City a 6-5 lead late in the third period. A few minutes later, a Drexel goal was disallowed when Juvonen committed a foul a few seconds before the goal.

Drexel tied the score in the fourth period, but Juvonen gave City the victory by scoring his second goal of the game. Juvonen’s goals were his first two of the season.

City was never behind in the game. At the end of the third period, the Lancers were hampered by injuries. At one time, the Drexel bench was stripped of all but one player.

Winebrenner, the Lancers’ leading scorer, had to return to the bench after a trip to the penalty box. The Lancers had 24 penalties.

At the Queens-Iona Relays Saturday at Randalls Island, Mihattan was the victor with four points. The Beavers, appearing stiff opposition from several eastern schools, finished deadlocked for last with Iona. Each team had a point. This was the sprint medley. Bill Casey, Norm Jackzaan, and Lenny Zane led the team to a fifth place finish. The Lancers were hampered by injuries.

End of the Season

In 1946 Charlie Versenuaren was a pitcher for Manhattan College. During one game Charlie wound up, delivered, snapped off a curve ball—and broke his arm. No record exists regarding the result of the pitch. But one thing is certain: it was the last pitch Charlie made that season.

Friedman: ‘I Was Very Lucky’

By Steve Rosenblatt

Last season the Beaver baseball team’s opening game was played against Holstra in Hempstead on a cold, windy, and overcast day. It was here that southpaw Howie Friedman pitched his way into the C.C.N.Y. record book by fanning seventeen batters in a 7-1 victory. However, Friedman does not take credit for the performance, which is his greatest thrill. "I was just lucky," he said. "The weather was in my favor and the batters were swinging at all my pitches."

Although Howie had a lifetime 3.2-12 record before this season, his victories accounted for five of the first five against City’s win during his years on the varsity. He pitched mostly Metropolitan and 7-3 games, against some of the best teams in the country.

Howie Friedman

In his sophomore year, Friedman earned a spot on the Metropolitan Conference all-star team. He led the league in innings pitched and compiled a respectable 2.95 earned run average.

However, because of poor hitting and fielding support, Friedman said: “I had won fourteen games. It was my duty to limit my opponents to no runs.”

Friedman, a physical education major, does not think he has improved during his college career. “I haven’t had a chance to play sandlot ball for the past three summers and the college season is not long enough to hit the real numbers.”

Just as you feel that you are finally getting into shape, the season is over and it’s time to go for the next one.”

Friedman pitched at James Monroe High School where he compiled a 9-6 mark in his senior year. As a college freshman, he worked as a newspaper sports reporter.

A Hazard of the Game

Lacrosse is rugged. It combines the stamina of soccer, and the bruising action of football. Injuries can be serious; however, minor scrapes are the usual result, such as those to the face by Harvey Lookabill (right). He is treated for these injuries by trainer J. W. Martin at the recent game against West Point.

Lesibach, a strong defender, attended Monroe High School. He is tough, has good speed and stick handling ability.
