The composite score required for admission to the Baruch School was increased this Spring by two points. The Uptown Center’s entrance standard was raised by six points. In various aspects of college life, such as the role and responsibility of the student, the correct way

BHE Ruling: General Fee Raised as Costs Rise

As a result of a Board of Higher Education action last December, the general Fee at the Baruch School was raised by two dollars. The increased fee became effective during the Summer ‘63 term.

Dean Emanuel Saxe, citing figures supplied by college business manager Aaron Zweifach, said that the fee increase was "reasonable." Mr. Zweifach’s letter to the Dean regarding the raise indicated that one-half of the two dollar increase would be used to aid the library, which previously received two dollars from the general fee. Dean Saxe added that the library supplies many services other than the lending and storage of books. These include book binding, reading lists, and an audio-visual division.

The other dollar of the fee increase will be used to pay additional sums to the manufacturers and processors of diplomas, identification cards, and other goods and services used by the College.

Dean Emanuel Saxe

A "reasonable" fee

The Dean noted that costs for non-matriculated students have increased greatly during the last few years. For example, a "proper thing to expect," he added. He noted that the increase in fees could be no way compared with an imposition of tuition, and that increases in student fees have been few, and all for legitimate purposes.

The new schedule of student fees at the Baruch School consists of $50, for the General Fee; $2.00, for the Athletic Fee; $5.00, for the Student Center Fee, $5.00, for the University. The state then raised the tuition for the Mitchell Bill from $200 to $300 per semester. In addition, the College has now raised the tuition from $5.00 to $10.00 per semester.

Dean Saxe indicated that all fees received by the College have been used wisely, and, he added, since students' determinations how the Student Activities Fee is used, the student body should not have complaints about these funds.

Tuition for students who live out of the city was also increased. Formally, provisions of the Mitchell Bill set the tuition rate at $350 per semester. Recently, however, a $200 tuition charge per semester was imposed at colleges in the State University. The state then raised the tuition for the Mitchell Bill to $450 per semester.

Dr. Albert H. Bowker of Stanford University has been appointed chancellor of the City University by the Board of Higher Education. The July selection ended a thirteen month search for a replacement for Dr. John R. Everett. The forty-three year old Bowker was dean of the Graduate Division of Stanford since 1965, supervising over 1,200 graduate students. He will assume his new role on October 1.

Frost Colloquium A Success?

Ask Neophytes And Leaders

This is great. I never guessed college classes would be so interesting.

The above reaction was received by a freshman who had just attended his first Frosh Colloquium meeting. The meeting was held at the Faculty Lounge on the ninth floor. The following is a summary of the discussion that took place.

The Frosh Colloquium is a student organization that was formed last fall by a group of freshmen who felt that the freshmen should have a voice in the decision-making process of the University. The group was composed of four members, two males and two females. The members are all upperclassmen who are majoring in economics.

The Frosh Colloquium met for the first time on Monday, October 20, at 5:00 p.m. in the faculty lounge on the ninth floor. The meeting was attended by a total of twelve students, including nine freshmen and three upperclassmen.

The meeting began with a discussion of the trip to the Forest Hills Racetrack. The group decided that the trip should be held on a Saturday morning and that the cost should be fifteen cents per person.

The next item of business was the question of the possibility of having a Frosh Colloquium on the third floor. The group decided that a Frosh Colloquium on the third floor would be a good idea because it would give the freshmen a chance to meet and socialize with each other.

The final item of business was the question of whether or not the Frosh Colloquium should have a newsletter. The group decided that a newsletter would be a good idea because it would allow the freshmen to keep up with what was happening in the Frosh Colloquium.

The Frosh Colloquium is a new and unique organization that is designed to give the freshmen a voice in the decision-making process of the University. The group is composed of four members, two males and two females, and all of them are upperclassmen majoring in economics.

MISSISSIPPIAN MEREDITH HOPEFUL FOR US FUTURE

After receiving a stirring reception at the National Student Congress on March 30, James H. Meredith's friends and admirers are looking forward to the end of a long struggle for the future. The University of Mississippi in the past year has been the object of national attention. Meredith himself was not present at the Congress, but his friends were present to accept the praise and support of the delegates.

The thirty-year-old Air Force Reserve officer, a graduate of the University of Mississippi, was re-elected president of the National Student Association for a second term. He will be a guest speaker at the Sixteenth Session of the Congress, which will be held in Indiana University.

During the Congress, the delegates passed a resolution expressing support for Meredith and his anti-segregation activities. The resolution stated that the delegates were "deeply impressed with the integrity and courage of this young man and we commend him for his unswerving stand against discrimination and segregation."

The President Speaks:

Signs of Change

By MARK GRANT

Sizable signs of change herald a new era for the world of law. It is one of the most dynamic and fast-paced fields today. Students have had to meet the highest entrance requirements, and the result has been a decrease in the number of students. This decrease is due in part to the fact that the entrance requirements are higher than ever before.

The sound is the hardest and most unusual sound in the animal kingdom. It is not uncommon to hear a sound like this in the wild. The sound is produced by the animal's vocal cords, which vibrate rapidly. This vibration is then transmitted through the animal's body to create the sound. The sound is typically produced as a warning to other animals, or to signal the animal's presence.

In order to ensure that the students are well-prepared for the challenges of the modern legal world, it is essential that they have a sound understanding of the law. This can be achieved through a combination of theoretical and practical teaching methods.

Civil Rights

Although many students are aware of how profitable and important the struggle for civil rights is, few have ever attempted to join a demonstration. A social science major said:

"I don't think that I would ever want to go out on the streets to protest. I don't feel that that's the way to get people to change their minds."

A senior from Texas A&M declared:

"I think that people should be more willing to participate in demonstrations. It's their right to be heard, and if they don't participate, they're not going to get their voices heard."

Another senior from North Carolina stated:

"I think that people should participate in demonstrations. It's their right to express their opinions, and if they don't participate, they're not going to get their voices heard."

A REVIEW OF HISTORY and the rise and fall of the tick...
Karlin Assesses Soccersmen: 'Stronger Than Last Season'

Although more than half of the 1962 C.C.N.Y. soccer team is not returning, Coach Harry Karlin optimistically says that "We'll be stronger than last season."

Last year was the poorest for City since 1949 as the team compiled a 2-6-2 overall record. In Metropolitan Conference play the Beavers finished in a tie for sixth place with a 2-4-2 mark. This is considerably off the 1961 pace which saw the Beavers tie for the league crown.

Karlin is smiling even though his entire front line is either ineligible or has been graduated. Leading scorer Jim Martino, who was one of the team's twelve goals, is among the missing.

The coach feels that players form the back will be the strongest. Only halfback Wolfgang Scherer and fullback Noel Aron are missing. Leading the veterans are Tom Sieberg and Neville Parker.

The schedule includes some of the toughest teams in the area. Bridgeport and N.Y.C., non-league foes, have made the N.C.A.A. playoffs, and Long Island University.

Didyk, Zane Will Pace City College Harriers

Mike Didyk and Lenny Zane will set the pace for Coach Francisco Castro's harriers on opening day October 5 when the cross country team meets Adelphi at Van Cortlandt Park.

The return of such proven veterans as Didyk and Zane foster the Beavers hopes of an even better record than last season's 10-1. The only loss was to Fairleigh Dickinson. The five mile mark was topped by Didyk (27:19) in the Coliseum Track Conference Championships. The four mile record was also set by Mike (21:48) in the Junior Met Championship.

Leo Klauber '23:
Owes An Eternal Debt to CCNY

"I deserve little from City College, because I owe it so much." With this simple—yet meaningful—remark, Leo Klauber '23 accepted the Mark Asa Abbott Memorial Award as the alumni athlete who has most elevated the program of the Alumni Varsity Association. The presentation was made May 16 at All-Sports Night.

Klauber, now a lawyer, played varsity basketball from 1921 to 1925. He served as President of the Alumni Varsity Association from 1925 until 1953.

In an interview Thursday, Klauber reaffirmed his affection to Alma Mater. "I owe an eternal debt to City College. Here I learned my philosophy of life. It was not only from my textbooks, but from this (Continued on Page 11)"
