Dr. Gallagher Challenged

"Yes," shouted Professor Harry Leffert of the Uptown English Department in answering President Gallagher's question of "is there someone somewhere in the College who sees his section size grow...?"

President Gallagher continued: does he believe that the administration is trying to grind a maximum production of credits out of him, and his only protection is the labor-union psychology with which he is associated? He would not "bash-out" again. He is a professor. He reverted to his role as educator and replied, "I have been a professor for thirty-five years. I don't think you have a right to ask me to say such things about the labor movement."

All eyes turned to Professor Levito as he continued his attack on the administration and the union. "We have had no major strike in the last thirty-five years. I am certain that the New Administration will continue to do as we requested."

Mrs. Roosevelt Honored by JFK; Levy to Attend

Dr. Gottschall hopes to remain active in alumni and college affairs. "Our students are wonderful," Dr. Gottschall pronounced, "and they have made the College what it is today."

The president revealed that "if we had more of the 'Orator of the Federation of Teachers' here, they would have been paying for the proposed change."

With the new graduate program that Dr. Gottschall hopes to establish, the undergraduate division of the College lacks about 200 teachers, he declared. "Our students are wonderful. They are getting the best education," he concluded by stating, "And they are the only goal of the College."

President Gallagher stated that the anticipated enrollment can be accommodated by expanding the weekly class schedule, including more lecture hours. "The system will be extended wherever permissible."

"As a matter of fact," the dean continued, "they would not be capabere of holding many more students from minority groups to gain admittance."

"Our students are wonderful. They are getting the best education," Dr. Gottschall continued. "There is a need for more classroom use."

"No matter who we set to replace Dean Morton Gottschall, no one will be able to take his place," exclaimed President Buell G. Gallagher. "You cannot find a man to fill the shoes of a man who is as dedicated to the College as Dr. Gottschall."

Dr. Gottschall, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Science, will retire September 1, 1964, a month before the mandatory retirement age of seventy.

The College is now conducting a nationwide search for a successor to Dr. Gottschall, who has been associated with the College for fifty-seven years.

Dean Morton Gottschall has served admirably and has been an officer of the Centennial Fund and the City College Fund since their inception.

After attending Townsend Harris High School, he entered City College in 1919. He maintained one of the highest academic averages ever recorded at the College and received a Bachelor of Arts degree. He also received a master's degree from New York University, earning a doctorate in jurisprudence, he tutored in the History Department at City College.

A strong supporter of free tuition for the city colleges, he advocated the necessity for such free institutions "as a symbol of the American dream of equality of opportunity." Free higher education is not only a tradition," he believes, "it is a value which still holds its place in the complex world of today."

Dr. Gottschall hopes to remain active in alumni and college affairs after his retirement.

Dr. Gottschall's advice was Dr. Jonas Salk and dramatist Paddy Chayefsky. "During his thirty-one years..."

Prescribed Course Grades Show Marked Improvement

By MICHAEL ORTIZ

Overall grades in prescribed courses for the current term show a marked improvement from the previous term, according to the most recent figures released by the Office of the Registrar. The figures for the term ending June 30 show an 11.0 percent "A" and 2.8 percent "B" mark rate.

The figures show a marked improvement over the previous term, when the 11.0 percent "A" and 2.8 percent "B" mark rate were recorded. The improvement is attributed to the increased number of students enrolled in the prescribed courses, and to the increased number of students earning high grades.

In presenting the United States National Student Association plan for your consideration, I think it would be very profitable to your constituents to know how the association stands on the question of academic standards and the place in your college of the nontraditional student.

N.S.A. is a national student organization, and in the interests of the United States National Student Association, the organizing principle is that our student group's only existing body must be the American people. This is a declaration to which every student must subscribe. In other words, all students must subscribe to the American way of life, to American education, to American society. This is a declaration that is a part of out membership. If N.S.A. is to be a national student association, it is an association that must be open to all students. It is an association that is the only way to make American colleges and universities free and democratic.

Soccer Men Edge Post on Goal by Soas

Sophomores Excel In Opening Tilt

By JOSEPH TRAUM

Cliff Soas scored with less than three minutes remaining in the second period to enable the City College soccer team to defeat C. W. Post, 1-0, in the season's opener Saturday at Greene Ave, N.Y. It was the first meeting between the schools. Soas, a sophomore, tallied the tie breaker with a hard shot from fifty-four feet out. It was his second goal of the season.

Another sophomore, Tony Zaiderman, collected the City College edge stood through the second period, which became a defensive struggle. However, early in the first period, Soas's all-American candidate, Mike Schirmer, dribbled the length of the field. At the last moment, he passed to left fullback Paul Boudant, who returned for the score.

Another key man was Chris Lamprinos, who started the game with a powerful drive from the center of the field. In the first half, he passed to teammate Paul Lamprinos, who scored the goal. Lamprinos, a two-year varsity player, is one of the key men on the team.

The game was played in front of a large crowd of spectators on the side. The score was 1-0 in favor of the City College team.

St. John's Defeats Beavers With Two Shutouts, 2-0, 11-0

By STEVE SCHERR

St. John's University blanked an inept-fielding Beaver nine, 11-0, and 2-0, in an exhibition doubleheader Saturday at Van Cortlandt Park. The first was the first meet of the season for both teams.

Leading the field was Lenny Zane with a 28:38 for the five-mile course. Other good times were posted by the Casey boys, Bill and Bob. Bill ran the distance in 29:39 and Bob finished just four seconds over thirty minutes.

But the Beavers are still not ready to give up. Johnson's shot had beaten the score. The team took the lead in the first period and held it for the rest of the game.

CCNY Annihilates Adelphi; Zane Finishes in Top Spot

By MARK CHERNOFF

The Lavender barometers, without the services of Mike Diedy and John Bourne, captured nine of the first ten places in a dual meet Saturday at Van Cortlandt Park. Zane was the first meet of the season for both teams.

The Beavers are still not ready to give up. Johnson's shot had beaten the score. The team took the lead in the first period and held it for the rest of the game.
