School Plans Convoation For Baruch

To pay tribute to Bernard M. Baruch as one of the College's most distinguished alumni, a convocation will be held at the City University of New York. It will be held Tuesday, November 16, at 10:30 in the School Auditorium. The ceremony in his honor will be in the presence of the students, guest speaker will be Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, and Dr. Albert H. Bowker, chancellor of the City University.

Also expected to attend are Paul G. Hoffman, and Frank Pecor, the Law School's outstanding lecturer in Baruch in 1964. He himself gave the first lecture in the series of the City College. It was renamed in the name of Mr. Bowker at a convocation, October 8, 1964.

Also to this School that Mr. Baruch left the majority of his fortune that he accumulated during his lifetime. He bequeathed over $1.76 million to be used primarily for graduate and undergraduate scholarships. He also provided for the establishment of the Albert H. Bowker Endowment Fund, with the interest from the endowment to be used for support of the School of Business and Public Affairs.

Record Budget Proposed; Construction Plan Slated

A record capital budget of $86,078,242 for the City University of New York for 1966-67 was presented Thursday to the City Planning Commission by Dr. Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, and Dr. Albert H. Bowker, chancellor of the City University.

Dr. Rosenberg said the request was "the last but that it was used in every way possible." "To our considerable advantage," he said, "it represents a minimum of monies needed to carry out the city's commitment to higher education."

Survey To Be Taken Of Baruchians' Views

Plans are going forward for a School-wide survey to determine student grievances, to be completed before the December 4 "talk-out." The survey will be conducted by a special Student Council committee, chaired by Treasurer Norman Lipton, '67.

Although all the details have not yet been worked out, Mr. Lipton said the questions will be very general, so as to not to limit the student in his response or impose our own (the committee members') biases on the student.

Instructors in the Statistics and Psychology Departments and a member of the Marketing Department, skilled in market research, will help to formulate the questionnaire. In order to reach as many students as possible, the Inter-Fraternity Council and House Plan Association will be requested to assist in the survey's distribution.

Mr. Lipton will also ask Associate Dean of Students David Newton to invite one or more members of the Student Council committee to attend the "talk-out." The survey will be conducted by Mrs. T.aura Farrar.

Baruch School of Business & Public Affairs

The statistics Society has also agreed to aid in processing the survey.

The "talk-out" will be attended by students and faculty as well as the members of the Ad Hoc Committee chaired by Treasurer Norman Lipton, '67, and the Class of '67 was the first in which small classes were used.
Civil Liberties Union Seeks Libel Reversal

The American Civil Liberties Union is asking the United States District Court to review the conviction of Bernard Baruch on charges of libel against a Vietcong leader.

The suit was filed on October 20, 1965, by the ACLU, which represents the Baruch family in the case. The ACLU contends that the conviction was based on a failure to prove that the statements were made with knowledge of their untruthfulness.

The ACLU argues that the evidence presented at trial was insufficient to support the conviction. It contends that the prosecution failed to prove that the statements were made with knowledge of their untruthfulness.

The ACLU further asserts that the conviction was based on a failure to prove that the statements were made with knowledge of their untruthfulness.

New York's Problems Seen As Related To Nationalism

It is impossible to discuss the problems of New York City without reference to those problems which affect the nation as a whole.

This was the theme stressed by Mayor John V. Lindsay (D), at a panel discussion Thursday at the university, in which there were panelists from New York City, the state and the nation.

The panelists included: Dr. John W. Gardner, president of The Rockefeller Foundation; Mr. Seymour Syna, president of the New York State Bar Association; Mr. Paul Crasner, director of the Center for Constitutional Rights; and Mr. Robert Seiffert, editor of the New York Times.

The panelists discussed issues such as the role of the government, the role of the media, and the role of the community in addressing the problems of New York City.

Professor Aaron Levenstein, who heads the American Studies Department at City College, said that the problems of New York City are related to the problems of the nation as a whole.

"The problems of New York City are a reflection of the problems of the nation," Professor Levenstein said. "We cannot address the problems of New York City without also addressing the problems of the nation."
Cafeteria

There have been many complaints about the hot food served in the Cafeteria. We want to bring to the attention of the Management that the hot food served in the Cafeteria is not hot enough. Many students have told us that the food that is served to them is not hot and it is very difficult to eat. The students have requested that the Management take steps to improve the temperature of the food served.

Student Leaders to Meet with Ranhan As Part of Operation Re-Open'7 Project

Arrangements are being made for Student Leaders to meet with Professor Ranhan as part of the Operation Re-Open'7 Project. The purpose of these meetings is to discuss and explore possible solutions to the problems that students have been facing. The meetings will be held in the next few weeks.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TICKER

The following letter was written by a student who is concerned about the quality of food served in the Cafeteria.

To the Editor of THE TICKER

Regarding the issue of the Cafeteria's food quality, I would like to address the following concerns:

1. The food is not hot enough, making it difficult to eat.
2. The variety of menu options is limited and unappealing.
3. The service is slow and inefficient.
4. The cleanliness of the cafeteria and its surrounding areas needs improvement.

These concerns have been raised by many students, and I urge the Administration to take immediate action to address them. We, as students, are demanding better service and a higher standard of food quality.

Corruption in the Curriculum Reform

Many students are concerned about the quality of the curriculum reform process. It is important to ensure that the changes made are beneficial and meet the needs of all students. The process should be transparent and involve all stakeholders.

Operation Re-Open'7

The operation Re-Open'7 is an initiative aimed at reopening the campus after a period of closure. It involves various aspects, such as improvements in facilities, addressing student concerns, and ensuring a safe environment.

Teachers' Strike

Many teachers are involved in a strike, and their continued absence is causing delays in the academic schedule. It is crucial to address their concerns and facilitate a resolution to ensure the continuity of education.

Free Tuition Debate

The debate over free tuition continues to gain momentum. There are arguments on both sides, and it is important to consider the implications and the feasibility of such a policy.

---

Student Life

The Student Life page covers various aspects of student life, including events, activities, and opportunities for students to engage and participate in the campus community.
Budget

The student budget board of the National Student Government requested and $50,000 allotment for the Archistruction. Six hundred thousand dollars was allotted to the project, which is in the planning stage or in the twenty-six projects that are being considered for the construction.

Xenia Nasiloff, a member of the student council, wishes to congratulate her classmate, Judy Kreuter, for her efforts in planning the construction. "We can't house students in the existing dormitories," she said, "so we must make arrangements for the new facilities."

Hot Food Criticized

Student complaints about the food in the cafeteria, which was previously identified as a problem, continue to be heard. One student said, "It would be nice to have more variety and to try new foods."

Letters

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation for the letter written by Mr. Cassidy regarding the soccer game. His viewpoint is something that I agree with, and I hope that the students will take it into consideration when planning future games.

PAUL ZAMETT (Continued from Page 8)

The soccer players are working hard, and I believe that they will be successful in the upcoming season.

City Booters Clip Adelphi Panthers

By WARREN HALM

In a game complete with thrills and comic relief, the City College booters squeaked past the Adelphi Panthers last Saturday at Garden City.

The score was 3-2 in favor of the Beavers, who were without two of their regular players. The Panthers were led by star running back, Walter Kopecky, who scored both of Adelphi's touchdowns.

The Beavers took control of the game in the second quarter, when they drove up the field for the winning touchdown. The Panthers did not score again until the last play of the game, when they relied on a punt return for a touchdown.

City College, led by the impressive running of Cliff Soas, is expected to continue their winning streak.
