Letters On Evaluation

SC Praises Solution To Evaluation Crisis

Student Council, in a five-hour meeting Thursday, passed a motion praising the administration's handling of the controversy provoked by the publication of a faculty evaluation in The Ticker. The motion, which was adopted unanimously, praised the administration's handling of the controversy and praised The Ticker for its handling of the controversy.

Dr. Gallagher Scores Draft

President Roell G. Gallagher has urged that a student, with a possibility of 0.5, be the only criterion used to decide which students should be drafted. In a telegram to Congressmen, Dr. Gallagher said that it would be unfair to make all students subject to the possibility of being drafted into the Army without being given a fair chance to demonstrate their inability to meet the requirements of the draft.

March to Dramatize CUNY Need of Funds

City University students will lead a "March on Albany" in the coming week to dramatize the need for increased state aid to the university.

TA Authorizes Publication After Delay of One Week

The Ticker resumed publication today after its editors admitted that they had caused "unwarranted damage" to faculty members and the school by publishing a teacher evaluation three weeks ago.

Text of Ticker's Statement On Its Faculty Evaluation

The statement printed below is a copy of the statement that appeared in the January 30, 1970, edition of The Ticker. The statement was signed by all members of the editorial board.

"We, the editors of The Ticker, hereby retract the evaluation of Professor X. We apologize for any damage caused to the reputation of Professor X and to the university.

We take full responsibility for any error in the evaluation and are committed to ensuring that such errors do not occur in the future.

We appeal to the students and faculty of The City University to support us in our efforts to improve the quality of our reporting and to maintain our commitment to responsible journalism."

Magazine Is Planned for Near Future

STEVE GRODIN
Assistant Vice President for Student Life

A Time for Change

As much as we might like to stand off and let our students in the School of School do as they please, we can no longer sit back and watch the conditions of the School in such a way that this will mean an end to the Ticker.

We realize that we cannot prevent the rise of some foolishness that might endanger the School. We can, however, say that in the past the Ticker has editorialized in favor of the School and the students and the faculty and the administration in such a way that we believe is in the best possible interests of the School.

The Ticker, therefore, must assume that it has been in the best possible interest of the School in the past to editorialize in such a way that it has been in the best possible interest of the School to editorialize in the future. The Ticker, therefore, must assume that it has been in the past and will be in the future in the best possible interest of the School to editorialize in such a way that it will be in the best possible interest of the School to editorialize in the future.
