Lipton Resigns Post as Council President To Devote Time to Free Tuition Campaign

March Held On Albany

By LAWRENCE S. LEVITAS Special to The Ticker

Albany, March 22—Seventy students and faculty members representing the Baruch School marched here today in a demonstration to convince Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and the Legislature to maintain a policy of freedom and student autonomy for the City University.

Norman Lipton '67, who resigned last week as Student Council's president in order to, among other things, devote more time to the free tuition drive, was a co-organizer of the march along with Mark Lipton,(body, at each individual of the Uptown campus newspaper, Observation Post.

Ronald Schoenberg '67, Council's new president, added: "Although our turnout wasn't large in terms of numbers, our School did better than any other in C.U.N.Y. on a percentage basis.

The participating members of the faculty were Associated Dean Lipton, asst. dean Lipton, and John Lewis.

Fees Ruling Is SFCSA's

The ruling under which the School's Human Rights Movement is being denied student fees now appears to be finally made by the School's Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities rather than by the College's General Faculty.

The club, which admits to being a "social action" group, was informed this semester by the Department of Student Life that it could not use student money under a ruling prohibiting the allocation of funds to religious, political, and social action groups.

The club was also told that the time that the prohibition was put into effect in 1959 by the General Faculty, consisting of representatives of the faculties of all the schools in the City College.

Duffy McGinty, a student member who preferred not to be named last week that the original ruling, promulgated in January 1964, was adopted in May of the same year and it was left to the discretion of the appropriate dean of each school whether or not to impose the prohibition. This body at the Baruch School is SFCSA.

This statement followed a denial by Dr. James Peace, associate dean (Continued on Page 6)
Hackensack, New Jersey. Will the students be "allowed to remain in the school if their conduct is a menace to the peace and good order of the school?"

Mr. David Dreifus, chairman of the Educational Affairs Committee, announced last week that the Council would not consider the "faculty member in the School has been members of the committee, as well as the students, being present in consideration of their testimony to the consideration of their testimony to the faculty evaluation has been completed."

Dr. Harry Gideon has confirmed his retirement as president of Brooklyn College, effective this month. He is the second president of a city college to announce his retirement this month.

The students will be elected to the faculty and the faculty will have the right to make any change in the course of instruction or in the curriculum. This would include such changes as the addition of new courses, the elimination of old courses, or any other changes that would be in the best interest of the students.

The action of the Council would be subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will consider the action of the Council at its next meeting.

The Council acted on a motion to accept the resignation of Dr. Harry Gideon as president of Brooklyn College, effective this month. The action of the Council was unanimous. The resignation of Dr. Gideon was accepted by the Board of Trustees, and the Board has appointed Mr. David Dreifus as acting president of Brooklyn College until a new president can be found.

The motion to accept the resignation of Dr. Gideon was made by Mr. Edward Kohn, chairman of the Educational Affairs Committee, and seconded by Mr. David Neumann, dean of the faculty. The motion was approved by a vote of 13 to 0.

The resignation of Dr. Gideon was accepted by the Board of Trustees, and the Board has appointed Mr. David Dreifus as acting president of Brooklyn College until a new president can be found.

The action of the Council was unanimous. The resignation of Dr. Gideon was accepted by the Board of Trustees, and the Board has appointed Mr. David Dreifus as acting president of Brooklyn College until a new president can be found.
Mr. Lipton's Resignation

Norman Lipton's issues of office as Student Council president were brief—but it was probably the right decision, considering the present atmosphere at City College and the quality of the Student Council. In the six months he has been president, he has tried valiantly to achieve three objectives.

One of these objectives is to implement the college's bylaws and to increase efficiency. To this end, he has met with success in his efforts to establish some form of administrative authority and to improve the effectiveness of the decision-making process. However, the other two objectives, which are more relevant to the present atmosphere, have met with less success.

Mr. Lipton has attempted to establish a Student-Council-run dormitory. However, this plan has been met with considerable resistance from the administration and faculty, who have expressed concern about the possible damage to the university's image if such a project were to be undertaken. Mr. Lipton has also attempted to establish a citywide student-run school. This plan has also encountered resistance from the administration and faculty, who have expressed concern about the possible loss of control over the university's educational policies.

In conclusion, Mr. Lipton's period of office has been marked by a struggle to establish a voice for the student body. While some success has been achieved, it is clear that more work is needed to achieve the objectives that he set out to achieve.

The Administration's Reaction to Student Demands

The administration's reaction to student demands has been characterized by a lack of communication and a failure to understand the students' concerns. This has led to a deterioration of the relationship between the administration and the student body, and has created a climate of mistrust and suspicion.

In conclusion, the administration's reaction to student demands has been characterized by a lack of communication and a failure to understand the students' concerns. This has led to a deterioration of the relationship between the administration and the student body, and has created a climate of mistrust and suspicion.

The Future of the Student Council

The future of the Student Council is uncertain. While some students have expressed a desire to see it continue, others have called for its abolition. It is clear that a new approach is needed to address the problems facing the Student Council.

In conclusion, the future of the Student Council is uncertain. While some students have expressed a desire to see it continue, others have called for its abolition. It is clear that a new approach is needed to address the problems facing the Student Council.
Students Fees Ruling Now Linked to SFCSA

(Continued from Page 1) Don't forget that the present rule is based on the principle that the University, as a public institution, must be fair to all students. The SFCSA action now appears to take on more significance, from the $5 Student Activities Fee which his department must enforce, to the $23 Bursar's Fee included in the $23 Bursar's Fee evaluation program.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were rejected in the last meeting.

Record Is Set At USMMA

(Continued from Page 2) The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

On April 20th, a Student Council meeting was held at the University. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

CHAIM GROSS

Call for a model for renowned American sculptor, who will demonstrate his art

At Hillel
144 E. 24 St.
March 24, 12:30

The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

On April 20th, a Student Council meeting was held at the University. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

CHAIM GROSS

Call for a model for renowned American sculptor, who will demonstrate his art

At Hillel
144 E. 24 St.
March 24, 12:30

The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

On April 20th, a Student Council meeting was held at the University. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

CHAIM GROSS

Call for a model for renowned American sculptor, who will demonstrate his art

At Hillel
144 E. 24 St.
March 24, 12:30

The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

On April 20th, a Student Council meeting was held at the University. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

CHAIM GROSS

Call for a model for renowned American sculptor, who will demonstrate his art

At Hillel
144 E. 24 St.
March 24, 12:30

The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

On April 20th, a Student Council meeting was held at the University. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

In previous semesters, the Council and some of the Department have been working to find solutions to the problem. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.

CHAIM GROSS

Call for a model for renowned American sculptor, who will demonstrate his art

At Hillel
144 E. 24 St.
March 24, 12:30

The proposals were recently presented to the U.S. Maritime Administration (USMMA) for the purpose of improving the course of study. The proposals were, rejected in the last meeting.
City Avoids Nationals NCAA Ruling is Cited

NOT THIS YEAR: A Beaver swordsman is seen fencing in the sabre contest at the Sabre Championships when City “finished ninth.”

The City College fencing team will not compete in the National Championships which are scheduled for this weekend. The surprise move was announced by the College’s Athletic Association, 160 West 133rd St., the body that is responsible for organizing the College’s athletic programs.

This action stems from a recent National Collegiate Athletic Association decision which set a standard of 8.0 average and five members to be eligible for a national championship. The College’s team fell short of the standard.

City requires its athletes to maintain at least a 2.0 (C average) in order to be eligible for athletic contests. Earlier this year the College signed the NCAA ruling, but this becomes apparent that no members of the Inter-collegiate Fencing Association will participate in the National Championships.

The first group to oppose the ruling was the Ivy League. They believe that the NCAA is going into territory where it does not belong. Although these schools maintain rigid academic requirements for their athletes, they wish to maintain the right to set their own standards and refuse to delegate this power to the NCAA.

Sharply after the Ivy group announced its decision, the City College administration, which had previously opposed the NCAA’s ruling, announced its intention to withdraw from the National Championships, which will be held at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, this weekend.

The decision to withdraw from the National Championships was made by the College’s Athletic Committee and the administration of the school revealed that the College does not believe that a true National Champion can be crowned with the absence of such top-flight teams as those from Columbia University and the University of New York.

Nimrods Set League Mark; Shooting Tops Kings Point

The City College rifle team broke a league record Friday as it defeated the USMMA at Kings Point with a new mark of 1349 points, surpassing Columbia’s mark of 1346 which was set February 1 against Kings Point.

The team’s total surpassed the 1306 shooting of the USMMA, and placed the squad in undisputed first place of the Metropolitan Inter-collegiate Rifle League.

The team’s record now stands at 4-0, with one match remaining. On April 1 the sharpshooters will play host to Rutgers University. Rutgers is in last place in the league, with a 0-5 slate, and does not figure to offer much resistance to the Beaver’s efforts to capture first place in the league.

Members of the Beaver squad and their respective scores are: Pete Brooks, 277; Jerry Uretsky, 270; Alan Feit, 269; Bruce Gitlin, 268; and Martin Vittorio, 265.

This is the first year that the riflemen are shooting at Internationals targets. They use a special rifle, a bull’s eye, the “tin ring,” the size of a pin head. This is the same target used in the Olympics and International competition.

Beaver Coach will participate in the National Championships meet for the first time. The team will take part in the first National competition, the “Olympics,” which will be held at the College of the City, and that takes place in a number of years for the first time.

The eight-year-old senior, who set or tied more records in his two years on the squad than any City man since the beginning of the school, was frequently asked by his teammates when he was considering retirement, and we wanted to win the tournament for him.”

Larry Levy has described his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers, ever. Larry may very well be the greatest. The swimmer for City College, and that takes up a number of years for the first time.

The sixteen-year-old sophomore, has set or tied more records in his two years on the squad than any City man since the beginning of the school, was frequently asked by his teammates when he was considering retirement, and we wanted to win the tournament for him.”

Larry found himself on a team that wanted to swim, and bunched in perfectly with it. “The team maintained a beautiful friendship. We had a lot of spirit and drive, and we put out more than other teams. We all wanted to win.” (Continued on Page 7)

Squad Is ‘Green’ But Wins Meets

The fencing season ended rather abruptly this week as the Faculty Committee on Athletics ruled that the team will not be able to participate in the National Championships this weekend, but when it did compete it team did rather well considering.

At the beginning of the year coach Edward Lucia was looking forward to a “rebuilding year” but he received more than that. His team compiled a 4-1 record against the top teams in the country, and finished sixth in the Eastern championships.

The first meet of the year for the fencers was against Yale, which usually has a good team. The Beavers rolled over them 18-9. The next four meets for the parcengers were against last year’s top teams in the country. The Beavers dropped three meets in a row as the

Memorial

City College has just established a James J. Montague Memorial Award in memory of the College’s former fencing coach who died April 1.

Professor Montague coached the College’s team from 1957 until his retirement in 1952. In 1948 he produced a National Championship squad.

The award will be presented to a member of the team who best exemplifies Montague’s qualifications, conduct, and sportsmanship.

Larry Levy

Best Swimmer in College’s History?

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

The team is expected to be ready for the National Championships in memory of the College’s former fencing coach who died April 1.

Professor Montague coached the College’s team from 1957 until his retirement in 1952. In 1948 he produced a National Championship squad.

The award will be presented to a member of the team who best exemplifies Montague’s qualifications, conduct, and sportsmanship.

Larry Levy

Best Swimmer in College’s History?

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

The team is expected to be ready for the National Championships in memory of the College’s former fencing coach who died April 1.

Professor Montague coached the College’s team from 1957 until his retirement in 1952. In 1948 he produced a National Championship squad.

The award will be presented to a member of the team who best exemplifies Montague’s qualifications, conduct, and sportsmanship.

Larry Levy

Best Swimmer in College’s History?

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.

This season he has improved, and more concentration is necessary to score points.

Larry Levy has been described by his teammates and coach as the greatest Beaver swimmers ever. Larry may very well be the greatest.