Berman, Broslovsky, Wiener Vie For Student Council Presidency

Three students have handed in petitions and will contest the presidency of Student Council this semester.

The students, Marc Berman '67, Allen Broslovsky '67, and Alan Wiener '68, began their campaigns Friday.

The election will be held next Wednesday, and the winner will,
for the first time, serve a one-year rather than a six-month term.

A total of sixteen students will vie for Student Council executive board positions and the post of National Student Association Delegate, and all offices except that of Student Council Activities Committee chairman, for which David Morrow '68 is running unopposed, are being contested by at least two students.

In a three-way race for vice-president, Max Berger '67, currently Council's corresponding secretary, and Harvey Wacht '67, both Council representatives, are the opponents.

Mr. Cassidy, who acted as moderator, described the purpose of this session as "to give the student a chance to state his views."

At a second session, to be held next Wednesday, the committee members will present researched papers on student rights, curriculum, and instruction to the faculty.

All instructors have been invited to attend, and the chairman of the Departments of Accountancy, Management, and Marketing—
Professors Nathan Seitelman,
Samuel Rabin, and John Win-

Mayor John Lindsay has called for the immediate enactment of a bill by the State Legislature that would revise the and formulas for the city colleges.

In another three-way race, Harry Pace '68 (independent), a Coun-cell representative, Kenneth Robu-stein '68 (Students for Unified Action), and Mark Klien '67 (Student Rights), are vying for the corresponding secretarieship.

The candidates for recording secretary are Paul Namm '68, editor-in-chief of The Greek Way, the newspaper of the Inter-fraternity Council, and Kathy Scharenberg
'68, vice president of House Plan Association.

Mr. Namm is running on the Students for Unified Action ticket, and Miss Scharenberg has been nominated by the Student Rights Party.

School Problems Are Discussed

At Student-conducted Talk-out

Turnout at Event Is Proven Poor

Professor Gadel (Chairman, Sub-committee of Vice-President, Prof. Susan Weinstein) asked that the program be opened with a brief address by the Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. McMurray. Dr. McMurray then welcomed the audience and introduced the topic of discussion, "Education," as related to the library. He discussed the various problems associated with the library, such as overcrowding, insufficient funds, and the need for more books. He emphasized the importance of the library to the students and the university as a whole. The Dean also mentioned the recent addition of the new library facilities and the need for continued support from the students.

Lectures Attacked By Gadel, Baccus

Professor Baccus attacked the program, stating that the students had no right to discuss the administration's policies without the proper channels. He alleged that the students were trying to influence the faculty and administration by having their voices heard outside the proper channels. He suggested that the students should have more faith in the faculty and administration to handle the problems of the library in a proper manner.

The other professors agreed with Baccus, and the discussion continued for some time. The students were not happy with the response of the faculty and administration, and they continued to demand their right to have a say in the administration's policies.

Groody Is Crowned Queen At Mardi Gras Saturday

Eileen Groody '67 was crowned Queen of the Mardi Gras Saturday Night. The event was sponsored by the Student Council's Education Committee. The program started with a parade of students carrying floats and costumed characters,followed by a fireworks display and a performance by the Band. The queen was then crowned by the previous queen, and the program continued with speeches and entertainment. The queen was later honored at a banquet and a dance after the event.

Pro littera Praises Tradition Of City College

Professor Gadel praised the tradition of City College, saying that it is the responsibility of the students and alumni to carry on the traditions of the college. He mentioned the importance of education and the role of the college in preparing students for their future careers. The professor also gave a reading from his book, "Education and Community.

Use of Theory Emphasized

The speaker cited a case in which the use of theory was emphasized in teaching. He said that in one of his classes, the students were given the task of developing a comprehensive plan for a corporation. The students were required to use theory in their analysis and to think critically about the problem. The professor noted that this approach helped the students to develop skills in critical thinking and problem-solving.

Problems of the Library, planned show, will be discussed by a newly-formed student-faculty committee

The program was well attended, and several students and professors participated in the discussion. The students and faculty agreed that there were many problems associated with the library, and they emphasized the need for continued support from the students and faculty.

Student Committee Is Planned To Determine Library's Policies

The students would use questionnaires that had been drafted by the Faculty Council by the Ad Hoc Committee on Personnel. The committee would be made up of students and faculty members who would be responsible for evaluating the library's policies and determining the best course of action. The committee would be under the guidance of the Faculty Council and would have the support of the administration.

Junior Slings

The tickets for the budget in the library have been sold for $1.50 each, with proceeds going to the city college. The tickets have been sold out, and the money will be used to support various activities on campus.

Rosenthal Says Classroom Must Duplicating Problems Which Arise in Business Life

"Business courses are not only important in what they teach, but in what they fail to teach," said Professor Rosenthal. "Our courses should be designed to teach students to think critically about business problems and to develop the skills necessary to solve them. The courses should also be designed to teach students to think about the ethical implications of their decisions and to consider the impact of their actions on others."
Mr. Berman, an independent candidate, has run as an anti-vice president for the Student Council. His main issue is the lack of communication and responsiveness. However, he has strongly argued that his experiences as editor in chief and as a member of the Student Council give him the knowledge and skills to be an effective and responsible leader.

Mr. Wiener has also run as an independent candidate. He has emphasized his past experiences in various student organizations, including the Student Rights Party, the Student Council, and the Student Organization of Independent Clubs. He believes that his experiences have prepared him to be a knowledgeable and effective leader.

Both candidates have promised to establish an advisory student-faculty committee to improve communication between the student body and faculty. They have also promised to improve the effectiveness of the Student Council in addressing student concerns.

In conclusion, both candidates present strong and knowledgeable candidates who have the potential to be effective leaders of the Student Council. However, Mr. Berman has a slight edge in terms of experience and knowledge of the Student Council affairs. We endorse Mr. Berman for the position of Student Council vice president.

What is the National Student Association? I hear the NSA is a student organization but I hear it has a very powerful influence on some colleges. Is it true? The NSA is a student organization, but its influence is limited to the college level. It is not involved in the legislative process. The NSA is a nationwide organization that represents the interests of college students. It has over 2,000 chapters on college campuses across the United States. The NSA is not involved in the legislative process.

There are many clubs on campus. The Student Council is one of the most important. It includes the cost of sending three delegates to the General Assembly of the Student Council. The cost is paid from the student fees. I feel that it is my "duty to" the school to attend meetings of the council as the clearing house for student problems and issues. In my opinion, the Student Council is most important, factor, hopefully, in democratic student participation. I have requested that the council be re-elected. I feel that it is my "duty to" the school to attend meetings of the council as the clearing house for student problems and issues. In my opinion, the Student Council is most important, factor, hopefully, in democratic student participation.

The position of treasurer of the Student Council is a very important position. It involves a knowledge of the financial affairs of the school. The treasurer must be able to work effectively with the president in full cooperation. The treasurer must be able to work effectively with the president in full cooperation.

TICKER Endorsements for Council Executives

The candidates for corresponding secretary are Marc Shpritzer, William/Goebbo, Jr., and Judy Lisnow. Marc Shpritzer is the only candidate for Student Council Activities Committee chairman, because of his past experience as secretary and rapporteur of some of Council's committees, but has not yet served on student organizing committees. Miss Morris has served on several student organizing committees and has been active in student organizations. She proposes to make the Council of Clubs more effective and to unite to solve common problems and plan more and better School functions.

SOPHOMORE MEN:

Want to be a leader and double your chances for success in life? You can, by earning both a degree and an Army officer's commission at the same time... even though you may not have the chance to fulfill your ROTC training requirements in your first two years.

Through a new program, you can be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant after only two years of college training. You qualify for this program by attending a special six-week training camp after you complete your ROTC Advanced Course in your junior and senior years of college.

Here's how ROTC training and an officer's commission will do for you:

- You will qualify for an Army commission and an ROTC scholarship.
- You will learn to organize, motivate, and lead others.
- You will develop leadership qualities that many college men miss—self-discipline, physical stamina, poise, bearing, the acceptance of responsibility and other qualities that contribute to success in either a civilian or military career.
- You will receive up to $40 per month during your junior and senior years, plus pay and mileage for summer training.
- The training and experience you will receive through Army ROTC will pay off for the rest of your life. A decision to take advantage of this new program could be one of the most important you will ever make.

You owe it to yourself to investigate this new important opportunity.

For complete information on the new Two-Year Army ROTC Program see the Professor of Military Science on campus.

The outlook is certainly not one to be cheerfully welcomed.

Two more losses. Which brings the total to 12 losses, for anyone keeping count. "It's still possible this could still be the worst team ever. If that doesn't include your former college, that is;" said Dickey Dumas. "You only have to look at them and you know it is."

"It is possible," added Paul, "but if you look at how many times we had to have guys back to get them there I think you can see that we simply didn't have the depth to compete and that's why we lost."

One would have to agree to at least some extent with the above logic, however, the posting of losses can only be considered as a detriment to the efforts of the team who have given their all to the sport. It is the hope of all fans that they may win a game at some point during the season. In the meantime they have had a rather difficult time of it and it is to be hoped that they will have a better showing in the future.

Boatride to Be Conducted In Spite of Service Exams

The3 leaders of the Boatride Committee for this year announced that the boatride would be conducted in spite of service exams. The exams will be taking place on May 18 and 19, the dates of the boatride. However, they are planning to go ahead with the boatride and be back in time to take the exams.

"We have decided that we are not going to allow the exams to stop us," said the leader. "We are going to make sure that we have enough manpower to handle the exams and still have enough people to go on the boatride."

The boatride is a popular annual event and this year it is expected to be attended by a large number of students.

The University News (Continued from Page 5)

"The ship is going to have to be a bigger one," said the leader. "We have to make sure that we have enough space for everyone and still meet the requirements of the University."
Baseballers Lose Two Contests; Succumb to Seton Hall and Iona

City's baseball team fell into the Met Conference cellar last week. As the Beavers dropped two league encounters. On Saturday the team was shut-out by Seton Hall 6-0, and last Tuesday the Lavender bowed to Iona 4-1.

Saturday's loss to the Hall was a complete rout. S.H.U. held a 2-0 lead after the first inning, all that was necessary for the victory. The visitors pounded out fifteen hits off three Beaver hurlers.

Barry Lefter, coming off three fine performances, was tagged often and hard by the invaders, while his pitchers succeeded him—Terlizzi and Louis Weinberg turned in commendable stints. Lefter lasted into the fourth, but just barely. In the first three innings he allowed five runs, and the third run Hall blasted in the fourth finished Barry for the day. Terlizzi worked four innings and Weinberg two, as Seton Hall managed only one run in the reliever's six innings.

Home runs proved the downfall of the Beavers, as has been the case much of the season. An astounding number of six round-trippers were smashed by the Hall, with a pair coming off the hard-throwing big catcher Tom Bengiaro. Tom Scott blasted a solo home run in addition to three other hits, and H.H. Jim Dermody went the route to pick up the Hall's third Met Conference victory in four starts.

Tuesday saw the Lavender batting attack appear non-existent, as Iona College picked up two insurance runs in the ninth to down the Beavers 4-1.

Ron Rizzi was tagged with the loss for City, his third against the Bears this season.

Hofstra Defeats Netmen; Winning Streak Stopped

The make-up game was fine for the tennis men but meet which gave them trouble last week.

Playing against Yeshiva College on Monday, the team was making up the raised out contest of last Wednesday. The Bears won the rescheduled event 9-0, for their second shut-out of the season, and their seventh win in eight games this season.

Scoring for City in the individuals were: Neal Spanier, Peter Willman, Baruchian Arnold Garfin, Alan Marks, co-captain Joe Litow, and Cabries Matter; Donald Sabin had the doubles. Spanier has not lost a match so far this year. In the doubles competition Matz and Litow won the first contest, as Ed Weinstein and Wilson Wong teamed up for the second victory. Gerald Jaffe and co-captain Pete Shaffer won the third doubles match for the Lavender.

On Saturday the netmen squared off against Hofstra College, and were edged 4-5. This was the first defeat for tennis team this year in six contests.

The game against the Netmen, which was scheduled for last Wednesday, was rained out and has not been rescheduled as of yet.

Lacrossemen Victors Over Armed Services

The lacrosse team completely reversed their trend of last year as they won two games last week, bringing their winning streak to four games. The Beavers defeated New York Maritime College on Saturday, 7-5, and defeated the United States Military Academy "B" squad on Wednesday, 5-2. Last season the team had a 1-3-1 record.

In the Maritime game Vince Pandoliano continued on his scoring streak as he tallied two goals for the Lavender. Pandoliano, co-captain of the team, is trying to break the college's individual scoring mark.

Other stickmen scoring for City include George Grinstein, who tallied twice, and Steve Letterstein, Abe Ruda, and co-captain Pat Valenstein, who each scored a point for the Beavers.

Against the Cadets City continued its fine mixture of a tough defense and a fast offense. Last year Army had edged the Beavers 7-5, but this time around City took the upper hand in a 5-2 contest.

This afternoon the team will travel to Reeves College with hopes of extending its undefeated streak to five. On Saturday the Beavers will play host to Renauler Polytechnical College.

George Baron

On the field a terror, off the field a soother—these are the two faces of George Baron, coach of the City College lacrosse team.

Mr. Baron was graduated from City in 1948, after having won letters in football, swimming and lacrosse. In 1947 the Beaver goalie was named to the all-American team.

As soon as he was graduated, Mr. Baron stayed at his alma mater to coach the freshman lacrosse team. At the same time he studied for his Master's degree, which was awarded to him from Columbia College in 1949. He remained with the Baby Beavers through the campaigns of 1951, 1956, and 1960.

In 1960 Leon A. "Chief" Miller, the College's lacrosse coach, became ill and was forced to retire. Mr. Baron was called in to fill the shoes of a man who had coached the City stickmen for thirty years and who had been elected to the lacrosse Hall of Fame. Before Mr. Baron took over the reigns Bill Deeds had shot at it.

Mr. Polansky is presently the Lavender's basketball mentor. While coaching the lacrosse men, Mr. Baron has been the father of a boy and a girl, he has a lot to do between his two jobs but there is something which interests me. After he drives his team on does he also console them after a loss?
