Newman Charges 'Duplicistic' Actions

Just when the philosophy grades dispute appeared to have been resolved, new conflict erupted as students sought explanations for the "changes made in their grades."

Dean Emanuel Saxe, at a Thursday meeting (400) with twenty of the sixty-eight students who were in Dr. Fred Newman's sections last term, told them that the grades that had been submitted would be accepted by the School. Dr. Newman revealed that Dean Saxe would not accept the grades that he originally recorded, which was "extremely close to last week's Ticker report of fifty-eight "A's", and two "B's"." (Dr. Newman did not have his records with him when interviewed yesterday.)

"In light of all of the factors concerned in the matter," said Dean Saxe, "the only equitable solution was to accept the grades."

However, students checked their grades in the Registrar's office and discovered that some students' records were not sold and to those who were not sold) and to those who were not given grades and no credit for the course because originally they were given grades even though they virtually never attended class. One other student was not given credit. Originally, he had dropped the course and was still given a grade.

Dr. Newman said that "a duplicistic act has been committed by the administration." He said, "and was not given an official grading sheet until I consented to abide by their orders."

Dr. Newman said that the only "A" grades that remained were... (Continued on Page 9)

Uptown Faculty Reaches Compromise Over Deputty

A compromise was reached Thursday afternoon among Uptown faculty members over the nomination of a man to fill the newly created position of "provost." The provost will serve as vice-president to Buell Gallagher, president of City College.

The struggle revolved around the difficulties of how to suggest a candidate to Dr. Gallagher. He had submitted a proposal to the faculty committee, the Committee on Course and Standing. The faculty member of the Committee on Course and Standing in charge of the philosophy grade dispute said that he originally recorded, which was "extremely close to last week's Ticker report of fifty-eight "A's", and two "B's"." (Dr. Newman did not have his records with him when interviewed yesterday.)

Regents Vote Is Expected

The Board of Regents will meet for the fourth time Thursday and Friday to consider once again the Board of Higher Education's proposal for the formation of the Baruch College.

The Regents have failed three times in the past to approve the new college.

A spokesman for Dr. Robert McCall, the assistant commissioner for higher education planning, stated that "action should be taken on the proposal at this meeting one way or another."

The proposal has been under advisement for one month, but it was expected to be voted on at this meeting, the spokesman added.

Priority Gap: ‘American Money Must . . . Cure the Ills of America’

(For the following is the first of several articles written by the noted sociologist and former Columbia University professor, Dean William A. Ogburn, in The Ticker.)

Dean Ogburn is well known in the world of sociology and is a recognized authority on the subject. He has written extensively on the topic of social change, particularly as it relates to American society. His work has been influential in shaping the field of sociology.

The Ticker is a publication that focuses on social issues and provides a platform for prominent thinkers to share their ideas. The Ticker was founded by a group of socially conscious individuals who sought to create a space for critical dialogue and reflection on social problems.

In this article, Dean Ogburn discusses the priority gap in American society, highlighting the disconnect between the promise of American ideals and the realities faced by the American people. He argues that the current state of the nation is characterized by a lack of opportunities for the middle class and a growing disparity between the rich and the poor.

Dean Ogburn begins by exploring the historical context of the priority gap, noting how it has evolved over time. He then goes on to discuss the economic, political, and social factors that contribute to this gap, and how it has affected different groups within American society.

Throughout the article, Dean Ogburn emphasizes the need for a radical transformation of American society, calling for a reevaluation of the priorities that govern our nation. He suggests that by addressing the priority gap, we can work towards creating a more just and equitable society for all Americans.

The article concludes with a call to action, urging readers to join the effort to address the priority gap and work towards a brighter future for all.

If your major is listed here, IBM would like to talk with you March 15th.

Sign up for an interview at your placement office—even if you’re headed for graduate school or military service. Maybe you think you need a technical background to work for us. Not true. Sure we need engineers and scientists. But we also need liberal arts and business majors. We’d like to talk with you even if you’re something as far afield as Music! Not that we’d hire you to analyze Bach fugues. But we might hire you to analyze problems in a computer program.

What do you do at IBM?

The point is, our business isn’t just selling computers. It’s solving problems. So if you have a logical mind, we need you to help our customers solve problems in such diverse areas as government, business, law, education, medicine, science, the humanities.

Whatever your major, you can do a lot of good things at IBM. Change the world (maybe). Continue your education through plans such as our Tuition Refund Program. And have a wide choice of places to work (we have over 500 locations throughout the United States).

What to do next

We’re on campus to interview for careers in Marketing, Computer Applications, Programming, Research, Design and Development, Manufacturing, and Finance and Administration. If you can’t make a campus interview, send an outline of your interests and educational background to P. J. Knowl, IBM Corporation, 425 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022. We’re an equal opportunity employer.
The City College mermen were defeated by Queens, College Saturday by the score of 181 to 84 in the City University and Brooklyn College also participated.

The lone victory in the meet for CCNY was recorded by Jerry Zahn in the 200-yard breaststroke with a clocking of 2:38.88, missing the municipal record for the event by half a second.

The 50- and 100-yard freestyle events saw City suffer two heart-breaking defeats. Hart Chernow of Queens, defeated Mark Rothman of City, in both events. The margin of victory in the 100 was 4 tenths of a second, while in the 50-yard event, the difference was only a tenth of a second.

Henry Eckstein turned in three excellent performances in the meet; only to have a second-place finish each time. Eckstein was defeated by Petzler in the 200-yard breaststroke in the third-place finish. Eckstein’s triplicate was especially gratifying. In taking second place in the 100-yard freestyle, Henry succeeded in breaking the old C.C.N.Y. record of 1:41.8, and set a new record of 1:41.53. His time was recorded at 12:18.4, seven seconds below the old mark.

The 200-yard breaststroke again saw a C.C.N.Y. swimmer finish in second place. Richie Bastian was the runner-up in the respectable time of 2:45. John Krieger, the only sophomore on the team, registered a disappointing sixth place finish in this event. His time was 3:08.

Harriers Bridesmaids to Host Queens In CUNY—Birns and Davis Win Gala

Despite taking two individual gold medals and a victory in the mile relay, the Beaver tracksters were unable to break the indoor monopoly Queens has held over the rest of the City University schools.

The Knights, with 60 points, outdistanced City (42) for their first home meet victory since the fall of 1960. Hunter (7) trailed in Saturday’s triangular meet.

The visitors swept the epee division, with flawless performances by Ron Linton, Bill Cherneck and Simon Alsheimer.

Steve Lieberman led the sabre men to a 7-2 triumph. Lieberman went through three matches unscathed. The fencers had their problems, though. Only Bill Borowski (2-1) came through with a winning mark, as Rutgers gained a 6-3 verdict.

The City College gunners continued their winning ways this week as they defeated Brooklyn Poly and New York Community College in a triangular meet by the score of 1,102-967-846. Top scorers for the team were Alan Felt and Frank Yones, each-talleying 277, Paul Kanciruk, 275 and Nick Buckholtz, 273. The marksman, who has just completed his one year at M.I.T.

Andy Ferrara, placed second in the mile run in 4:34.6, his best time. Harold Sharples placed second in the 60-yard high hurdles and third in the high jump. Steve Schurz and Bernie Samet ran third and fourth, respectively, in the 1000-yard run. The two-mile relay team placed second to Queens with a time of 8:55.

Joe Nappi paced the triumphant Knights with victories in the high jump and the 60-yard high hurdles.

Wildogef led the freshmen with four victories in the two-mile (10:24:54) and mile (3:59:48) races. He also ran on the victorious two-mile relay team which came in first in 9:35.2.
