A campaign to assure the acquisition of badly needed additional space for the Baruch College was begun at last Thursday's Student Council meeting. A resolution that "strongly rebukes the Board of Higher Education" for their failure to provide badly needed additional space for the College was passed with strong support from all present.

The resolution includes the fact that the students of this College are prepared to take whatever steps are needed to provide additional space.

The motion for the all-out program was made by Morris H. Margulis, Jr. It is the opinion of the "Save Our School" group that the building is needed by the College. The Committee to determine their eligibility.

in the Blood Bank. The Baruch College is the only undergraduate college in the city to have a bank of this kind. Most hospitals require patients to provide for the replacement of 6 pints of blood for each one drawn at an average charge of $60 per pint. Students covered by the Baruch College Blood Coverage are entitled to draw on this unlimited supply.

The Blood Bank will accept donations on any day from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Student Council and the Ticker Association. Two of the students are running for two positions, Freshman Representative and Freshman Executive.

Neil Bergman is running unopposed for the Ticker Association. The T.A., as a publisher of The Ticker, he believes that the student body must present their "Bursar's card" in order to vote.

For the one open seat in the Class of '70, the Vice President, and Freshman Executive is a second member of both the Student Council and the Council Executive Board. The Election will be held on Wednesday, November 29th from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Students must present their "Bursar's card" in order to vote.

Y.A.F. Invades S.D.S. Peace Center In Greenwich Village on Election Day

Fifteen members of the Young Americans for Freedom took possession of the New York City headquarters of the militant Students for a Democratic Society on Election Day. SDS and several other radical groups had set up a "movement center" on West Fourth Street, in the basement headquarters of the Greenwich Village Peace Center.

The takeover was made at 9:30 last Tuesday morning. It ended at 18:40 in the afternoon when the group voluntarily left the center.

The stated purpose of the S.D.S. group was to disrupt the electoral process. It is a statement made before Election Day James Farley, Jr., the New York State Chairman of Y.A.F., said, "Find it ironic that a group like S.D.S. which purports to believe in 'participatory democracy' would urge a boycott of the election and democratic process."

According to Farley, a student at Fordham University. Y.A.F. felt that more dramatic steps than a news release were needed to prevent the planned tactics of S.D.S. These plans included urging a boycott of the elections, embarrassing candidates at polling places, and luring with promises.

The Y.A.F. group planned to remain until the groups ceased to harass the democratic process or until the police were called. "If they call the Police," Farley said, "they will be a de facto part of the right of the people to remove them from anywhere they are creating a nuisance. Naturally, we have no intention of breaking any laws. We want them to call the Police."

The group left the SDS offices and the sympathetic Police Department told them that their men were needed at many other posts. The Police were posted at the center after Y.A.F. members had received threatening phone calls from people claiming to be Black Panthers.

The Y.A.F.'s cleaned out the "Peace Center" and paid for the phone calls they made prior to going in. On election day the reporters that the group had made its point and it was "now going to do what we wanted to do in the first place—get out the vote."

Petitions Are Filed For 5 Council Seats

Only 12 students submitted petitions to run for Student Council and the Ticker Association. The Ticker, it elects the Editor and the Ticker, it elects the Editor and

The feast of all the original San Francisco rock bands, "Thanksgiving" was a chance to see the performers at the same time as the Airplane and the Dead, but some members with parting words from individuals, and event not interesting in recording. It took them all these years to record an album, but shortly before made an appearance in the Quicksilver "rock" right up with the best. John Cipollina, a harmonica player, and David Freeling, a guitarist, together with the standard sax and steppers, an extra set of horns on top of his equipment, produces a literally earth-shattering effect. In this, Quicksilver delivers highly resonant tones, and their tightness is amazing. Particularly interesting was the role between Cipollina and Gaye. Each took up major roles, and both at the end of the performance, they actually added to their costumes - the former with his quads, and the latter with a quads - on his own." The Cream show was their last "treat," and because they use a rotating stage, you get to see the Cream concert there, it won't be worth the money. Unless you can make a choice between the Cream's and the Doors, you can...

To the Editor

I wish to take issue with the dangerous article by John Sckorohod in the November 6, 1968 Ticker. I find this article to be sensationalistic and vile. The Ticker should never have published an article of this type.

I agree there is a great need for strong, courageous leaders, but at the present time there are those who are showing a black right-wing face. Americans must stand up and demand that we have the right to live. Americans must stand up and demand that we have the right to live. "When I was in graduate school, I wanted to make sure I'd try to do what I was learning. That's why I went into consulting at IBM," says John Houlihan.

John earned his MBA in 1966. He now sells IBM computers to mutual funds, banks and other financial institutions.

"It's a management consulting job," he says. "The reason, companies affect nearly every aspect of a business. I get involved with a customer's accounting, finance, and marketing. Which means I have to know something about each of these areas. So I'm constantly reading the business schools and working at the top of the line in business."

"And when you're working with people on that level, you have to have the management tools that you get in graduate school. If a customer starts talking about a regression analysis, I can stay with him or her. Or I might get involved in a linear programming study to determine the optimum stock mix for a portfolio. Bottom line, getting an MBA was worth the extra effort."

Career areas for MBA's at IBM is a marketing at only one of several areas for MBA's at IBM. Offers include finance and engineering. MBA's at IBM can work in financial, marketing and retail, financial analysis, accounting, and information systems, in engineering, MBA's work mainly in industrial engineering and manufacturing. Whatever area you choose, you think you'll agree with John. Getting my MBA was the right decision."

The Intramural program rolls along, and accordingly, so do Intramural highlights.

With 26 teams participating at the outset, the Basketball Tournament has narrowed itself down to four. Tomorrow (Tuesday) day, the Whiz Kids will clash for the semi-finals. Thursday this Thursday both the Co-ed Table Tennis Tournament and the Intramural Swimming Meet swing into action. The former will be held in the sixth floor A Gym; the latter in the, naturally, Swimming Pool.

The meet will entertain those who wish to compete in the 40-yard freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke, and butterfly; 20-yard underwater swim; and the 200-yard freestyle.

try will be part of an urban or "metropolitan" environment, whether it likes it or not.

Doxiadis is director of the International Institute of Ecology in Athens, Greece, a city planning company with projects in urban design all over the United States.

Institute, among other projects, is presently in the midst of a comprehensive, multi-million dollar planning study of urban development in Michigan.

With characteristic flourishes and slide illustrations, Doxiadis explained his four-point plan. We have to start now in order to have an effect 20 years from now/ With Doxiadis, we can look now as the cities of the future—they will be megacities with populations in the hundreds of millions, and the centers of education will be more important than the centers of commerce.

Doxiadis can understand and plan now for the city of the future—we can affect the quality of life and organize them around and out of universities, but we have to start now in order to have an effect 20 years from now.
