Sorority Adopts Charity
V.D. to be Theme of Drive

The secretaries of Iota Sigma Rho (standing for I'd Sell myself in an Engagement Ring), Baruch's most prestigious sorority, have adopted a new national charity, according to Philanthropies Chairman Desiree Schwartz. The sorority will now be shaking their cans to eliminate venereal disease.

Miss Schwartz said that the girls hated to make a value judgment between two such worthy causes, but the final vote reflected the girls' belief that V.D. was the more pressing problem. Miss Schwartz, with a note of alarm in her otherwise perfect Flatbushese, cited the rising figures.

The sorority has adopted a new national charity, according to Philanthropies Chairman Desiree Schwartz. The sorority will now be shaking their cans to eliminate venereal disease.

ASS Men in Confrontation With Pres.
Demands Presented By Comptroller

Reports have it that President Weaver's office again became the scene of yet another student protest.

On October 30, 88 members of ASS, Accounting Students Society, barged into the 16th floor domain of the Man, your friend and mine, Robert C. from DC.

The following is an eyewitness report by TICKLER reporter L. L. Roundley:

When their first entered Weaver's office, the secretary became very startled by the group's roaring obscenities coming from the office.

ASS chanted: "A.P.B. Open a can with a hypodermic needle filled with novocaine, a needle and thread, and a rather large button reading "this will be the window, credit by the door."

Weaver asked what they wanted to see him about. The comptroller snapped open the spring latches from his attaché case. The students were奥林匹克 holiday.

Workshop

A big to do is being made about the up and coming Lampost Leangers. Workshop. The workshop is being held by the Lampost Leangers Society. The Lampost Leangers Society is an organization of assorted long-haired weirdos, dope fiends and sexual perverts.

The secretary then talked directly to the comptroller. "Who are you?" she said. "We are the hyper-militant ASS," said the comptroller.

On one side of the office, I could see Weaver peering through a keyhole. His field of vision would have enabled him to spot the revolutionary uniform of the ASS, a black pinstriped suit with a white button down oxford shirt, and a full parade of Sanitation attaché cases.

On the comptroller's command, the ASS put down the workshop.

ASS chanted: "A.P.B. Open a can with a hypodermic needle filled with novocaine, a needle and thread, and a rather large button reading "this will be the window, credit by the door."

The comptroller snapped open the spring latches from his attaché case. The students were奥林匹克 holiday.

Workshop

A big to do is being made about the up and coming Lampost Leangers. Workshop. The workshop is being held by the Lampost Leangers Society. The Lampost Leangers Society is an organization of assorted long-haired weirdos, dope fiends and sexual perverts.

The secretary then talked directly to the comptroller. "Who are you?" she said. "We are the hyper-militant ASS," said the comptroller.

On one side of the office, I could see Weaver peering through a keyhole. His field of vision would have enabled him to spot the revolutionary uniform of the ASS, a black pinstriped suit with a white button down oxford shirt, and a full parade of Sanitation attaché cases.
Tickler Ceases Publication

The Tickler newspaper has announced that it will not publish in the future. The Tickler, which is the official newspaper of Baruch College, has decided to discontinue publication due to financial constraints and a lack of support from the student body.

News

Baruch College will hold its annual Homecoming celebration on campus this weekend. The event will feature a variety of activities, including a football game, a parade, and a carnival.

Club Nuts

The French Club will host its annual French Festival on Saturday. The festival will feature food, music, and dance from French-speaking countries.

Faculty Forum

What can be done to improve student life at Baruch?

Lenient Learners

Prudenter Expelled For Kissing

Big Head Herb

Students have expressed concern about the lack of support for students with learning disabilities. The administration has been criticized for not providing adequate resources and accommodations for students with disabilities.
Horse Is Admitted To BMBC

Under a new program administered by the Department of Agriculture, Lig-htening, the Super Horse, has been admitted to the School of Business and Public Administration. Congress voted funds for this program in an all-night session last August. The bill, sponsored by Senator Fun-gowen, was proposed to make up for years of indifference to the problems of horse education in America.

Lightening was selected from a group of deprived horses living in the police stables near Central Park. Lightening's family had been on City welfare since 1947. In September, a trotter at Belmont, was convicted and sent to stable for doping up a jockey.

The horse has a poor educational background. In 1949, he was expelled for the entire term. After being re-admitted, he was expelled again because he answered the owner's call for him in front of the school buildings.

Lightening was selected in a City-wide competition held on September 31. He outdistanced many other horses in both English and French. The Department of Agriculture, which set the rules, had never before held such a contest.

There was no plan to do any job on the horse, but the Department of Agriculture was interested in making him more useful to the community.

The horse has a unique ability to confuse Lichtenstein's methodology. Lichtenstein explains that although he finds the educational experience fine, he argues more students were kept ignorant. He finds that all they say is, "Hey, dig that horse." In fact, the only person who speaks to him is President Weaver. They talk about acquaintances they have in common from the Dept. of Agriculture.

Lichtenstein was selected from a group of deprived horses living in the police stables near Central Park. Lightening's family had been on City welfare since 1947. In September, a trotter at Belmont, was convicted and sent to stable for doping up a jockey.

The horse has a poor educational background. In 1949, he was expelled for the entire term. After being re-admitted, he was expelled again because he answered the owner's call for him in front of the school buildings.

Lightening was selected in a City-wide competition held on September 31. He outdistanced many other horses in both English and French. The Department of Agriculture, which set the rules, had never before held such a contest.

There was no plan to do any job on the horse, but the Department of Agriculture was interested in making him more useful to the community.

The horse has a unique ability to confuse Lichtenstein's methodology. Lichtenstein explains that although he finds the educational experience fine, he argues more students were kept ignorant. He finds that all they say is, "Hey, dig that horse." In fact, the only person who speaks to him is President Weaver. They talk about acquaintances they have in common from the Dept. of Agriculture.

Baruch Bedrooms Arrive

Baruch College, October 30 - The Department of Residential Living has been awarded a new program and a buzzer to indicate the change of classes as the bell only serves to confuse Lightening.

Lightening maintains that although he finds the educational experience fine, he wishes more students were friendlier. He finds that all they say is, "Hey, dig that horse." In fact, the only person who speaks to him is President Weaver. They talk about acquaintances they have in common from the Dept. of Agriculture.

Why don't we Baruchians show this new member of our community how good we are: take the horse to lunch.