Computerized Registration Announced By Mr. Ferguson

By John Sckorohod

The new Advance Registration system, which will hopefully eliminate much of the refund, and frustration normally incurred by students at registration time, will be in effect for the Spring, 1970 semester.

A notice, giving the dates for registration and all instructions for registration, are available at the Registrar’s office for all undergraduate students at Baruch.

Review the Spring Schedule of Classes, the Addendum and Closed Course lists which will be posted during the entire registration period.

Upon paying the $60 consolidated fee to the Bursar, you will recieve the following:
1. Registration Card (Spring).
2. Summer Tentative Course Section Card (green).
3. Worksheets.
4. Addendum.
5. Instructions.

Registrar Donald Ferguson

Guide­ ance, Room 305, Main Building.

When you have planned a satisfactory program including the dement in alphabetic order, course number, semester, and credit hours of each course, laboratory, lecture and/or recitation you are taking in the boxes on the enclosed Undergraduate Registration Card. Your signature and the date must appear on both the Card and on the registration slips.

Before you can register for your semester, the student should ac­ sign responsibility for obtaining each permission prior to registration. Permission slips must be in the Bursar’s office at the time of your registration.

Pro­
f. Elbert testified before BHE by the Board of Higher Education. His request of $369.9 mil­ ion represents a 53 per cent increase over the 1969-70 budget.
The appropriation for Baruch, however, is drastically reduced. The City University determines funding needs on the number of full­ time equivalent students attending each institution. This is done because the colleges enroll thousands of part-time students.

In the case of undergraduate students, the F.T.E. base is computed by dividing the total number of credit taken by all undergraduates by the standard two-ses­ mer student credit load of thirty.

The Chancellor has asked for $1,106,4 per full-time equivalent student for Baruch. This is less than has asked for any of the other senior colleges and three of the community colleges. The Beceived are as follows:

Community Colleges
Queens 1858
Kingsborough 1664
Lehman 1785
Brooklyn 1881
Hunter 2039
CUNY Colleges
Staten Island 1412
Queens 1706
Richmond 2812

New C.U.N.Y. Budget
Shortchanges Baruch

By John Sckorohod

City University Chancellor Albert H. Bowker’s budget request for the 1970-71 fiscal and academic year was approved last week

The $11.8 million, is not given in a lump sum; rather, parts of it will be allocated for specific purposes. This is extremely significant. For example, Baruch is to be given $1,106,4 per full-time equivalent day-student. This is less than seven or other senior college colleges and one of the com­ 111 community colleges will be given it.

Despite a labor and time shortage, the amount of blood collected during this term’s Baruch Blood Drive was proportionately greater than ever before.

For reasons unknown, there wasn’t an adequate supply of nurses on hand to make the collection easy, but those who were there worked hard and made up for the shortage.

Although only 93 units of the life-saving fluid were collected this year, as compared to the 100 pints that were donated last year, this year’s drive was held over hours long, while last year’s was 11 hours.

The blood drive, which was held in conjunction with the Greater York Blood Drive and the Red Cross, was coordinated by Shelly Isaacs. He, along with several other Baruch students, assisted in the setting up of the racks, and equipment that were necessary. Refreshments for the donors, which consisted of coffee and donuts, were provided by

What Goes Up Must Come Down Ceiling Collapses On Ninth Floor

By Lou Rapini

Imagine yourself sitting in a deserted classroom studying for an exam, a mid-term, an oblivious to all things going around you. As you look up to catch a glimpse of a classmate entering the room, you see the roof of the room. You report it to the dean, and the next time you look up, you see a chunk of George, who is blind with nausea, breaks away from a support beam.

George, who is blinded with nausea, breaks away from a support beam.

After investigating the damage, I concluded that the chunks of plaster that fell were suficient mass to inflict serious injury to anyone in their path.

Throughout the collapse, the room was twelve inches in width and fourteen inches in length.

At the time of the incident, I naturally contacted Baruch’s foremost authority on ceiling caving, Dr. Robert Krosowsky, chairman of the department of anatomy.

Dr. Krosowsky, was in fact, in the room and was able to report that the ceiling would not fall again.

Dr. Krosowsky, the professor of anatomy, said:

"It appears that the ceiling will not fall again. We have seen a similar incident in the past and it did not happen again.
I will report the damage to the administrator of Baruch College.

As these two experts concluded that Baruch is safe, I naturally reported the matter first to the Board of Higher Education, who had just been informed of the incident.

The opening of the Bernard M. Baruch College as a satellite campus of the City University is not only one of the happiest events of the season, but also one of the most significant. The opening of the college, which is located at 971 Third Avenue, is a landmark in the history of the City University of New York. The college, which was founded in 1969, is the first satellite campus of the City University to be opened in the borough of Manhattan. The college is named after Bernard M. Baruch, a prominent American financier and statesman, who served as a member of the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange and as a member of the United States Treasury Department.

The college is located in the heart of New York City, and is easily accessible by public transportation. The college offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs, including business, economics, and management. The college is also home to the Bernard M. Baruch School of Business, which is one of the top business schools in the country. The school offers a variety of programs, including a business administration program, a business management program, and a business management program with a concentration in finance.

The college is committed to providing a high-quality education to its students, and is dedicated to preparing its graduates for success in the business world. The college is also committed to promoting diversity and inclusion, and is committed to providing a welcoming and supportive environment for all students.

The opening of the Bernard M. Baruch College is a significant milestone in the history of the City University of New York, and is a testament to the continued growth and development of the city's educational institutions. The college is a valuable resource for the city, and is a testament to the city's commitment to providing a high-quality education to its citizens.

A History of Our Involvement In Vietnam

The history of our involvement in Vietnam is a complex and multifaceted story. The United States' involvement in Vietnam began in the 1960s, when the government of South Vietnam requested American military assistance to help defend the country against North Vietnam.

The United States' involvement in Vietnam continued to escalate throughout the 1970s, as the United States sought to prevent North Vietnam from gaining control of the country. The United States' involvement in Vietnam eventually led to the Vietnam War, which lasted from 1955 to 1975.

The Vietnam War was a complex and controversial conflict, and continues to be a source of great debate and discussion. The United States' involvement in Vietnam is a complex and multifaceted story, and continues to be a source of great debate and discussion.
CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCES!

"FUTZ" IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE IT CHALLENGES AND EXPANDS OUR UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT IS POSSIBLE IN CINEMA. As one in the country has been making feature films for years, we know nothing about what we'll see. We're drawn in. We are seduced. We become involved. Futz shows a mass audience a movie audience looks at and examines our 'expected.'

"FUTZ IS A BEAUTIFUL MOVIE. We're going to drive America's little nuts because 'Futz' may be the most purely American movie ever made." Futz is a part of the Apache complex, a part of the whole, a part of us. It's as far as we can see from anything else. The syndrome of the technique we've come to expect in contemporary films. The first American movie of modernism, the first American movie about equality, it deals with the question of freedom. Futz is a genius!

"A BRILLIANT FILM! Exciting, off­

NEW REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

Just as being dropped from the contracts during the first week of classes. To avoid this, each student is recommended to make sure he is registered for the classes in which he plans to take. In order to avoid confusion, the Office of the Registrar has prepared a form known as "Registration_confirmation" and was mailed upon, signing out of sessions and changing courses for the second week of classes. The student must return this form to the Office of the Registrar, or if not, he will be registered for the courses in which he was registered the first week.

This will not be a final change registration.

This registration change form must be signed by the student and returned to the Office of the Registrar, or if not, the student will be registered for the courses in which he was registered the first week.

If the student wishes to change his registration after the second week of classes, he must obtain the proper form from the Office of the Registrar, or if not, he will be registered for the courses in which he was registered the first week.
