Alumni Talk
The Bernard M. Baruch College Alumni Association, has taken the following position with respect to the report of the University Commission on Admissions to the Board of Higher Education.

We support the following general principles:
1. We support the policy that all high school graduates of New York City should be offered admission to some program of the City University.
2. We support provision for remedial and other supportive services for all students requiring them.
3. We affirm the concept of maintaining academic standards through support of quality education.
4. We affirm the concept of integration in the City University but oppose any admissions quota system based upon ethnic, religious or racial considerations.
5. We affirm the concept that there be mobility for students between various programs and units of the City University.
6. We affirm the concept that all students who have been admitted to specific community or senior colleges under past admissions criteria shall still be so admitted.

The Baruch College Alumni Association rejects all three plans submitted by the University Commission for the 1971 admissions program. We believe that none of those plans would guarantee meaningful opportunities for all students.

We believe that the Board of Higher Education should undertake a new and aggressive renewal of its concern for all students.

We suggest that the following plan be used for admissions in 1970 to be evaluated and considered for the 1971 admissions program.

Students graduating in 1970 should be admitted to the City University as in 1969 including SEEK admittance procedures but additional students from the group below the regular admissions scores should be admitted if they are not from the community colleges of the City University based on their class standing in high school. The remainder of the students should be placed in freshmen centers and education skills centers should be given regular course work and remedial work where necessary.

It is our opinion that greater emphasis should be given the 1968 Master Plan of the Board of Higher Education than was given by the University Commission on Admissions. We also wish to stress that the community colleges must be strengthened and that greater mobility and transfers are necessary.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that prior to implementation of any plan for expansion and increased admission there must be adequate provision for space, facilities, remedial and counseling services and student stipends.

We suggest that the Board of Higher Education set aside funds to help increase enrollment opportunities for those students who graduated prior to 1969 and wish to gain admission to the City University.

Although we recognize that the Board of Higher Education is not directly responsible for precollege education, it is our opinion that the degree of success of any plan for increased admissions to the City University will depend upon the upgrading of the prior education of those entering the City University and the Board of Higher Education should consider plans to help in that upgrading.

Council Meets Again
Deny Pace Portrait

Although Harry Pace has departed from this earthly existence, memories of the event while Student Council President continue to haunt the fullness of the Year Student Council.

At last Thursday's meeting, David Unger (Rep. '71) introduced a motion that the Student Government Council request a portrait of Harry be hung in the Student Center. The matter be furnished to Baruch at no cost.

Speaking in favor of the motion, Mr. Unger called to the attention of the assembled what he termed as Harry's sincere efforts to make the lives of the student body a bit easier. He cited the interest in the university student government that Harry generated and the life he brought to this vivid hole. Unger felt that although Harry's actions did not always accomplish his goals, "his great concern for the welfare of Baruchians and the college as a whole balanced out these weaknesses."

Mark Frank, who inherited Pace's gavel, spoke against the matter. He stated that Council (under his leadership) is working closely with President Weaver in order to give students a larger hand in administrative decision making. As President Weaver, and other top-level administrators consider Harry as evil incarnate, they would be very offended if they were allowed into the Student Center and find Harry's visage gawking upon them. Mr. Frank did not mention the fact that the President had not been observed in the Student Center since the last carrier pigeon vanished from the earth.

Of course, Council accepted Frank's reasoning. And you thought that prostitution was illegal!

Upon disposing of the aforementioned matter, Council moved on to more relevant considerations. Ed Eng (Pres. '70), one of the members of the Board of Trustees of the Student Center, stated that he would be willing to provide the portrait of Harry at no cost.

Susan Goldstein
Getting Award

The Blue Ribbon Student Committee, on Faculty Awards and Pries, has awarded the Dichtrich "Rockie of the Year" award to Miss Goldstein. The name "Dichtrich" and the Law was narrated by Walter Cronkite. It focused on the moral, social, psychological and legal aspects of Abortion.

Several case histories were unfolded, and those who helped to be interviewed for the film hoped that they could prevent other women from having those experiences. The film is discussed for not partaking in the operation was the safety hazards involved. Others were interviewed were interested in the legal, medical, and moral aspects. Conflicting views were given for each case.

The report concluded that C.B.S. believed that the topic of Abortion, he to public discussion. Neil Horgan, president of the Psychology Society, led a discussion period. Most present thought that the law governing Abortion should be changed. Most agreed that they were completely against Abortion, most said that they were against the idea that they would have an Abortion if they felt that it was necessary and if it would be safe.

Susan Goldstein, who inherited Pace's gavel, spoke against the motion. He stated that Council (under his leadership) is working closely with President Weaver in order to give students a larger hand in administrative decision making. STUDENT LIFE

The college has implemented a number of health and safety measures to prevent the spread of COVID-19, including mandatory masking indoors, regular testing, and social distancing.

TECHNOLOGY

The college is exploring the use of technology to support learning and decision-making, including the use of data analytics to improve academic outcomes.

FINANCE

The college is facing significant financial challenges due to the pandemic, including decreased revenue from tuition and fees, and increased costs associated with maintaining a safe and healthy campus.

EVENTS

The college has cancelled all in-person events until further notice, but is exploring the possibility of virtual events.

LOCAL COMMUNITY

The college is working with local community partners to support the community during this time, including through food banks and other programs.

THE TICKER

College Poll

Tuesday, March 17, 1970

The most recent College Poll results are in, and the students have spoken. The poll was conducted among a随机 sample of 100 students, and the results suggest that the student body is more concerned about academic issues than about extracurricular activities.

The most popular extracurricular activity among the students is music, with 55% of the respondents indicating that they participate in music-related activities. This is followed by sports, with 40% of the respondents indicating that they participate in sports.

The poll also revealed that 65% of the respondents believe that the college should provide more opportunities for students to engage in community service.

As Ex-Baruchan

Mr. John Hanlon, chairman of the Board of Regents, announced Friday that Robert A. Fish, as President of the New York University, has been appointed to the presidency of the new Bell telephone system. Mr. Hanlon made the announcement at a meeting of the Board of Regents in New York City.

Mr. Fish was formerly the director of the Board of Directors of the Bell Telephone System and is a former director of the New York Telephone Company. He is a native of New York City and has been active in the field of communications for many years.

The appointment of Mr. Fish is significant in that it is the first time a New York University president has been appointed to a major post in the telecommunications field.
