The football season is upon us, and Baruch College, once again, will be in the intercollegiate limelight. Our season opened on Oct. 7, as the team gathered in our 22nd street stadium, for it's warm up game. Twenty of our top grid-iron favorites ran out for this brutal game of south central Manhattan gridiron. "The teams were standouts as they mercilessly pummeled through the opposition in a do-or-die battle.

Football Season Kicks Off

The turf in our stadium may not be the best, but the streetlights on the corner function well, and many of our players from being smeared over 22nd street. When the game finally kicked off, became intolerable. Rick Cardillo led his followers in the corner of the field. Then the balls were exchanged for a second time. Rick Cardillo became the center of attention. The players were forced into the sideline to resume the Baruch football cheer. It goes something like this:

ACE—STUB
ACE—STUB

Rick is magnificent. Any Baruchian interested in cheering Our Boys should get in touch with Rick. He's the most energetic cheerleader in Baruch. He'll cheer his way into your heart.

So went the first Baruch football fantasy. Tickets for future games may be obtained in the Ticker office.

Baruch's football team may not be the best, but they come from being smeared over 22nd street.

Student Personnel Services

Dear Mr. Tribble:

I have brought with me this apple bobbing experience. The Baruch you may have seen or even partaken in is a little apple bobbing experience. The opportunity was provided for you by your Booster friends.

Dr. Bobbing With Little Help From Your Friends

Where were you Tuesday? at 12:00? If you happened to be in the Lounge in Baruch you may have seen or even partaken in a little apple bobbing experience. The opportunity was provided for you by your Booster friends.

First, Marie Miranda decided to demonstrate and almost drowned in the attempt. Now at least she won't have to bite out of his hard won apple.

One of the first to get an apple was a member of YAF, Mike Farrell.

Mr. Tribble got his apple on the first attempt. He said that he had lots of practice from the boy scouts. But I know that it was really his technique. Hint to apple bobbing lovers: get your head all the way in, you're bound to come out with something.
Baruch College Night at the Electric Circus

Wednesday Nov. 25, 1970 9 PM

A good way to celebrate Thanksgiving

Tickets: really cheap at Student Center Lobby Desk

Baruch College Night at the Electric Circus

November 24, 1970

PROFS BLAST F.B.I.

PROFS' BLAST REVIVES WHITEWASH DEBATE IN CUNY

Profs blast FBI was renewed at CUNY recently. The group played to a captivated audience in one of the largestconcerts ever held on the Baruch campus. The event wasorganized by Sigma Alpha, Baruch's music department, and

ATTACHMENT

Profs blast FBI

with an introduction by Joe-Jo (Student Personnel Services), Professor Austin, and Steve Casper (Chancellor, student rep). The concert took place in the Baruch Center for International Education in 12 Noon RM 1220 THURS NOV 5, XAST,

Club Photos

If your club desires to be in Changes' December issue, please submit photos of your club's activities. The photos should be taken in the last few weeks, preferably black and white, and should be in a 4x6 format. All photos will be returned.

Profs blast FBI has been an active group for several years. They have been known for their controversial stance on various issues, including the FBI's role in the Civil Rights Movement. The group's most recent activities include a protest against the FBI's involvement in the campus community.

Announcements

November 24, 1970

PROFS BLAST REVIVES WHITEWASH DEBATE IN CUNY

Profs blast FBI was renewed at CUNY recently. The group played to a captivated audience in one of the largestconcerts ever held on the Baruch campus. The event wasorganized by Sigma Alpha, Baruch's music department, and

ATTACHMENT

Profs blast FBI

with an introduction by Joe-Jo (Student Personnel Services), Professor Austin, and Steve Casper (Chancellor, student rep). The concert took place in the Baruch Center for International Education in 12 Noon RM 1220 THURS NOV 5, XAST,

Club Photos

If your club desires to be in Changes' December issue, please submit photos of your club's activities. The photos should be taken in the last few weeks, preferably black and white, and should be in a 4x6 format. All photos will be returned.

Profs blast FBI has been an active group for several years. They have been known for their controversial stance on various issues, including the FBI's role in the Civil Rights Movement. The group's most recent activities include a protest against the FBI's involvement in the campus community.

Announcements

November 24, 1970

PROFS BLAST REVIVES WHITEWASH DEBATE IN CUNY

Profs blast FBI was renewed at CUNY recently. The group played to a captivated audience in one of the largestconcerts ever held on the Baruch campus. The event wasorganized by Sigma Alpha, Baruch's music department, and

ATTACHMENT

Profs blast FBI

with an introduction by Joe-Jo (Student Personnel Services), Professor Austin, and Steve Casper (Chancellor, student rep). The concert took place in the Baruch Center for International Education in 12 Noon RM 1220 THURS NOV 5, XAST,

Club Photos

If your club desires to be in Changes' December issue, please submit photos of your club's activities. The photos should be taken in the last few weeks, preferably black and white, and should be in a 4x6 format. All photos will be returned.

Profs blast FBI has been an active group for several years. They have been known for their controversial stance on various issues, including the FBI's role in the Civil Rights Movement. The group's most recent activities include a protest against the FBI's involvement in the campus community.

Announcements

November 24, 1970

PROFS BLAST REVIVES WHITEWASH DEBATE IN CUNY

Profs blast FBI was renewed at CUNY recently. The group played to a captivated audience in one of the largestconcerts ever held on the Baruch campus. The event wasorganized by Sigma Alpha, Baruch's music department, and

ATTACHMENT

Profs blast FBI

with an introduction by Joe-Jo (Student Personnel Services), Professor Austin, and Steve Casper (Chancellor, student rep). The concert took place in the Baruch Center for International Education in 12 Noon RM 1220 THURS NOV 5, XAST,

Club Photos

If your club desires to be in Changes' December issue, please submit photos of your club's activities. The photos should be taken in the last few weeks, preferably black and white, and should be in a 4x6 format. All photos will be returned.

Profs blast FBI has been an active group for several years. They have been known for their controversial stance on various issues, including the FBI's role in the Civil Rights Movement. The group's most recent activities include a protest against the FBI's involvement in the campus community.

Announcements

November 24, 1970

PROFS BLAST REVIVES WHITEWASH DEBATE IN CUNY

Profs blast FBI was renewed at CUNY recently. The group played to a captivated audience in one of the largestconcerts ever held on the Baruch campus. The event wasorganized by Sigma Alpha, Baruch's music department, and

ATTACHMENT

Profs blast FBI

with an introduction by Joe-Jo (Student Personnel Services), Professor Austin, and Steve Casper (Chancellor, student rep). The concert took place in the Baruch Center for International Education in 12 Noon RM 1220 THURS NOV 5, XAST,
letters

In the most recently published issue of The Record, the administrative or political sections contained an article titled "The Inability of the Student Council to Provide Proper Representation for the Student Body." The article, written by a member of the Student Council, criticized the current administration for its failure to accurately represent the student body's needs and concerns.

The writer claimed that the lack of representation was due to the composition of the Student Council, which consisted of a small group of students who were not reflective of the diverse population of the university. They argued that the council's lack of understanding of the needs of the student body was evident in their decision-making processes.

The Student Council had previously attempted to address issues such as tuition fees, housing, and academic policies. However, the writer stated that these issues were not adequately addressed due to the lack of representation. They believed that the council's decisions were made by a select few members of the organization and were not reflective of the larger student body.

The writer called for a change in the current system and suggested that a more inclusive and representative council could be achieved by increasing the diversity of the Student Council. They believed that this would ensure that the council's decisions were made with the best interest of all students in mind.

Letters

Letters to the Editor

T. E. Hunter

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.

The losses of the school organization have been significant. Our lack of leadership is not a result of anyone's fault but a result of the entire student body's lack of interest and participation. We have had a number of good leaders in the past, but they have not been able to carry on the work of their predecessors.
Administrative or Political

In the most recent article in The New York Times, an expression of frustration with administration was heard. This was a response to the announcement that the administrative bodies had made the controversial decision to close the student newspaper. This decision was met with widespread protest from both students and faculty members.

In another article, a political cartoon was published, highlighting the divide between students and administration. The cartoon depicted a student holding a sign that read, "We demand free speech," while the administration was shown holding a sign that read, "We demand order.

The response from the administration was swift and decisive. A statement was released that emphasized the need for a safe and orderly environment for all members of the college community. The statement also addressed the concerns raised by the student body, noting that the administration was committed to working towards a resolution that would satisfy all parties involved.

In a final article, a letter to the editor was published, expressing the author's frustration with the administration's handling of the situation. The author called for a more open and transparent process in decision-making and urged the administration to take the concerns of the student body seriously.

Letters

Letters to the editor are a valuable outlet for students to express their opinions and concerns about the administration's actions. They provide a platform for students to voice their frustrations and highlight areas where the administration could improve.

In one letter, a student expressed their concern about the lack of communication between the administration and the student body. They called for regular updates on the progress of the investigation into the closure of the newspaper and urged the administration to be more responsive to student concerns.

In another letter, a faculty member discussed the need for a more collaborative approach to decision-making. They suggested that the administration should work closely with student representatives to ensure that the needs and concerns of the student body are taken into account.

In a final letter, a student expressed their support for the administration's decision and criticized the student body for not understanding the necessity of order in the face of unrest.

Criticism

In the criticisms presented, there was a general consensus that the administration's handling of the situation was flawed. The criticisms highlighted the importance of transparency and open communication in decision-making processes.

In one criticism, a student argued that the administration had failed to adequately address the underlying concerns of the student body. They called for a more inclusive approach that would allow for a wide range of perspectives to be considered.

In another criticism, a faculty member expressed concern about the administration's tendency to respond to student protests with censorship. They called for a more open and transparent process in decision-making and urged the administration to take the concerns of the student body seriously.

In a final criticism, a student expressed their frustration with the administration's handling of the situation. They called for a more open and transparent process in decision-making and urged the administration to take the concerns of the student body seriously.

The story of the closure of the student newspaper is a case study in the importance of open communication and transparency in decision-making processes. It highlights the need for a more inclusive approach that would allow for a wide range of perspectives to be considered.

In conclusion, the criticisms presented offer valuable insights into the challenges faced by the administration in responding to student protests. They call for a more open and transparent process in decision-making and urge the administration to take the concerns of the student body seriously. The story of the closure of the student newspaper is a reminder of the importance of transparency and open communication in decision-making processes.
Bulging Baruch

Bulging Baruch

Basketball Coach Named

Faculty To Play

Here is an interview with David Goldberg, first student of the recently named Baruch College Faculty Young Quarters, about the work we are trying to do. Mr. Goldberg, along with his wife and daughter, has already been established at an internship in New York City. He is a first-year student and will be enrolled in the Baruch Graduate School.

Bulging Baruch

BERNARD BARUCH COLLEGE

FRIDAY EVENINGS 8:30 PM
Student Center—Marble Lounge

NOVEMBER 4, 1979

FRIDAY EVENINGS 8:30 PM
Student Center—Marble Lounge

PSYCHOLOGY

SOCIAL WORK

INDEPTH PENETRATION OF THE LIFE OF THE INDIVIDUAL IN THE GROUP—A PERSONAL ENCOUNTER DISCUSSION OF GROUP WORK TECHNIQUES

DR. WILLIAM ROSENTHAL
PROFESSOR SOCIAL WORK
PSYCHOLOGY
SOCIAL CASEWORKER

NOVEMBER 4, 1979

PSYCHO DRAMA

PERFORMING ARTS

UNUSUAL TECHNIQUES IN THEATRE ENCOUNTERS VERY PERSONAL GROUP EXPERIENCES WITH INDIVIDUAL AND GROUP

STEVE KRAFT
GROUP WORKER
THEATRE ENCOUNTER PSYCHO DRAMA

Presentation and Experience in Small Groups

Intimate Evenings Non-audience Style

Followed by Coffee House Social Hour at 10 PM

Most challenging: Provocative unusual professionals in a life experience of new dimensions and new horizons

Abortion Counseling, Information

And Referral Services

Abortion up to 24 weeks of pregnancy are now legal in New York State. There are no mandatory requirements and objections. Only the consent of the patient is required. The performing pill is the same. If you are interested, you can ask about it.

If you think you are pregnant, you should go to the nearest hospital or clinic right away. Early abortions are simpler and safer.

If you need information or professional advice, you can contact us. We are here to help you.

The Abortion Information Agency, Inc.

500 W. 57th St.
New York, N.Y.
212-876-6900
Eliminating pollution of the air, water and countryside is the major task and responsibility facing American business today according to the College Poll.

In a special nationwide survey, conducted at the suggestion of Henry Ford, II, students on over 100 campuses were polled to reveal the posture of the corporate image among the nation's seven million collegians and as a part of a continuing study of student attitudes toward business.

Henry Ford, II, Chairman of the Board of Ford Motor Company, asks this question: "What do you believe are the major tasks and responsibilities in American business and industry today?"

The Results

- Pollution and ecology problems
  - Air, water and land: 68 percent
  - Help end Vietnam War: 46 percent
  - Improve quality of goods and services: 31 percent
- Civil Rights (jobs for minorities): 14 percent
- Personalize jobs: 16 percent
- Protect environment: 6 percent
- Stop bribes (paying off politicians and criminals): 6 percent
- Fight change: 1 percent
- More than 100 percent because of multiple choices: 1 percent

Concern about the nation's environment, and the responsibility of business and industry in polluting it, is reflected in almost all of The Business Attitude Interviews conducted by College Poll representatives.

A Syracuse Senior summarized the opinion of many in connection with water pollution: "Industry is fouling our streams and only taking action when they are forced to by law. There is no voluntary attempt to clean up the water." Speaking of air pollution, a key student issue, a New York University Economics Major commented: "The air in our cities is filled with smoke from factories more than ever. Industry is fighting every step of the way."

Henry Ford II commented: "The whole Eastern coast is gutted by miners and developers who are laying waste the countryside and nobody is doing anything about it."

The information gap between what industry is actually doing to correct ecology problems and student knowledge of their efforts is quite wide. The importance and effectiveness of Ralph Nader's campaigns against American industry is indicated by frequent references to Mr. Nader in student interviews.

Many students also feel strongly about the American business leaders' attitude toward pollution. A No. 1 issue on American college campuses. College Poll interviews reflect a strong sentiment that business is profiting from the Vietnam War and, at the very least, makes no effort to bring it to a halt. Students complaints that the quality of American-manufactured products is inferior was evidenced throughout the interviews. Nearly one out of three students felt that low quality of workmanship and product was a widespread American industrial weakness. It is interesting to note that students compared American-made products unfavorably with foreign-made, particularly European and Asian articles.

A student at the University of Pennsylvania commented: "The principle of growing back to save the land is accepted by every principle of good farming. It's also good business. We have been draining off the the fruits too long."

A Yale business major disagrees: "The principle of good business is to stay healthy and make profits. The only alteration is socialization. However, 16 percent of the students were undecided on this question. In the interviews with these students, it appeared that business has not been concerned more with how money was being applied."

An Iowa Sophomore said: "The principle of blowing back to save the land is accepted by every principle of good farming. It's also good business. We have been draining off the fruits too long."

A Georgia Tech Senior said: "In the last three years..." The informational gap between what industry is actually doing to correct ecology problems and student knowledge of their efforts is quite wide. The importance and effectiveness of Ralph Nader's campaigns against American industry is indicated by frequent references to Mr. Nader in student interviews.

The College Poll report reveals that the college generation believes that business has a monopoly social responsibility. Students were asked: "Do you think American industry in general should use a share of its profits to help solve the social and economic ill of the day?"

- All Students: No opinion or undecided: 14 percent
- Yes: 70 percent
- No: 16 percent
- Undecided: 10 percent

percentages rounded:

A New York General said: "The principle of growing back to save the land is accepted by every principle of good farming. It's also good business. We have been draining off the fruits too long."

A Yale business major disagrees: "The principle of good business is to stay healthy and make profits. The only alteration is socialization. However, 16 percent of the students were undecided on this question. In the interviews with these students, it appeared that business has not been concerned more with how money was being applied."

A Houston Senior said: "A good corporation executive can issue his job by doing a good job for the public and not for the shareholders. On the other hand, the executive who ignores social responsibility would be given a bonus if he increased profits. The American system, based upon the free market, will not insure social responsibility even if it sounds good in theory."

A Georgia Tech Senior said: "In the last three years, we've been draining off the fruits too long."

As a Houston Senior said: "A good corporation executive can issue his job by doing a good job for the public and not for the shareholders. On the other hand, the executive who ignores social responsibility would be given a bonus if he increased profits. The American system, based upon the free market, will not insure social responsibility even if it sounds good in theory."

A Georgia Tech Senior said: "In the last three years, we've been draining off the fruits too long."

The fact is that although students may disagree on methods, there is a campus consensus that American business has a social responsibility of growing importance. Many students would force business to pay for such responsibilities out of profits and it's obvious that, despite much effort to meet the challenge of the times, American industry is not penetrating the college generation with a record of its performance to date.

The College Poll is conducted by the Greenwich Research Center, and is a research study. Student attitudes among the nation's college students. It has been conducted through personal interviews for over three years.

Learn KARATE

For Self-Defense & Fitness of Mind and Body

at S. HENRY CHO'S

K A R A T E I N S T I T U T E, I N C.

135 W. 23rd St.,
NEW YORK CITY

Between 6 & 7 Avenues

3½ blocks West of BARUCH

Open Evenings

6 and 7 p.m., 10 p.m.

T E L: 975-8259 or 787-7242

KARATE INSTITUTE, INC.

135 W. 23rd St.,
NEW YORK CITY

3½ blocks West of BARUCH

Open Evenings

6 and 7 p.m., 10 p.m.

S C I E N T I F I C C O M P U T E R M A T C H I N G

ALL AGES, ENTIRE U.S.A. EST. 1966

Meet Your Ideal Mate

It really works," acclaim thousands of our happily matched couples. Send for FREE questionnaire.

TEAM PROJECT

1270 BROADWAY, NYC 10007

MAIL ORDERS ACCEPTED

Send check or money order, sorry, no C.O.D's. shipped express collect.