5 FALSE ALARMS DISRUPT CLASSES

Fire Drill Procedures

Immediately upon the sounding of the alarm, each instructor will assemble his class and lead it out of the building quickly by the designated stairway. At the stairway, single files of students are to be combined in files of three abreast descending the staircase. Each instructor is to remain with his class at all times. Physically incapacitated persons are to be directed to the elevator set aside for the purpose of removing them from the floors. Instructors will lead their classes out of the building onto the sidewalks and then take them a reasonable distance from the building so as not to cause congestion at the exits and interfere with emergency apparatus in the case of a real emergency. It is important that the corner of Lexington and 23rd Street and the sidewalk in front of the Student Center not be congested by groups of persons who have left the buildings. Fire marshals will assist in evacuation procedures on each floor and in the lobby of the building. They will relay instructions for the groups to return to the buildings.

It is obvious that instructors will need to conscientiously perform their duties including maintaining order and reasonable quiet while evacuating the groups from the building.

FALSE ALARMS

by Robert Barrett

Classes of Thursday, November 19, were disrupted by five false fire drills. The false alarms occurred at approximately 10:39, 11:05, 1:15, 4:10, and 4:25. It is assumed that they were caused by one or more students not wishing to take their final exams. Upon hearing the first set of bells, students and faculty, filled out of Baruch, on to 23rd Street and Lexington Avenue. Several students decided that this was a good opportunity to dramatize the need for the closing of the portion of 23rd Street in front of the building, to help relieve the congestion in the school; they blocked the corner of 23rd Street—refusing to allow traffic to pass. The first vehicle they forced back was a Pepsi-Cola delivery truck. The driver accepted the inconvenience good naturedly.

His daughter attended Baruch in 1951, and he thought it was "a good school." Other drivers, especially those of taxi cabs, did not find the demonstration amusing, and inched their way through the crowd.

"The crowd was dispersed by Mr. Tribble and Dean Lavender, only to return a few minutes later when another alarm was pulled. Six police was then called to break up the students.

An officer said that they were called by "an anonymous phone call, on 911, on a large disorderly group." They got the students to stand on the sidewalk, and allowed the traffic to resume. The police thought that the Baruchians were "very cooperative," although some "had a few things to say," which was expected.

The other alarms went without incident; in some cases they were ignored.

Dear Aunt EVA

Dear Aunt EVA, I just want to tell you about my recent experiences. There has been a lot of change in my life recently.

I recently met someone special and we decided to get married. I am so happy about it. She is the love of my life and I am looking forward to spending the rest of my life with her.

Due to recent events, I have started to feel more confident and secure in myself. I am grateful for these changes and I am looking forward to the future with my new love.

I also want to tell you about my decision to start a new job. I feel that this is the right path for me and I am excited to see where it takes me.

I hope that you are doing well and that you are happy too. Please give my regards to the family and tell them that I miss them all.

Sincerely,
Old Fashioned

PS: Don't worry, I am not getting married to a goat.

About Sensitivity Workshop

1. Knowing that we cannot please everyone and that we will not have the support of most of the students, we are going to do our best to make the workshops interesting and enjoyable for those who wish to attend. We realize that the workshops are a voluntary activity and that we cannot change people's attitudes. We are mainly concerned about the impact of the workshops on the participants themselves. We hope that the workshops will be a means of self-education and that they will be useful in the future. We believe that the workshops can be a source of personal growth and that they can be a means of achieving our goals.

2. The workshops are open to all students, regardless of their race, gender, or sexual orientation. We encourage all students to attend the workshops, regardless of their personal beliefs or attitudes. We believe that the workshops can be a means of self-education and that they can be a source of personal growth.

3. The workshops are free and open to all students. We believe that the workshops can be a means of self-education and that they can be a source of personal growth. We encourage all students to attend the workshops, regardless of their personal beliefs or attitudes.
How Long Will It Take
The Liberal Arts School To Vanish?

We were told that the Chancellor's office aimed to close as many as sixteen schools in the future of the School of Liberal Arts. Since no information on the closing of the schools has been released yet, we are not in a position to make a judgment. It appears that the move is aimed at making the college more efficient. However, as we have seen in the past, similar moves have not been successful in improving the students' experience.

Free Pictures For Seniors

We wrote recently about the photo sessions that are being held at various locations around the city. Students are encouraged to take advantage of these sessions as it is an opportunity to commemorate their time at the college. However, it has been brought to our attention that some students are finding it difficult to find a time that works for them.

Letters

Dear Editor,

I was under the impression that the Ticker was a free newspaper. However, I recently received a bill for a subscription to the Ticker. Is this normal?

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Editor,

I have been a member of the school for the past three years and have always enjoyed reading the Ticker. However, I have noticed that the content is becoming increasingly political. I feel that the Ticker should focus on more serious and relevant issues.

Sincerely,

Many notable critics of today's music have commented on the death of its popularity. Many people believe that rock music has been replaced by other forms of music, such as hip hop and pop. However, these critics fail to recognize the impact that rock music has had on modern society.

One of the reasons for the decline in popularity of rock music is the lack of new artists. Many famous rock bands have disbanded, and new talent has not been discovered. Without new talent, rock music cannot continue to evolve and remain relevant.

Another reason for the decline in popularity of rock music is the media. The music industry has become more focused on profits and less on creating art. This has led to a decline in the quality of music being released.

Despite these challenges, there are still many fans of rock music who are passionate about the genre. Many of these fans are dedicated to preserving the legacy of rock music and ensuring that it continues to influence future generations.

In conclusion, while there may be challenges facing rock music, it remains a powerful force in modern society. With continued support from fans and artists, rock music is sure to endure for many years to come.

Carriers Lament

by Robert Sarah

In my view, a crutch is a symbol of both physical and mental disablement. The crutch is a very inconvenient object to carry, and it has been my experience that carrying a crutch is very difficult. I think that the crutch is a very unsatisfactory object, and I do not recommend it to anyone.

Announcement

by Kevin Seiberl-Student

On account of the recent Speakers Bureau, the various political groups in the area are planning to organize a series of debates. These debates will be held at the local community center, and will be open to the public. The topics of the debates will be determined by the various groups, and will be announced in the local newspapers. The dates and times of the debates will be announced in the local newspapers.

The CUNY Coalition Lives

All power to the presidents

Who is it that says, "We are the people, we are the court of appeal that issues the final word?"

One power that is the presidents. The University Senate is not a court of appeal. The Senate is a representative body of the students of the university, and its power is limited to the expression of the students' wishes. The presidents, on the other hand, have the power to implement the decisions of the Senate and to make policy decisions on behalf of the university.

NOT TO BE OUTGROWN

Whereas the Faculty Senate is elected by the Faculty, the University Senate is elected by the students. The Faculty Senate is not a representative body of the students; it is a representative body of the faculty. The Faculty Senate is not the only representative body of the students; there are other representative bodies, such as the University Senate and the Student Senate.

Recent history has shown that the presidents cannot afford to ignore the Faculty Senate. The Faculty Senate has the power to vote the administration of the university, and the presidents have learned that they must respect the Faculty Senate's wishes.

We therefore urge the presidents to give the Faculty Senate the power to vote the administration of the university.
