STILL GOT THOSE REGISTRATION BLUES?

Fear not, there are still a couple of things you can do to get any course in the catalog. First, you round up about for the next Tuesday at the Student Center. Second, the student government shall have a last chance. If you have not had your yearbook picture taken, you have one last chance. On Monday Jan 11, from 3-7, Tues., Jan 12 from 8-11 and Wed. from 11-5 in the North Lounge Student Center.

To all seniors who have had their picture taken; you have until Jan 31 to submit them to changes ‘71, Box 944, 137 E 22nd Street, New York, New York 10010.

BHE APPROVES HUNTER CHARTER

The Board of Higher Education, trustees of the University of New York, approved the Charter of Governance of Hunter College which provides for a faculty-student student-teacher in the College Senate to replace the present Faculty Senate. The Senate will exercise policy-making, representative and all administrative committees, including ground academic requirements and other academic standards, as prescribed by the evaluation of teaching.

Effective of the full-time faculty senators, 76 student senators, 26 lecturer and part-time faculty senators, and 16 administrative committees shall be held during the early part of the forthcoming spring semester by the Hunter President. Jacqueline Wexler.

The fifth governance plan for CUNY units approved by the Board of Higher Education, the Senate charter is the only one providing:

- A formally recognized student voice in the evaluation of teaching;
- A college ombudsman "empowered to recommend action to any officer or to any committee or organization of the college";
- A regularly held voting faculty senate meetings;
- A committee to coordinate the work of all faculty committees, except the faculty senate, and to coordinate the work of all administrative committees both on and off campus;
- A committee to coordinate the work of all faculty committees, except the faculty senate, and to coordinate the work of all administrative committees both on and off campus;
- A committee to coordinate the work of all faculty committees, except the faculty senate, and to coordinate the work of all administrative committees both on and off campus.
