The proposed plan for revising the academic calendar at Baruch, presented in this issue, has tremendous advantages for students which perhaps have not been sufficiently emphasized.

Under this plan, a student need not take more than 12 credits per session to graduate in four years. Those students who take larger program loads could conceivably graduate in three years, making it possible to complete baccalaureate and graduate studies in only four years. Regardless of the number of credits a student chooses to take, he can elect to attend any grouping of sessions he desires, enabling a student to work full time for a session and still complete a full year's academic work. With the exception of entering freshmen, a male student could still qualify for a 20 installment without attending the first session.

In the Ticker's opinion, a survey of students in classrooms and the student center to see whether the reaction to such a plan would be an overwhelming positive or question of financial and personal reasons. The students questioned had little knowledge of the plan. However, many of the same students felt that they would probably utilize one of the sessions to work full time, and they did not feel that the loss of vacation days would be of any major consequence.

In the Ticker's opinion, the liberal arts faculty supports this measure, but there is some opposition to it from the business faculty. They claimed that this system would interfere with previous working commitments and that they would be subject to a number of impositions under the plan. The fact that more time would be required of time would be implemented throughout the City University. Senior students take advantage of the additional funds not available to them and adopt this proposal. The faculty members realize, in the best interests of the entire institution, make the necessary minor adjustments and support this measure which offers so much to the entire student body.
Queens College Voter Registration

Students are registering to vote at a special booth at Queens College. The voter registration drive commenced on its first day on Tuesday, February 16, with 1900 students registering to vote, including the Queens College student body. The drive is sponsored by the Queens College Student Government and the Queens College Student Council. The drive was held in the Student Center, on the Queens College campus.

Accounting Faculty Meets With Students

On Thursday, February 18, the Accounting Faculty met with students to discuss the importance of accounting in today's world. The faculty members highlighted the role of accounting in business and industry, and the need for students to pursue a career in accounting. The faculty also discussed the qualifications and training required for a career in accounting, and the opportunities available for students in this field.

Noted Artist Visits Baruch

The cultural offerings at Baruch take many forms, from music to theater to art. One of the highlights of the semester is the visit of a noted artist. This year, the artist is Jeanne Lister, whose work has been well-received in various American cities. Her exhibition is on view in the Oak Room at Baruch, and will run until February 26. The exhibition is sponsored by the Newman Club.

JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR

This great show opened March 30. It runs for ten weeks. Spends $100,000

The Queens drive began Thursday, February 11, with 1200 students registering during the first three hours. Approximately 900 registered the next day, leading Fred Brandes, USU Legislative Director and coordinator of college and community voter registration, to exclaim, “The drive has all the excitement of a Hangover, and the activity of aசे. The following day, February 16, saw the peak of voter registration. As of that day, 3791 students had registered, leading to exclamation, “The drive is all the excitement of a Hangover, and the activity of a Hangover.”

The Queens drive was sponsored by the Student Center, the Queens College Student Senate, and the University Student Senate. It is important to register to vote, as only registered voters are eligible to vote in the upcoming election.
Hollander Proposes New Academic Calendar

This paper reviews the advantages and disadvantages of offering two-fifths work, two-fifths leisure to the faculty, students and administration as a means of improving the quality of education. It is written by Mr. Max Zavenelli, Professor of Economics at the City University of New York. The article discusses the College's summer session, and how it can be used to supplement salaries by 15%.

The College calendar would no longer articulate with the University calendar. This would allow the College to establish a comparable program. Graduate students would have difficulty completing college during a shorter period of time (they would enroll for less credits during the first two sessions, the pressure on facilities will not decrease. The fourth session than now enroll in the College's summer session. Increased summer session report grades of graduating seniors). The Board's existing multiple position regulations. The ability to supplement salaries by 15%.

Students who enter college with serious academic deficiencies can enroll in remedial courses. Students who wish to accelerate their studies would be able to complete their baccalaureate degree in three years. Experience - This paper reviews the advantages and disadvantages of offering two-fifths work, two-fifths leisure to the faculty, students and administration as a means of improving the quality of education.

The article is not written in a way that you would expect to see in a university publication. A professor is quoted as having said, "Open admissions first took place not long ago. 400,000 of his own people after the French Indo-China War. Mr. Dennis worked Americans of Negro descent, and prejudice to appeal to you."

It is hard to say at this point what the Board of Higher Education will do. The Board is really the only body that can make a decision. It is hard to say what the Board of Education will do. The Board is really the only body that can make a decision. It is hard to say what the Board of Education will do. The Board is really the only body that can make a decision. It is hard to say what the Board of Education will do. The Board is really the only body that can make a decision.
OPEN LETTER FROM YOUNG LORDS

To: The New York Times
From: The Young Lords Party

Date: September 16, 1971

Subject: Chief of Police Violets in Chicago

Dear Editor,

We are writing to you from the offices of The Young Lords Party in Chicago, which was closed by the police last night. We are writing this letter from inside our headquarters, which is being occupied by the police today.

The Young Lords Party is a revolutionary movement of young Latin American workers fighting against the oppression of the white power structure. We are determined to continue our struggle, even though the police have tried to destroy our movement.

We demand the resignation of Mayor Daley and Chief of Police Violets, who have been responsible for the brutal treatment of our people. We also demand the release of all political prisoners.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

YOUNG LORDS PARTY

WE'RE HERE AND STRONGER THAN EVER

BOOKSTORES GET ZAPPED

NEW YORK, N.Y. (LNS) Two New York bookstores were zapped last week by a group of men who called themselves "The Community.

The first store to be zapped was "The Community Bookstore." The group of men who called themselves "The Community" entered the store and began to plunder the place.

They then proceeded to the second store, "The People's Bookstore," and repeated the same operation.

MUM'S DA VOID

WASHINGTON, D.C. (LNS) Mum's Da Void will be selling their new book "The Black Panthers: A People's Revolution." The book will be released on October 1.

The book will be available at all major bookstores and will be sold for $5.00.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

MUM'S DA VOID

ON CAMPUS TALKS

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. (LNS) There were three main stops on the Black Panther's national tour this week, which included Chicago, Detroit, and Minneapolis.

In Chicago, the Panthers spoke at a rally in Grant Park and were briefly stopped by the police.

In Detroit, the Panthers spoke at a meeting of the National Black Panther Party and were met with a barrage of protest.

In Minneapolis, the Panthers spoke at a meeting of the Minnesota Black Panthers and were met with a large crowd.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

RIP OUT THOSE TAPS

WASHINGTON, D.C. (LNS) The U.S. government is secretly tapping the telephones of civil rights activists.

According to sources close to the government, the taps have been in place for the past five years.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

SECRET SERVICE

MARCH 1, 1971
A FREAK SPEAKS

By W. Alexander

After sitting through the mail, the student director of the Daily News brake and hearing ads proclaiming state and federal educational assistance for the kids, I thought about the old Superman comic strip. Superman wouldn't have to worry about the kids because he lived on another planet. Clark, sometimes I think you are just like Clark. If you make a light split on Clark's face, you can see that you're not doing your homework. Clark, you can't get away with that. You need to work harder. This is what is going to make you the kind of man that Superman would be. Let's not let Clark do this to us.

Because percolators are still organized on a one-per-person basis and we're packed, the only thing that will happen is that Clark will be based. Let's hope that this is the last time we see Clark's face in the paper.

DIRECTOR'S PAGE

DIRECTOR'S PAGE

MEMORIZE THE CHORDS THAT PLAYED DURING THE STRIKE LAST YEAR... THEY'RE COMING BACK THIS THURSDAY (MARCH 4)

At 6:30 in the Oak Lounge

March 1, 1971.

By Gary Frank

Young's incredible pedal steel and上榜的双排键与小号的组合让观众目不暇接。Paul Siebel and Livingston Taylor are others. Buffalo Springfield didn't hurt at all. In time the first commercial harmonies and just a suggestion of rock. All of truck and bounces while it drives and smiles. It's fusion of several styles; they went through the country music; a hopeful happy music were

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco. The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.

Laurel, and a baccannai of peace at the otherwise plastic

The band bounced into the words that ensued are those that follow. I know I'm only going to need one to share with you the joy of Poco.
Beginning March 20th, you can do something useful with your empty beverage bottles and aluminum cans.

(And get paid for them too.)

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of New York announces the most comprehensive collection and recycling program ever undertaken.

Starting March 20th, at seventeen of our bottling plants in the New York metropolitan area, we will reclaim for cash any beverage bottle or aluminum can.

Why we're doing this. The amount of refuse our communities are creating and disposing of has reached staggering proportions. We're running out of places to dump and incineration often poisons the air.

What we're doing. We're throwing away much that can be reused. But our sanitation departments aren't equipped to separate recyclable waste. Each individual will have to do this. And our city governments have enough to do without setting up collection centers. Food stores can only collect plastic bottles. The supermarket has to do something about returnable bottles and aluminum cans. We felt since we have the largest bottling company in the area it was up to us to do something about this in the best lead to our industry.

And quite honestly, it's up to you to help. We appreciate your beverage bottle and can. If you collect them and bring them in to our reclamation centers, it will make a difference. And we make no mistake about it, this is a good idea. The glass bottles are ultimately crushed and the glass reused. The aluminum is melted down to make new cans—helping to preserve our natural resources.

We'll announce shortly which seventeen of our bottling plants will have reclamation facilities. And we hope that others in our field—or allied fields—will set up similar operations. Because hundreds of reclamation centers will ultimately be necessary. We'd like to see community groups organize and collect and reclaim bottles and cans. And we'll be happy to share our places with anyone who wishes to join in this important venture.

Beverage bottles and aluminum cans only account for a small percentage of our solid waste. But there are millions of dollars worth of bottles and cans being thrown away each year in our area. If we make a start here, if we all cooperate, we can do a great deal to solve this problem.

Charles E. F. Miller
President
The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of New York, Inc.