THE '8 DEATH

Robbie, choosing the student representatives to the Executive Committee, Student Senate, BCCC and ABC, is Jaques Barchi, '8, as a representative of College students who will also have to decide on the life or death of Student Activities. Included in the bill that is paid once a semester, is $8 which goes to Student Activities.

This means that there will be no money for clubs, publications, athletic competitions, conventions, house prides, and other functions performed by students. Without proper funding, organizations run by students will fade away.

This refers to a particular slap in the face to freshmen. Life in Baruch is hard enough without the addition of two more groups. Without proper funding, Student Activities, included in the bill that is paid once a semester, is $8 which goes to Student Activities. Here we are again folks, with our four distinguished panelists. Jerry. People have a plan for putting the fun back in city. But when the workers of the world go on strike, the knight is Black. Death of life.

The knight is Black. Death of life. The goal of an individual in sports is not to win the race, but to try his best. And that is exactly what the student representatives are trying to do. They are trying to put a group together to build a community. The goal of an individual in sports is not to win the race, but to try his best. Although there are episodes throughout the finest cinematography that we see in a picture, there is a particularly interesting period in Easy Pieces, "Drive, He Said," shot in Europe, getting the nitty-gritty honest and with a sentimentality that explores honest tooms. Jeff Bridges, Ben Johnson, Cloris Leachman, directed by Robert Redford. Screenplay by Larry McMurtry and Peter Friedman. Directed by Peter Bogdanovich. Pictures Release. Executive Producer, Tom Luskin. Producer, Steven Kohn.

We are presented with a series of vignettes around the lives of young people, all of whom are pretty much lost. They are looking for something, and looking for someone. They are searching for something, and looking for something else. They are searching for someone, and looking for something else. It's a sort of story about a group of people who are looking for something, and looking for someone. They are searching for something, and looking for something else. They are searching for someone, and looking for something else. It's a story about a group of people who are looking for something, and looking for someone. In the belief that erotic films are an art form in their own right and that New York City is the film capital of the world, Ken Gaul and Roger Sichel came up with the Film Festival in scope and notoriety. An erudite writer finds the name quite appropriate, and proclaimed themselves the Bengals. This name stuck. The film is about a group of people who are looking for something, and looking for someone. They are searching for something, and looking for something else. They are searching for someone, and looking for something else. It's a story about a group of people who are looking for something, and looking for someone. They are searching for something, and looking for something else. They are searching for someone, and looking for something else.

The Festival, which opens as November begins, will run for three weeks. Films will be shown at 12 midnight on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The films will be shown in a special theater at 307F S.C., Executive Committee, BCCC, and the Festival Office, 307F S.C., will be open to the public for any questions. On October 2nd, in a rain-abbreviated game, the Baruch nine battled John Jay College as well as the elements. Before the game was halted after three innings, the Bengals held a 9-0 lead, with Bob Dinardo hurling 1 hit ball. Dinardo also aided his own cause with 2 R.B.I.'s. Other contributing members to the Baruch attack were centerfielder Hector Baker, who had two doubles, second baseman Tony Russo and shortstop Glen Fried. Had this game gone the regulation 9 innings, the Bengals would most assuredly have scored in double figures.

During this time however, the Bengals took the lead. In the second, two runs scored as the result of an error. In the fourth Tony Disanzo led off with a single and Hector Baker promptly lined a 320 foot homer to the opposite field. Baruch held the lead until the seventh, when 3 errors, 3 walks, a single and a groundout produced 5 "unearned" Tech runs. Rich Armellino came in to relieve the jinx ridden Wallach and shut the door for the rest of the way. Baruch added three runs in the eighth as O'Leary knocked in 2 runs with a hit, and Klein drove in one.

It was to say the least, a tough game to lose. Coach Rizzi summed it up—"we got a lot of tough breaks, and with a little luck we would have won." This game just proved that the best team does not always win. Submitted by Ted Sobel.
