Freshmen Seek Orientation Credit

A freshman orientation class adopted the project of trying to gain credit for the one hour, weekly freshman orientation course that they are required to take. The class policy is issuing a petition for signatures, which will be presented to Dean Roy Seymour from Baruch.

The class realizes that they will not receive credit for the course, but freshmen of the future will benefit. They estimate that they have collected over 500 signatures.

The petition is as follows:

To: Dean Roy Seymour

We, the undersigned, request that credit be granted for all freshmen orientation classes. We see it as an important beginning program which the University has undertaken to integrate all aspects of college life for freshmen students. Our understanding of one of the reasons that the college seeks to make it mandatory for all freshmen to attend. We also feel that the following reasons are implied, but not sufficient, reasons why credit would merit the course.

1. Getting involved in school and discovering student activities.
2. Curricular guidance is offered by students in charge of career discussion and help.
3. Freshman Orientation is a “class” for developing knowledge concerning students' rights and responsibilities.
4. By initiating open discussions, Orientation acclimates freshmen to college life.

Sea Cross Fills Oak Lounge

Sea Cross appeared in the Oak Lounge for two shows last Thursday, December 9th, and managed to stuff the lounge to the point where all four doors were completely blocked by students trying to catch a glimpse of the group. The Sea Cross are mixed classical and jazz into a rock base to provide a good, tight arrangement of songs that included "Rubber Boy," "Holy Dog," "Servant Saviour," "Come With Me," and "Warm Heart," on which he performed "Song of the Night," electrocuted, adding a unique sound to the group.

In Passing

Rabbi Marvin J. Goldfine, B'nai B'rith Hillel Director of Baruch and Hunter College, died November 11, 1971 at the Presbyterian Hospital. He was 56 years old and lived at 415 Fifth Avenue, N.Y.C.

Rabbi Goldfine served as Hillel Director at Baruch since 1964, and was known and respected by many students and faculty. He came to the post while Baruch was still part of CCNY downtown, and under his dedicated leadership, Hillel grew to be a major force on campus. Although simultaneously he held a similar post at Hunter College, it was said that he put more time and effort into the job of two men. His dedication was unparalled, and even shortly after major surgery, he frequented his office to make certain that things were running smoothly.

Rabbi Goldfine was Asst. Rabbi at the Adath Jeshurun Synagogue in Philadelphia for four years before entering the Chaplaincy of the U.S. Army from 1942 to 1946. After his tour of duty with the Army, he served as Director of the Joint Distribution Committee in Athens, Greece for almost five years. He then worked for the American Jewish Committee in Chicago. He was born in Montreal, Canada, received his B.A. at McGill University and his M.A. from Columbia University. Rabbi Goldfine was ordained to the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He also served as Chaplain of the Presbyterian Hospital for the past 17 years.

400 Students To Receive Drug Questionnaire

The Student-Faculty Committee on Drugs will be sending out approximately 400 lengthy questionnaires to randomly selected students in the next few weeks. The students will be selected by the computer from the list of Day Session students, with no effort being made to find any student's identity. Complete anonymity is guaranteed by the committee student members; Larry Grief, Alan Emling, Lois Beisel and Marty Kleinman.

The Drug Committee was formed last year with the purpose of determining whether or not a drug program is needed and if it is, the nature of the program to combat the problem. Three sub-committees were formed to study the problem. The Legal sub-committee, headed by Prof. Halbeck of the Education Department, prepared the questionnaire in order to gather information regarding the magnitude of the problems and methods to combat it. The Therapeutic sub-committee, led by Prof. Bryan of The Student Personnel Services is working to provide discrete, effective treatment for those who want help for their drug problem.

Any student receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill it out and return it as soon as possible. The committee needs the information in order to evaluate the drug program at Baruch. They are not concerned with drug users but wish to inform everyone who doesn't sign their response. The results will be presented in Ticker after evaluation by the committee.

Sielska To Play

Marya Sielska, of Baruch's Music Department, will give a concert at Carnegie Recital Hall on Sunday, November 21, at 8:00 p.m. Her program will consist of selections from Beethoven, Chopin, and Bartok.

The talented pianist points out that Mrs. Ross has discount tickets at the Student Lounge and that anyone with a student I.D. card can gain entrance for $1.50.

Miss Sielska graduated from the Eastman School of Music, and in addition to her studies at the Juilliard School with Olga Samaroff, she has studied with Grete Sultan. She has made solo appearances with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, as well as with the Cleveland Orchestra and the Rochester Philharmonic in Europe. She has performed in chamber groups, on radio and given lecture recitals. In addition to her work at Baruch, Miss Sielska is on the music faculty at City College.

Richard Jude, formerly with Lee Strasberg and Stella Adler, (formerly Richard Cohen) discusses various techniques of acting with students in the Oak Lounge during the Theatre Workshop. Jude will be conducting improvisations, theatre games, and preparations for the Actor, Tuesdays, from 3:00-5:00 P.M. in the Oak Lounge.
marble lounge:

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1971

PLAY BALL WITH ME AND YOUR DREAMS WAS TO BECOME A WARRIOR. 40 YEARS AGO, THE BOY SAW A MAN SITTING IN THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD. INSIDE HIM, HE TOO CRUMBELED TO DUST ON THE SIDE OF THE ROAD. HE HAD LEARNED A LOT, BUT DID NOT WANT TO GIVE UP THE IDEAS AND IDEALS HE HAD CULTIVATED WHILE LEAVING COLLEGE. THE CHALLENGE WAS TO BUILD HIS OWN ROAD. "MAYBE I'LL EVENTUALLY TAKE A YEAR OFF TO SEE WHAT THE WORLD IS LIKE, AND THEN maybe graduate school will be fun." TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1971

LAMPONENT LEADER WORKSHOP

Jan. 20 - 23

TO: ALL JUNIOR REPRESENTATIVES
FROM: PRESIDENT OF THE JUNIOR CLASS
RE: JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1971

TICKET

A house in the suburbs, a beautiful wife, three wonderful children, a successful career. What's to fault? The reason I'm talking about leaving college is that I'm not happy. I'm not sure if this is a good life for me. Who am I to say that what I want is what I want? I can't be different for the sake of difference. When you can't really function, you're so much better off to do nothing. If you think back on your last experience on the road, you've been given a real sense of being alive and being something greater than an individual. Only now he knew how to feel that sense, how to express it in the spoken and unspoken language of the campus. He had had his heart broken. He had just graduated from college and was about to leave. The moral of the story can be stated very simply. "Once upon a time there was a boy."
Letters To The Editor

Student Senate

The members of the Student Senate are going to have to realize that there is more to student government than the selection by Student Assembly. The students were not present at this meeting according to plan. The Student Senate will then have to realize that the students who are not present are not going to be demanding the same attention, and that they are no longer in competition with Nastisowitz.

Latest work's conduct of completely overthrowing the functions of the Executive Committee must not continue. It will only retard any potential of student government.

Jenny Arroyo-Sociology

Chris LeBarto-Men's Club

President: Tucker

OPEN LETTERS

To the Editor of "Ticker"

Dear Sir: I am writing this letter to inform you about my recent experiences with the BBG. I have been a member of the club for the past two years, and I must say that my experience has been quite disappointing.

As a member of the club, I expected to see a group of like-minded individuals, who shared similar interests and values. However, I was disappointed to see that the majority of the members were not as interested in the club's activities as I was.

The club's meetings were infrequent, and when they did occur, they were often dominated by a small group of individuals, who would dominate the conversation and exclude others from participating. I was also disappointed to see that the club's financial base was not as strong as I had hoped.

I believe that the club could be much more successful if it were to change its direction and focus on the needs of its members. It is time for the club to take a hard look at itself and consider the changes that are needed to become a more inclusive and engaging organization.

Yours sincerely,

Sam J. Adams
CRITIC

"Boogalo" is a MALE
among STEREOTYPES

Here's your chance, guys!

Pick up your Application in room
811, Student Center.

The Initiating Class of Barrak in cooperation with The Contemporary MagaMica
and with the larger community

THANKSGIVING TURKEY TURN-OUT to be held this very Saturday evening

November 23.

We are live — listen, I tell ya.

This real group and serious, sentimental.

Will come out and in this fashion

One and Many Lounges, from 8 to night til

For the most.
But least of all, for those quite special indie...

SPRING SPECTACULAR Films:

...digital
Pedro Named Fencing Coach

Alfred R. Peredo, a former All-American fencer at New York University, who later served as assistant coach, has been named varsity fencing coach at the College of the City of New York. He was succeeded by Lou Brown, Assistant Director of Physical Education, and Director of Intramurals, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, and Director of Admissions for the School of Education.

In March of this year he coached the United States team at the Junior World Fencing Championship, and recently was chosen to coach the U.S. fencing team for the 1957 World University Games. In 1954-55 Peredo served as Director of Intramurals, Assistant Director, and Director of Physical Education, and Director of Health Education.

Before coming to New York, Peredo captained the fencing team at New York University where he was a member of the National Fencing Coaches Association of America.

Peredo came to Baruch in September to serve as Assistant Athletic Director and Teacher in the Department of Physical Education.

The new coach and his wife, the former Jeanne Shepherd, reside in Jamaica, N.Y. They have four children: Gregory, 11; Michael, 9; Christine, 7; and Cynthia, 5.

Freshman Bolster Baruch Nine For Future

Although his team compiled only a .48 record, Baruch baseball coach Ron Kreski was pleased with his team's showing this season.

"We improved on defense and our hitting got better," the coach noted. "I would like to see more improvement in our pitching."

Baruch's improved play was brought about by the addition of freshmen. At least four of them are expected to start in the spring.

The left side of the infield, which committed 25 errors in 18 games last spring, was strengthened by the addition of Brian Armeilino, a freshman, at shortstop, and Jim Ryerson, a freshman at third base. Jim Ryerson played for John Bowne High School which won the City-City Championship last June while Armeilino played for John Adams High School.

Hector Baeza, another freshman, from Jamaica High School, and Joe Galietto, from Minoa, N.Y., have bolstered the outfield, which lost two starters.

Two other freshmen who made favorable impressions on the coach are Steve Klein, from James Madison High School, who can play both the infield and outfield as well as pitch and Fred DiSanzo, a catcher-third baseman from Queens.

DiSanzo will have a tough time breaking in behind the plate where the brother Tony, the team's catcher and leading hitter for the past two seasons, holds forth.

Amending his roster with first baseman Frank O'Leary (Queens) and second baseman Tony Russo (Shore) are the only seniors on the young squad.

Fred DiBiondo, in part-time duty, led the team in hitting with a .377 mark. Baker batted .333 and paced the team in hits, extra bases and runs batted in. Russo reached .325.

While O'Leary improved the most, the team's star pitcher was Steve Klein. He won four of his five starts and was the leading pitcher in the spring with four victories and a 2.70 ERA. Klein pitched a complete game shutout against Queens on April 22.

Two other freshmen showed remarkable promise. Left-hander and Team leader in walks and runs scored, Bruce Wallach is returning from a torn rotator cuff. Wallach is a junior and was a leading pitcher in the spring with four victories and a 2.70 ERA. He pitched in his only start, according to the coach, against Queens, 2-2, on a poor spring.

"We improved on defense and our hitting got better," the coach noted. "I would like to see more improvement in our pitching."

"I'm really pleased with the work of our freshmen," summed up Kreski. "They give us good depth and flexibility. We are facing a tougher schedule in the spring and if our team plays as well as we did in the fall-.-''

Bernard M. Baruch College

Library Arts Symposium

Liberal Arts Symposium

Bernard M. Baruch College

presented by

Richard C. Wade

Professor of Urban History

Conv. Graduate Center and City College of New York

Thursday, November 15, 1956

12:30 - 2:00

Auditorium Room 181

24th Street Building

"I'm really pleased with the work of our freshmen," summed up Kreski. "They give us good depth and flexibility. We are facing a tougher schedule in the spring and if our team plays as well as we did in the fall-.-''

Baruch's pitching leader in the spring with four victories and a 2.70 ERA, was hampered by a sore shoulder and saw little action. Baruch returned to the lead after leading in the first two seasons, holds forth.

Amending his roster with first baseman Frank O'Leary (Queens) and second baseman Tony Russo (Shore) are the only seniors on the young squad.

Fred DiBiondo, in part-time duty, led the team in hitting with a .377 mark. Baker batted .333 and paced the team in hits, extra bases and runs batted in. Russo reached .325.

While O'Leary improved the most, the team's star pitcher was Steve Klein. He won four of his five starts and was the leading pitcher in the spring with four victories and a 2.70 ERA. Klein pitched a complete game shutout against Queens on April 22.

Two other freshmen showed remarkable promise. Left-hander and Team leader in walks and runs scored, Bruce Wallach is returning from a torn rotator cuff. Wallach is a junior and was a leading pitcher in the spring with four victories and a 2.70 ERA. He pitched in his only start, according to the coach, against Queens, 2-2, on a poor spring.

"We improved on defense and our hitting got better," the coach noted. "I would like to see more improvement in our pitching."

"I'm really pleased with the work of our freshmen," summed up Kreski. "They give us good depth and flexibility. We are facing a tougher schedule in the spring and if our team plays as well as we did in the fall-.-''

Bernard M. Baruch College

Library Arts Symposium

Liberal Arts Symposium

Bernard M. Baruch College

presented by

Richard C. Wade

Professor of Urban History

Conv. Graduate Center and City College of New York

Thursday, November 15, 1956

12:30 - 2:00

Auditorium Room 181

24th Street Building

Bernard M. Baruch College

Library Arts Symposium

Liberal Arts Symposium

Bernard M. Baruch College

presented by

Richard C. Wade

Professor of Urban History

Conv. Graduate Center and City College of New York

Thursday, November 15, 1956

12:30 - 2:00

Auditorium Room 181

24th Street Building

Bernard M. Baruch College

Library Arts Symposium

Liberal Arts Symposium

Bernard M. Baruch College

presented by

Richard C. Wade

Professor of Urban History

Conv. Graduate Center and City College of New York

Thursday, November 15, 1956

12:30 - 2:00

Auditorium Room 181

24th Street Building